Police Commission, School Board Criticized

Ald. Dr. Ross Says Things Over Which "We Have No Control" Are Police Commission and School Board — Capital Transit, Ltd. Complains of Trespass by Highway Transport—Ald. Hagerman Says School Board Lax in Coal Weighing—Appropriations Discussed.

"I am glad that Ald. Hagerman has brought this matter up but unfortunately there are two things over which we have no control—the police commission and the school board."

The above remark was made by Ald. Dr. B. R. Ross at last night's September city council meeting, following a statement by Ald. Murray B. Hagerman that the local school board have been buying coal by the carload and taking railroad weight, instead of weighing the coal on city scales. By this method, said Ald. Hagerman, the city is losing money, and he said that the school board was probably out from three to six tons of coal on every carload. He asked that some action be taken in this matter.

A complaint by Capital Transit Ltd. that the Highway Transport Company was trespassing on its rights in this city was discussed at length and finally left to the mayor with power to act. During discussion on the matter Ald. Ross and Ald. Hagerman suggested that this was a matter for the police commission, although Ald. Ross asserted that "we can't instruct the police commission to do anything."

Ald. Maxwell cautioned against overexpenditure by the city this year unless it was absolutely necessary. This cautionary advice came after the passing of a motion to purchase two new transformers for the city. Ald. Maxwell showed that the city had about $86,000 of its yearly appropriations left, although $100,000 could be used.

Report of tax collections for August 1936, showed $19,469.53 while in August, 1935, the collections were $8,830.49. The report was presented by Deputy Mayor Maxwell.

On resolution by Ald. F. S. Mundie seconded by Ald. Raymond Cresswell the city treasurer was authorized to issue checks of $1.50 monthly to the pensioners of the Municipal Home.

Ald. Mundie reporting on relief, showed that eighteen families were now on relief. Last month there were 21 on relief. There are 55 dependents on relief now. The total cost for August amounts to $436.25.

Complaint of Bus Company

The city council heard a complaint from the Capital Transit, Ltd., the complaint being that the Highway Transport Co. is operating within the limits of the city, although the Capital Transit, Ltd., has the franchise for such rights. The charge is that the other company is carrying passengers from Devon and Marysville and taking them to various parts of the city.

Ensuing argument over this point brought down the fire of several of the aldermen on the Police Commission. The matter was finally left to the mayor of the city with power to act on motion by Ald. Dr. B. R. Ross, seconded by Ald. Maxwell.

Ald. Ross wanted to know why it wasn't incumbent on the Capital Transit, Ltd., to lay the information before the court instead of appealing to the council. Alderman Maxwell agreed when he asked whether it was the city's place to enter it at all. Ald. Mundie said that any infractions of such nature should be penalized by a fine of $50 as it was stated in the franchise regulations.

Ald. Ross suggested it was a matter for the Police Commission. "But that would take months," he added, "and we have no control over the police commission."

Ald. Murray Hagerman said the only thing is to refer the matter to the police commission. "It's up to them to do it; they're paid to do it," he said. He made a motion to this effect which was seconded by Ald. Ross, who agreed with Ald. Hagerman.

Ald. David McCaughey said that the council should give the police commission an order to impose such a law governing a bus franchise. At this juncture Ald. Ross remarked that "you can't instruct the police commission to do anything." Ald. Ross asked if the members of the police commission got copies of the franchise regulations. The city treasurer answered that the police magistrate had a copy. "I see," said Ald. Ross, "he's actually the police commission."

Should Go Before Court.

Ald. Warren Maxwell made the point that any individual with a complaint lays it before the court. It was his opinion that the bus company with a grievance should seek redress in the same way. "We make the laws but the enforcement of the law is not done by the council," he said. Ald. Dr. Ross agreed on this point. "I don't think we are chore boys or detectives," he said.

Ald. Hagerman withdrew his motion to have the matter left to the Police Commission and it was left to the mayor with power to act. Mayor Kitchen said he didn't believe there was any necessity for the council taking any action at all. If there are any infringements the company should take it to court. Ald. McCaughey and Ald. Hagerman believed that under the city's granting the franchise that the city pledged support and protection to that company.

School Board Matter

Ald. Murray Hagerman brought up the matter of the buying of coal by the Board of School Trustees. "I found out that the school board have been buying coal by the carload and taking railroad weight for it," he said. The board are out from three to six tons of coal in every car, complained the alderman. He believed that the board should weigh the coal on "our scales" since they are spending the city's money. He was convinced it would mean a big saving to the city.

No Control Over Them

Ald. Dr. Ross thought it was an important disclosure by Ald. Hagerman. "But unfortunately there are two things over which we have no control in city affairs—the police commission and the school board," declared Ald. Dr. Ross.

Ald. Warren Maxwell brought up the matter of the purchase of two new transformers for the city. He was of the opinion that the city shouldn't overspend in any of its departments unless absolutely necessary. If any expenditures are made they should be done by the ruling of the whole council.

Ald. Ross had asked that two new transformers be purchased at Monday's meeting.

Ald. Ross wished to know if there wasn't a surplus in the Street Light department, to which the answer was "$1,000."

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Cecil Rhodes was more than conscious of the things that live after us. Once a youth approached him as he was setting out some oak trees in the later years of his life. To the youth it seemed an imaginative thing to do. Rhodes, looking up, read the thought in his face and said, "You feel that I shall never enjoy the shade." "Yes," replied the youth. The philanthropist smiled. "I have the imagination, you see; I know what the shade will be and, at any rate, no one will ever alter these lines, I know that I can never expect to see them beyond a shrub, but with me rests the conception, and the shade and the glory."—Christian Science Monitor.

What a man produces with his own hands is rightly his own. What he produces in excess of what he consumes, if he uses it to assist in further production, is capital. He is justly entitled to all he produces and to what he saves by his own efforts. "Share the wealth by taxing the rich," "social justice," "end poverty" and "regimentation of industry" are merely the slogans of politicians courting popularity and bureaucratic dictators bent on changing our form of government. No one denies the obligation of society to care for the helpless, but if we train people to believe that they have a right to live on the bounty of others, who will do the work?—Brandon Sun.

Ald. Maxwell reviewed briefly the appropriations for the year and said that it was left now about $85,000 or $86,000 for the remainder of this year's appropriations, but the requirements would amount to about $100,000. He cautioned against overexpenditure. It was suggested that appropriations for the two transformers on which a motion to purchase was passed last night, could be appropriated for next year.

Mayor Kitchen presided at last night's regular September meeting of the council.
