the Governor General, and that the exhibits and the facts brought out that the case had been presented to in the appeal have not yet been submitted to the governor general. These are still in the hands of the Appeal Court. He thought there should be at least two months between the date of sentence and execution. Daniel Bannister was tried on June 23 and Mr. Lambert may want to appeal. Should Daniel be acquitted he will be tried on a kidnapping charge, which will take more time, and is likely to call in Arthur Bannister as a witness again. Chief Justice Baxter said there was the same combination of facts here as if it were in the original case and he thought that the reprieve should be for about two months.

The Crown, represented by J. B. Dickson, deputy attorney general, offered no objection.

Chief Justice Baxter ordered that the prisoner be remanded into custody until August 20 and the sentence of death then be duly carried out.

Excerpts from Mr. Lambert's application for reprieve in Arthur Bannister's case follow:

"That in view of the evidence at the previous trials, there is no doubt that Arthur William Bannister is the only living person who has any knowledge of what really took place inside the Lake cabin on the night of the tragedy, and that the said Arthur William Bannister might be a necessary and material witness for the defence and if the Crown should make out such a case against the accused that I should deem it necessary to call defense witnesses, I intend to call the said Arthur William Bannister.

"I request that the reprieve may be granted and execution of sentence of death be postponed upon the said Arthur William Bannister for one month so that the said Arthur William Bannister might be available if required as a witness in the case of his brother Daniel Robert Bannister.

Don't forget the joint picnic to be held on Saturday at Sunny Slopes, the summer home of Major and Mrs. F. A. Good. Members of the York and Sunbury Historical Society and the Science Club are cordially invited. Cars are to leave the post office at 2:30 o'clock.

the constitution. Unanimous consent expressed by the respective provincial legislatures must first be obtained.

Legislatures of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island would never concur. The Maritime Provinces had suffered incessantly in recent years from large interests in the Western Provinces, neglect of their ports and harbours and export of western products through United States ports on the Atlantic.

"The Maritime Provinces are under the unshakable belief their position would become still weaker if power to amend the constitution were given to the Dominion," Senator Turgeon stated. His chief desire was to keep the constitution "under the guardianship of the Imperial Parliament to preserve it from the multiple jealousies and lack of consideration which would arise."

DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY ON

A report came to us from the relief camps which were recently broken up and is one that is hard to believe, although it comes from men who were employed in the camp and who were there when the camp broke up.

It is stated that when the camps were broken up that the camp supplies including beds and bedding, several stoves, and other furniture and also farming and working utensils such as shovels, picks and the like, were either broken up or burned on the spot occupied by the camp.

In these days when many people are hard up and require furniture it seems to be an ill-advised move on the part of whatever department has charge of this relief camp to give orders for the destruction of these articles.

Last year following the forest fire at Gloucester county, the provincial government as well as several charitable organizations gathered together furniture and farming utensils and shipped the same into that county. These forest fire conditions are liable to happen again this year, and the stuff that was destroyed at the relief camps might well be used for conditions such as these.

There might be some excuse for the destruction of bedding but for the destruction of dishes or stoves and the other things mentioned there doesn't seem to be any reasonable excuse whatever. It looks as though it were the instructions of some bone-headed official who should not be allowed to have so much authority.

CURRIEBURG, June 8—The Annual meeting of the Currieburg Women's Institute was held the evening of June 4th, at the home of Mrs. Frank Boulter, the president presiding. The usual method of procedure was followed, roll call being made interesting as each member told how she would like to spend a week-end. The report of the Provincial Convention given by the delegate, Mrs. Maurice Tomilson, was most interesting and spoke well for the attention which the delegate had given to all instructive and constructive ideas stressed during the Convention. A vote of thanks was extended Mrs. Tomilson, expressing entire satisfaction with the report.

Election of officers, by ballot, resulted as follows:—President, Mrs. Frank Boulter; Vice-President, Mrs. Guy Tomilson; Secretary, Miss Claire McMillan; Assistant Secretary Miss Louise Kerr; Publicity Convener, Louisa Kerr. It was voted unanimously that the present slate of directors and local Conveners officiate for another year.

At the close of the meeting the members joined the Men's Study Club and Mrs. Maurice Tomilson read a paper giving the highlights of Prof. McDonald's address at the Institute Convention. ## CANADIANA

THE LEATHER BOTTLE

(By Theodore Gooderidge Roberts)

This delightful little volume of collected verse by the well known Fredericton author Theodore Gooderidge Roberts, should be read by all lovers of romance, dealing with our local rivers, sandbars and woods. The poem on cedar driftwood, for instance reminds one of the delightful campfire on the islands above town. Many others of Roberts' poems in The Leather Bottle have a local touch. There is magic, adventure and romance in this book. No library of Canadiana should be considered complete without Theodore Roberts' collected verse The Leather Bottle. Our local and provincial libraries should have all the Roberts books. They are to be found in all public libraries throughout the different states and provinces. This book was published by the Ryerson Press, Toronto, and is on sale at all the leading bookstores.—J. L. N.

The public demanded shirts for one dollar. Being public servants we felt it our duty to meet this demand. First we had to secure shirts of quality equal to our standard of value, or keep out of the low price field.

Realizing the truth of the words of Chesterfield, "A man of sense may be in haste, but never in a hurry, because he knows that whatever he does in a hurry he must do very ill!"—we therefore took our time and carefully "combed" the shirt manufacturers' lines for values before we decided to "stock" shirts at this price. We feel confident that you will agree with us that our dollar shirts are real value—worth one dollar of any man's hard earned money.

When better shirts are made to sell for one dollar, they'll be sold at
