Adult Education

Many speakers at the Women's Institute banquet last evening spoke on Adult Education and the extension of our University education so as to include the masses throughout the province. Amongst the speakers were Hon. J. B. McNair, K.C., Attorney General, who also referred to the subject. Whilst he was not in a position to make any official announcement Hon. Mr. McNair favored college extension. Hon. Mr. McNair is a distinguished graduate of the University and a Rhodes scholar. Others who expressed themselves in favor of the extension of the University courses are Hon. Premier Dymally and Mr. Justice Harrison, both of whom recently secured Doctor's degrees from U.N.B. The trend of all modern colleges today is along the lines of extension and Adult and Mass Education. The University of Saint Francis Xavier at Antigonish is one example of a lower province college which has accomplished a wonderful work along these lines.

It is now no longer a secret that those who control matters at the University are planning such extensions to take place as soon as it is possible to arrange them. It is believed that in making these changes that the college authorities will have the sympathetic support of the present government.

Tourists in Canada in 1935

The total expenditure in Canada of tourists from other countries in 1935 is estimated at approximately $202,314,000 compared with $129,974,000 in 1934, $212,448,000 in 1932, $279,238,000 in 1930 and $309,379,000 in 1929, the record year.

The expenditure by tourists from overseas countries was estimated at $10,117,000 in 1935 compared with $9,455,000 in 1934. Expenditures by tourists from the United States by rail and steamer were $60,391,000 as against $34,260,000 in the previous year.

The large expenditure is believed to be by people entering Canada from the United States by automobile, the amount in 1935 being placed at $131,306,000 compared with $86,259,000 in 1934. In view of the importance of this traffic the United States Department of Commerce and the Dominion Bureau of Statistics have collaborated since 1928 in efforts to obtain reasonably exact figures of the expenditures involved. Questionnaires were sent out and the data taken from the returned questionnaires were compiled by these two governments and the resulting information exchanged.

The expenditure per car of United States motorists in Canada on sixty day permits, according to the sample collected in 1935, averaged $96 as compared with $72 in the previous year. There was also an increase in the average length of stay. Generally higher tourist outlays however resulted from improved economic conditions, some expansion of income and a more optimistic psychology on the part of tourists.

Expenditures of Canadian tourists in other countries in 1935 is estimated at $79,399,000 as against $53,658,000 in 1934. Expenditures by tourists to overseas countries are placed at $16,503,000 compared with $14,272,000 and by tourists to the United States via rail and steamer $22,930,000 compared with $13,988,000. Automobile tourists to the United States are believed to have spent $39,966,000 in 1935 as against $25,398,000 in 1934.

The favorable balance accruing to Canada on tourist trade account in 1935 is estimated at $122,915,000, an increase over the previous year of around $40,000,000, but a decline of approximately 65 millions from the peak year 1929.

Calgary Loses Pioneer

Another link with Calgary of a bygone day was severed on Friday, when I. S. Freeze, a member of Calgary's first town council was called to his last long rest.

Although nearing middle life when he came to Calgary nearly fifty years ago, Mr. Freeze saw the little cow town and Mounted Police post progress and develop into the largest city between Winnipeg and Vancouver.

He became interested in Calgary's welfare within a few months of arriving here. He contested a seat on the first town council and was successful in securing election. At that time the council used to meet in a back room of a saloon for want of better quarters but it was not long before the energetic town council secured quarters in keeping with the dignity of the position it held in the community.

Even after he retired from the council, Mr. Freeze continued to take an interest in Calgary affairs, and while scores of other pioneers sought warmer climes in which to spend the remaining days of their life, Mr. Freeze preferred to continue his residence in Calgary and when he passed away on Friday he had completed nearly fifty years of residence in Calgary.

He was a fine citizen and along with other pioneers who have passed away recently, he will be sorely missed.

Editor's Note—Mr. Freeze, a native of Kings County, N. B., moved to the west in 1883.

Quinquennial in Prairie Provinces

The Census of Agriculture, which is to be taken on the first day of June, is primarily for the benefit of the farming industry and if taken accurately will be of great value in the study of agricultural conditions. It is extremely important, therefore, says the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, that a complete and accurate record of agricultural operations be taken.

There is an absolute guarantee that no information given will be used otherwise than in preparing the Census figures. The individual answering the questions is completely protected. All officials connected with the Census are bound by an oath of secrecy and there is therefore no reason whatever why every farmer should not co-operate by supplying the Census enumerators with complete and accurate information. Thoroughly effective remedial policies can only be created when facts are made available.

A farm, for Census purposes, is all the land farmed by one person with or without help. It must be of one acre or more and must have produced agricultural products to the value of $50 in 1935. A man who owns a certain amount of land might rent part of it. This will be entered on the Census records as two farms, and land farmed by each man considered as a unit. On the other hand, a man renting various tracts of land from different owners will be regarded as operating one farm only, the various pieces of land constituting one unit. If, however, the tracts are in different enumeration areas or if a manager is hired to supervise a certain portion of the land, that portion will go down as a separate farm.

The farm population on June 1 will be ascertained together with the number of persons who have permanently left the farm as well as those who have come to live permanently on farms.

Radical Changes

That radical changes are on the way in connection with the course of study at U.N.B. It is said that members of the Senate and others of influence have come to the conclusion that while the university is a time-honored institution that there is much scope for it to increase its activities in its sphere of usefulness.

In the early days of the university its work was along classical lines only, it being thought by the generation of professors that are gone that it would be a sacrifice to take up any such worldly subjects as civil engineering, electrical engineering or forestry. In later years, however, these subjects were taken up and they proved to be the great drawing card of the university. Now it is proposed to come down a step further from the clouds and to extend the benefit of the university to the ordinary man who pays the bills and helps to keep it running.

The view expressed by Mr. Justice Harrison was that the education at the university should be available to all persons who have the intellectual equipment or desire to acquire it. He claimed that a class of general culture for the farmer might well be provided by the university without examinations, given with the sole object of awakening a love of learning and laying the foundation of an education to be carried on by the students' own reading. In Nova Scotia one of the universities has study clubs for the benefit of farmers, miners, and others in which they take up study along the lines of their life work. Such, it is claimed, is the modern idea of a university. All over the United States and in the larger centres in Canada university courses have been given along these lines and it is understood that it is along these lines that the University of New Brunswick will be made to extend its course at as early a date as possible.

APPRECIATION

The New Brunswick Fruit Growers' Association, Inc., Fredericton, N. B., May 20, 1936.

Editor, The Daily Mail, Fredericton, N. B., Dear Sir:

I desire to convey to you the following vote of thanks which was passed at the Thirty-First Annual Meeting of this Association held in Fredericton on April 21st of this year:—

"Resolved that the thanks of this Association be extended to the Press for its whole-hearted support and publicity of our Association's activities and meetings".

I wish to take this opportunity of saying that this is not merely a formal vote of thanks referring solely to the part taken by the Daily Mail in reporting this particular meeting but it is meant as an expression of real appreciation of the generous support and publicity which the Daily Mail has so consistently given to farmers and others in their efforts to develop the fruit growing possibilities of the province.

In the case of this meeting the advance notices were particularly helpful in securing a larger attendance and making the meeting more successful and the reporting of the meeting itself was all that could be desired.

Yours very truly,
A. G. TURNEY,
Secretary-Treasurer.
