ADMINISTRATION
RELIEF IS MAJOR PROBLEM TODAY

Misses Bessie Touzel and Nora Lea Speak Impressively on Welfare Work--Relief Administration Must Be Treated as National Problem -- Effect of Depression on Family Life.

At a public meeting held in the council chamber at the city hall last night, Miss Bessie Touzel, secretary of Public Welfare of the Canadian Welfare Council, and Miss Nora Lea, supervisor of the Protection Department of the Children's Aid Society of Toronto delivered fine addresses.

Miss Touzel, the first speaker, in an address full of statistical comment on unemployment and relief in the Dominion, emphasized the urgency of the relief problem, claiming that it was a national situation, "a major problem of the period," and must be treated as such. Miss Nora Lea spoke of the effect of unemployment on the parents and children, but spoke optimistically of the future, saying that Canadians should have learned much from the Depression.

Rev. George Telford acted as chairman, and after the addresses a formal vote of thanks was moved by Ald. F. S. Mundie, seconded by R. B. Wallace.

Miss Touzel in her address briefly outlined the nature of the Canadian Welfare Council. She said the problems of the administration of relief is a national problem, or actually an international problem. There are between 22 and 23 million able-bodied unemployed in the world today. All these are in a state of insecurity and privation.

To combat this relief problem it is not enough to "share crumbs" any more. This is no longer an emergency problem, of tying over till good times come again. It is a much more serious emergency and must be dealt with as such. She said that we have developed to a point where there is ample to provide for all. Creative employment and security is needed for healthful citizenship. This, said Miss Touzel, is a challenge to organization. It is a trying period for youth. About 1,200,000 in Canada now are receiving public relief assistance. This entails 300,000 heads of families. And there are a host of others, living on charity, on their families, on their savings who are not included in this list. Of this total 32 per cent are under 15 years of age. At least 400,000 people who are growing up are in a state of insecurity. A total of $115,000 was spent last year by Canada for charity. There was a total expenditure for these problems of $207,300,000.

The best sort of organization is required. The proper administration of this big problem needs supervision from a centralized position. Canada previously has used an antiquated system of relief. Now the supervision is more centralized. A supervision of method is now being experimented with. Thus a tremendous assistance can be given. Miss Touzel said that there is a lack of uniformity in residence or settlement at the present time, and much time has been wasted. It has been found that there were people who were Canadians without the right of assistance in any locality. The speaker said there should be a uniformity in the ruling for residence within the province and within the Dominion. There is also a lack of uniformity in the relief that is given. The standard of living should be better administered.

A standardized assistance is necessary to curb the floating or moving population. Miss Touzel said that every possible field of employment should be developed. The situation demands an approach on a national basis, not a sectional one. Miss Touzel emphasized. Relief is a permanent problem of any industrial society. Resettlement, increased electrification in the rural districts, reforestation, are a few of the programmes which may relieve the unemployed situation.

Miss Lea Speaks
Miss Lea told of the effect of the relief problem on fathers, mothers and children, the frustration resulting and the change in the behaviour pattern of the child. It might easily undermine our whole family life, and has in many cases. There have been some good things come out of the Depression, such as a spirit of common help, sympathy and contact with the less fortunate. The Depression has removed the sense of security, which is a fundamental need of all

Mrs. McQuarrie reported on jail work, one Sunday afternoon service being held. Rev. Milton Burt being the speaker; while Mrs. Lillian Bailey rendered a beautiful solo. It was decided to give the usual Christmas treat to the inmates of the jail. Several business matters were discussed after which readings were given by Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. J. S. ## Sir Howard Douglas Chapter I.O.D.E.

The December meeting of the Sir Howard Douglas Chapter I.O.D.E. was held in the committee room of the Parliament Buildings Wednesday afternoon with the regent, Mrs. C. J. Mersereau in the chair. There was a fair attendance considering the busy time of the year. After the usual opening prayer the minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report were heard. Reports were given on the recent bridge and rummage sale held by the Chapter. It was decided to take out a corporate membership in the League of Nations Society and give our usual donation to the navy. A letter was read from the Ladies Auxiliary of the Community Y, asking for co-operation in their work of furnishing and maintaining the new headquarters in the Chestnut building. This was gladly given and Mrs. J. C. Veness and Mrs. George W. Brown will act as Chapter representatives.

Plans were made for the carrying on of the Christmas work of the Chapter and committees appointed and money voted for this work. Mrs. John Malcolm and Mrs. F. C. Johnston gave papers on the League of Nations and India which were listened to with great interest. Miss Mary Stratton, who has been a great help to the Chapter members at Christmas time, was unanimously made an honorary member of the Chapter in recognition of her untiring interest. It was voted that the January meeting of the Chapter be held in the evening and Mrs. F. C. Johnston kindly offered her home. On motion the meeting adjourned.

