Advisory Board of Women's Institute Ends Meetings Here

The Advisory Board of the Women's Institute, which has met here for the past two days concluded last evening. Various resolutions which were passed will be submitted to the general convention to be held in this city during the second week in June, 1937. Mrs. A. D. McCain, of Florenceville, the president, acted as chairman during the sessions. One of the resolutions was to have a "Buy New Brunswick Week" during next year. J. K. King, deputy minister of agriculture, was present at yesterday's meeting and spoke briefly on the work of the Women's Institute. Adult Education and Study Clubs were discussed yesterday and the board is now awaiting leadership and direction from the educational leaders of the province regarding this work.

CREDIT UNIONS DISCUSSION IN FREDERICTON

Bertram B. Fowler, author of "Consumer Co-operation in America," and one of the foremost authorities and leaders of this movement in the world, will be in Fredericton sometime between December 17 and 21 and will address a public meeting, it was learned from S. W. Keohan, registrar of Credit Unions in this province.

It is hoped that enthusiasm for the project of Credit Union co-operatives is sufficient in this city to warrant Mr. Fowler's speaking in this city and to guarantee a large audience to hear him. Mr. Fowler is now on a speaking tour of Canada and he will be in the province of Nova Scotia on December 10. He will reach Saint John from Charlottetown on Dec. 17. Credit Unions and the Co-operative philosophy will be the theme of Mr. Fowler's addresses on his contemplated visit to this city. His trip is being arranged by S. W. Keohan, who requests that those anxious to hear Mr. Fowler speak get in touch with him at his office in the Customs building, or 'phone 608. Mr. Keohan is registrar of Credit Unions for New Brunswick.

WILL HISTORICAL SOCIETY VACATE THEIR PREMISES?

Report That Rooms Are Wanted by Entomological Dept. Have Large Exhibits

Society is Doing Good Work Amongst Students and Others

That the York and Sunbury Historical Society is liable to have to vacate its present quarters in the post office building early in the new year was the statement made at the society's meeting last night by one of its members who should be in a position to know. It is stated on good authority that communications have been received at the Dominion Entomological laboratory here, and headquarters at Ottawa asking if rooms could not be procured in the post office building upstairs.

About six years ago when the present York and Sunbury Historical Society was founded the Federal Government of that day very kindly placed at their disposal three rooms in the upstairs of the post office building at a nominal rental. The society in addition was to pay for the lighting of the rooms. A couple of years ago owing to expansion in the Dominion Forestry Service in this locality one of the largest rooms of the three had to be taken over by that department. This leaves the society with a minimum of space as their meeting room and one smaller room has to be used for exhibits. Recently, an effort has been made by the Historical Society to secure a permanent home for its own use. Now the word comes from Ottawa that the Society may, early in the new year, be forced to give up one of the rooms which is now occupied.

The fact that an addition has recently been built to the buildings of the Entomological department on College Hill should make it unnecessary to require quarters elsewhere. The museum now has between three and four hundred exhibits and the collection is a valuable one. It is being used freely by Normal students and university students from all over the province, as well as by citizens and tourists. The directors of the museum are giving their services free and have gone to a lot of trouble in connection with this museum. It is to be hoped that they will not be disturbed until they have an opportunity of securing permanent quarters of their own. This is now being worked out by the building committee of the Historical Society.

At last night's meeting of the society it was suggested that a public meeting be called at the close of the Christmas season at which different local organizations will be invited to attend. At this meeting the suggestion that a combined museum and community hall for the use of different organizations in the city be taken up and discussed. Various other matters of routine were carried out at last night's meeting.

An interesting paper giving the history and detail of the provincial legislative library of New Brunswick was read by Miss Doreen Harper, M.A., B.S.L. This paper will be published in The Daily Mail, starting in today's issue.

ATTY GENERAL M'NAIR TALKS OF EUROPE OF TODAY

Hon. J. B. McNair, K.C., Mrs. McNair Return From England

Trade is Improved

No Hysteria Over War But England is Preparing

Hon. J. B. McNair, K.C., Attorney General of New Brunswick, who with Mrs. McNair, returned here last night from a six week visit to England holds the opinion that trade conditions in England at present are improved and that employment has increased in the Old Country. This, Mr. McNair believes, is due to pick-up in business generally and to the schemes introduced by the British government to counteract adverse conditions.

