SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

OTTAWA, May 1—Their Excellencies the Governor General and Lady Tweedsmuir, attended by Mrs. A. S. Redfern and Miss Spencer-Smith had luncheon recently with His Excellency the Apostolic Delegate.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. MacLaren entertained at luncheon at Government House this week in honor of the officers of the visiting Canada Destroyers Saguenay and Champlain. Spring flowers in silver vases made artistic adornment of the luncheon table and the invited guests included Commander and Mrs. R. L. Agnew, Lieutenant Commander R. E. S. Bidwell, Lieutenant Commander E. R. Malnguy, Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. K. F. Adams, Major-General Hon. Hugh H. McLean, His Worship the Mayor and Mrs. Brittain, Brigadier and Mrs. F. L. Page, Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. Paul B. Cross and J. G. Harrison.

Expected Home Tomorrow

W. J. Scott is expected to arrive home tomorrow from an extended trip to the South. Mr. Scott after leaving California enjoyed a motoring trip through the neighboring state and also spent a month in Vancouver.

Peace Education at Home and School Clubs

Miss Lilian Ross and Miss M. E. Cowan were the guest speakers at the April meeting of the Home and School Association of York street school in Ottawa held Monday evening in the school auditorium. Miss Ross urged the formation of League of Nations Pioneer Groups in the schools in order to educate the children to the real meaning of the League of Nations and to teach the attainment of world peace through world co-operation, world intelligence and world understanding. Miss Cowan stressed the need for and advantages of parent educational groups.

Mrs. W. R. Hickey of Boiestown, was in the city today.

IMMIGRANT FACES TRIAL FOR RIOTING

REGINA, May 1—Casper Blurb, 23-year old Austrian who came to Canada in 1928, went on trial here today on charges of rioting and assault growing out of the on-to-Ottawa trek of striking relief camp workers a year ago.

Joe Mynnie, Kimberley, B.C., and Sam Coury, Vancouver, were acquitted on charges of rioting by a jury last night. Jack Kyle, of Winnipeg, charged jointly with Mynnie and Coury, was convicted and sentenced to seven months in jail by Mr. Justice H. Y. MacDonald.

Before being sentenced, Kyle electrified the court by a short address in which he declared his innocence and said: "I am just as proud to be a member of the on-to-Ottawa trek as I was of being in His Majesty's forces."

The team captains were F. E. McDiarmid, W. J. West, Reginald Murray, E. Allison MacKay, Leo F. Cain, O. V. Stevenson and Col. Crocker.

After the banquet Ralph Albrant, local Y. M. C. A. secretary in an interview with The Daily Mail, stated that a softball league, comprising teams from the high school and from the graded schools, had been formed and already play had started. Four teams have been formed from each school. In addition to the school teams there are three other teams in each school. Mr. Albrant also outlined plans for the playgrounds and community work for the summer months, which will be fashioned after the work done last summer.

CAR COLLISION

A collision occurred at 3.45 p.m. yesterday between a car driven by Gordon Currie of Douglas and one driven by James Saunders. Mr. Saunders was coming out of the alley alongside of the D. & D. Motors, and claims to have blown his horn in warning as he reached the street. No serious damage resulted to either car.

QUEBEC, P. Q., May 1—Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve recently received word he had been appointed to the committee of honor at the second international congress of the Religious Missionary Union.

This congress will be held at Rome in November at the same time the world exhibition of the Catholic Press.

SPRING POEMS

ARBUTUS (May Flower)

Ah, sweet mayflowers, filling all my chamber
With fragrance which thy blossoms only know.

Deep in thy rosy heart my face I bury
With tender memories of the long ago

Once more I hear the softly whispering forest,
And see the sifted May Day sunlight glide

Over the spongy moss and slender needles
That shield the crannies where thy blossoms hide.

And as I push aside with eager fingers
The dead brown leaves that guard thy little tomb,

The sweet old story of the Resurrection
Breathes in the freshness of thy living bloom.

Will Entertain Science Club

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Milley are to be host and hostess to the Science Club this evening at their home. The guest speaker will be Ald. Warren J. Maxwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Hedley F. McCluskey, and daughter, Catherine of Boiestown, motored to the city today.

In honor of her son, Master William Herridge, who recently celebrated his fourth birthday, Mrs. W. D. Herridge entertained at a children's party at her residence in Goulbourne Avenue, Ottawa.

Mrs. J. P. Byrne and her sister Miss G. L. (Babe) Burns, have returned to their home in Bathurst after spending the winter in Montreal and Ottawa.