Placing Women

homes of their own. Housekeepers need education in dietetics, clothing and first aid, and these training centres may be the means of making better housekeepers of Canadian women," the speaker concluded.

That Federal and Provincial governments co-operate in establishing and supporting schools for practical training in housework, with classes in elementary education for those requiring them, was recommended. To improve salaries and conditions for factory workers, personal contact between Government and worker was urged.

Loyalty to the Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, and commendation for his attitude at the League of Nations meeting in Geneva, were expressed in a resolution. The executive also went on record commending Hon. David Croil, Minister of Welfare, for his effort in behalf of the unemployed, especially for his issuing of orders to Welfare Departments to supply widows and fatherless homes with fuel during the coming winter.

mankind. Health has been impaired also. But Miss Lea held an optimistic note for the future, and expressed the opinion that human courage plus organization would help to bring the people of Canada out of depression.

Victor Hatheway Chapter I.O.D.E.

The regular meeting of the Victor Hatheway Chapter I.O.D.E. was held on Wednesday evening, Dec. 2, at 7.30 at the home of Miss Harriet VanWart with the Regent Miss VanWart, in the chair, and a large attendance of members present. The meeting opened in the usual manner with the prayer of the Order and the salutation of the Flag, after which the Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were read and approved. Reports were heard from the convenors of the following committees: League of Nations, Endowment Fund, Work in India, Educational Secretary, Press, Ways and Means. The Educational Secretary reported that the work on the Oratorical Contest was progressing very favorably, and that the Rotary Club had expressed their willingness to co-operate with the Chapter in putting on this oratorical contest for girls and boys of the Fredericton High School some time in February, the subjects, rules of the Contest, etc., to be announced at a later date.

The Chapter pledged its support to the Seamen's Mission Society, as in former years, to buy Christmas cheer. In line with the welfare work of the Chapter, a Christmas remembrance is to be sent to a young man who is a patient at the Sanatorium at River Glade, and a family of six to be remembered at this season. Financial support was also pledged to the Work in India, and to the Endowment Fund.

A most interesting report was given by Mrs. E. A. Skene, of the 97th I.O.D.E. company of Girl Guides which Victor Hatheway Chapter has sponsored. The Chapter is very proud of this Girl Guide Company, which celebrated its first birthday on Nov. 26, by giving a demonstration at the Cathedral Hall, at which Chapter members and parents of the Guides were present. It was decided that the Chapter would assist at the Well Baby Clinic during the month of January, and eight members were appointed for this work. The Chapter is sending two representatives to the auxiliary of the Y.M.C.A. organized recently in the city and also giving financial aid to this much-needed project. Calendars were sent to the Model School and four rural schools. A report of the committee in charge of the bridge held recently at D-Coy Inn was a successful one. Material was purchased for the use of the Chapter in Empire Study work, and also books have been purchased which the Chapter members are reading, on Empire subjects. The resignation of one member was accepted with regret, and two new members were welcomed to the Chapter.

Following the formal closing of the meeting, bridge was played, and the money realized was used for Endowment Fund. The prize winners for the evening were Miss Phyllis McCaffrey and Miss Beatrice Phillips. The hostesses for the evening were Miss VanWart, Mrs. Delmas Oltz, Mrs. Hedley Wilson, Mrs. A. McF. Limerick, Mrs. E. A. Skene, Mrs. K. R. McAdam, Miss Maggie Jean Chestnut and Mrs. Earle P. Smith. Mrs. Wilson presided at the coffee table and the hostesses assisted in serving.

G. H. Rice of Havelock is at the Queen Hotel today.

Infantry

transferred to the machine-gun unit. In the Headquarters Company No. 1 Platoon consists of signallers and runners; No. 2 is protective, armed with two light machine-guns—the Bren guns, which, in due course, will be issued to replace the present Lewis gun; No. 3 is offensive, its armament comprises two mortars, while on No. 4 are all the administrative branches, including battalion transport.

The remaining sixteen platoons will each have two Bren gun sections and two bayonet sections. Radical alterations of the infantry transport are indicated. Bicycles remain for the battalion runners, but these are reinforced by seven motor-cycles per unit. Swift two-seater and four seater cars are added to the establishment, while the old battalion limbers disappear, replaced by general service trucks and 30-cwt. lorries. The general order does not indicate if the travelling-kitchens are due for mechanization also; but no provision is made for horse-drawn vehicles.