Mr. McNair's visit to England was for the purpose of appearing before the judicial committee of the Privy Council which heard argument on the validity of certain social legislation passed by the former Bennett government. Of the series of constitutional cases heard, six in number, five of them concerned this province. Mr. McNair said today that judgments in these cases are likely to be handed down some time in January.

The Privy Council had been asked to determine the validity of the weekly day of rest in the Industrial Undertakings Act, the Minimum Wages Act, and the limitation of hours of work Act. The Attorney General said that this province was not arguing against the principles or the merits of such legislation but the methods in which the Dominion seeks to get jurisdiction of such Acts, which infringe on provincial rights.

Mr. and Mrs. McNair were on the high seas en route home when the critical situation involving King Edward VII arose.

"There is no hysteria in England concerning war," Mr. McNair told a reporter of The Daily Mail. Britain is determined to avoid a war at all costs he said, but she is preparing to take her place in any eventuality. There is a certain prevalent "fatalism" respecting war and Britain wants to be prepared. Public opinion in England has changed during the past year or so as regards war. It is felt that the voice of England will be a big factor in any international crisis but she will have to depend upon her might. A strong England will be the biggest factor in preserving peace.

New Brunswick's Attorney General believes that the possible solution of the international crisis will be to give the smaller nations a chance to purchase raw materials and a chance to have unhampered trade. This would tend to stabilize conditions and avert a war. It is a vast problem and one which involves colonies, access to raw material and free trade.

But that Great Britain will give up any of her colonies Mr. McNair doubts. This, he says, is not the solution nor would Great Britain agree to this.

In England today there is emphasis on health and physical training for the young people. The government is rounding out a programme of youth training, which is a progressive one. Whether in peace or war England's youth should have health and physical efficiency.

Mr. and Mrs. McNair visited many points of interest in England. They sailed from England on December 2, and docked at Halifax yesterday. They arrived here by train last night at ten o'clock.

JUDGING WAS ADVANCED AT LIVE FOX SHOW

Fredericton's First Fox Show Starts Very Successfully

Banquet at Noon Hour

Total of 75 Live Foxes on Display This Morning

Fredericton's first live fox and pelt show, sponsored by Fredericton District Fox Breeders, got under way at 8:30 o'clock this morning in the Agricultural school building at the Dominion Experimental Station, with about eighty people, representatives of every section of the province being in attendance. L. C. Young, assistant superintendent of the station, was in charge in the absence of C. F. Bailey, superintendent, who is at present in Toronto.

Judging was begun with Ralph Silphant of Summerside, P.E.I., as the judge. This morning 50 pelts were judged and four classes of pups in the live fox show including medium silver, light medium silver, pale silver, and extra pale silver. Mr. Silphant was judge of the live foxes and R. Nelson of Montreal, judge of the pelts.

At noon a banquet took place in the dining-room of the Agricultural building, at which about 80 were present. Brief addresses were given by Leonard Griesbach, and by L. C. Young, the manager of the show. Following the banquet the annual meeting of the Fredericton District Fox club, of which W. M. Burns is president, was held, and officers elected.

Local firms donated fox feed for the show, the donations being very liberal ones, and the firm of Jas S Neill & Sons donated the large silver trophy for the Grand Champion pelt.

Catch Cold Easily? . .
Vicks Va-tro-nol helps
Prevent many Colds

Colds Hang on? . .
Vicks VapoRub helps
End a Cold Sooner

At the first warning nasal irritation, sniffle or sneeze, use Vicks Va-tro-nol—just a few drops up each nostril. Va-tro-nol is especially designed for the nose and upper throat—where most colds start. It stimulates Nature's own functions—in the nose—to help prevent colds, and to throw off head colds in their early stages. Used in time, Va-tro-nol helps avoid many colds.

If a cold has developed, rub Vicks VapoRub on throat and chest at bedtime. VapoRub acts direct—two ways at once: (1) By stimulation through the skin like a poultice or plaster; (2) By inhalation of its medicated vapors direct to inflamed air-passages. Through the night, this combined vapor-poultice action loosens phlegm, soothes irritation, helps break congestion.

Follow Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds
A helpful guide to fewer colds and shorter colds. Developed by Vicks Chemists and Medical Staff; tested in extensive clinics by practicing physicians—further proved in everyday home use by millions. The Plan is fully explained in each Vicks package.