Entertains for Wives of Members

Mrs. Pierre F. Casgrain, wife of the Speaker of the House of Commons, entertained yesterday at a charmingly arranged reception and tea for the wives of parliamentarians at her home on Daly avenue, Ottawa. At the tea table, which was attractively arranged being centered with a bowl of spring blooms, there presided Mrs. Ernest Lapointe, Mrs. T. A. Crerar and Mrs. Michaud, wife of Hon. J. E. Michaud, Edmundston, Minister of Fisheries. The assistants in the tea room included Miss Odette Lapointe, Miss Dorothy Crerar, the Misses Annette and Alice Michaud, daughters of Hon. and Mrs. J. E. Michaud, Misses Olive and Cairine Wilson, Miss Madeline Oulmet, Miss Lucette Valin and Miss Louise Theriault.

WINNIPEG PLAY SCORES HEAVILY

OTTAWA, May 1 — Le Cercle Moliere of Winnipeg, playing "Les Soeurs Guedonec" of Jean-Jaques Bernard, scored heavily in the Dominion Drama Festival Thursday night.

One of four players offered on "French Night," the Winnipeg entry won from Harley Granville-Barker, festival adjudicator, unstinted praise. While he suggested he might perhaps find some minor faults in acting, these would only serve to emphasize the general excellence of the presentation.

"A really very charming and beautiful thing done in the spirit the author wrote it," he told the audience which crowded the Ottawa Little Theatre.

But, while he gave high and generous praise to the Winnipeg offering, Mr. Granville-Barker confessed at the outset that, in the main, the other plays were also very good.

The performance started late, with a presentation of the second Canadian play to be staged in the festival. It was "L'Indienne," the work of Laurette Laroque-Auger of Ottawa, who directed its production. Presented by the School of Music and Declamation of the University of Ottawa, the piece derived a particular interest because of the fact it was the offering of the present Bessborough Trophy holders.

"I have very little to say about this play," commented Mr. Granville-Barker on "Il Etait Une Bergere," which the Theatre Ecole de Montreal gave. "It was an exercise in beautiful speaking."

The adjudicator was also brief in his reference to the final presentation. Le Conservatoire National de Musique de Quebec played the first act of Marcel Pagnol's "Topaze." Mr. Granville-Barker said: "This is not a play which aspires very high."

The introduction of Mr. Granville-Barker was made by Justice Rinfret of the Supreme Court of Canada, who referred appreciatively to the presence of the Governor-General and to the fact that Lord Tweedsmuir had agreed to act as patron of the festival.

GEORGE M. BYRON
RELATES STORIES OF CAPT. LANK

Captain Eddie Lank, 75-year-old resident of Campobello Island, who has been a lifelong friend of President F. D. Roosevelt of the United States, and who passed away at his home this week, was also well known to George M. Byron, King's printer of this city. Mr. Byron reminisces for a reporter of The Daily Mail of Captain Lank. Lank taught Franklin D. Roosevelt how to sail a boat when both were boys. He used to instruct the president in everything pertaining to sailing.

A story which the amiable Mr. Byron told in New York to a group of friends who were discussing fishing and earned the local man the title of "the biggest liar." The story has to do with the late Captain Lank, and Mr. Byron says the story is absolutely true. "A great many years ago," says Mr. Byron, "a great school of black fish came into Passamaquoddy Bay. Black fish is a species of whale and ranges from ten to thirty feet in length. The fishermen of the Quoddy surrounded them and drove them into a small cove, which is just about half a mile from the president's summer home. The black fish were massed so thickly in this small cove that Captain Eddie Lank in his boat was casting a harpoon when he slipped from the bow of his boat and went overboard striking with his feet on the back of a black fish. So dense was the fish flesh that Captain Lank did not get his feet wet above the ankles." Another story Mr. Byron tells is of the late Captain Lank accepting a challenge to wrestle with a bear at a stage performance of Mr. Bruin. The first encounter resulted in the intrepid Quoddy man being clouted the length of the stage. Undaunted, however, Captain Lank got to his feet and rushed the bear again, this time taking another clout on the side of the head. The second time was enough for the captain. The late Capt. Lank was church warden for many years in the St. Anne's where the president and his family worshipped when on the island of Campobello. He was also prominent in social activities. George Byron and Captain Lank were friends of many years' standing and today the local man expressed regret at his friend's death.

Rafting Logs to N.B.
Mills is Held Up

last week to commence wrecking operations have not yet arrived here. It is understood that they will arrive here tomorrow. The scows and tugboats carrying equipment are not at Saint John. In connection with the contract awarded to this company for the salvaging of the old bridge it is understood that the contract terms were for salvage in claim, at the estimated bridge weight of 17,000 tons at four cents per ton, would mean $68,000. In view of the present rate in scrap iron this seems to be a bargain for the purchasers.

A point in connection with the delay in rebuilding the C. N. R. bridge is that the Saint John is an international river. Any American ship sailing up the Saint John river could easily sue the government for the obstruction to navigation, as any U. S. ship company have a full right to clear navigation.

The same regulations apply to the St. Croix river on the New Brunswick Maine border, which is also an international bridge.
