DEMPSEY RATES AL MCCOY WITH TOP NOTCHERS

Boxing's Most Popular Veteran "Glad Hands" Way Around

NEW YORK, June 17—Jack Dempsey remains one of the most popular figures boxing has ever known, and mainly because, now that championship days are over, he is most diplomatic, and always has a kind word to say or an autograph to sign for any interested party. In this respect he is another "Babe Ruth."

At Montreal last Wednesday the "Manana Mauler" amazed a gathering when he stated that ancient Tommy Loughran and Al McCoy are next to Joe Louis, the best of present-day heavyweights. There was a general uplifting of eyebrows, and most of Dempsey's listeners were considerably amused, if not astounded.

However, the truth will out, and in so raising a has-been and a mittman who has never campaigned in heavy-weight ranks the former world's champion had a purpose, his statement being ballyhoo for the Loughran-McCoy bout, which will be staged in Montreal June 28.

Help! Help! What Next?

Dempsey says that Max Baer, the man who almost jumped out of a train window when a brakeman yelled "St. Louis next" will be offered an enticing amount of cash to travel along the 'comeback' trail by opposing Jack Peterson, British champion, in England this summer. Trevor Wignall, columnist for the London Daily Express, is now in the United States attempting to arrange this engagement.

In making a prediction, relative to the outcome of the heavyweight battle next Thursday, Dempsey says that Max Schmeling will be outclassed and knocked out in a hurry. He is also of the opinion that Joe Louis can name the round in which the one-sided bout will be terminated.

The idol of fistiana also avers that Jimmy Braddock's long lay-off will have disastrous effects and that if the titleholder takes on Louis he will be

UPSETS IN FORM IN THE MAJOR LOOPS

Inconsistencies of Baseball Shown in Season's Play

NEW YORK, June 16—Some one once said that the thing that made baseball the greatest of sports was its inconsistencies. He stressed the queer twists and turns that the ball clubs would make, the sudden lapse of some players, the spectacular rise of others, and the manner in which celebrated jinxes would sometimes blow up in air.

There was, for instance, the complete helplessness of the Pirates against Roy Henshaw, diminutive Cub southpaw, last season. Roy was just a pretty good pitcher against six other clubs, but when he faced the Bucs he looked like a world-beater. He beat them seven times in well pitched exhibitions and lost to them once in a tight pitchers' battle. After the race it was said that the Cubs won the flag because they could manacle the Bucs, and they could manacle the Bucs because of little Henshaw.

This season Henshaw has had two cracks against the Pirates. The first time he managed to stay the route, but in the ninth inning, with a three-run lead, two out and the bases filled, he pitched a home-run ball to Gus Suhr and lost the game, 9 to 8. That was Henshaw's first appearance of the season. In his last showing thus far he again toed the slab against the men of Traynor and was beaten just as sure as the sun will set tonight. Dempsey however, hopes that Braddock will prove that he is a false prophet, because he admires the fighting Irishman immensely.

To Play in Their Old Uniforms

NEW YORK, June 17—The National League's series of games in the manner and uniform of 1876, celebrating its 60th anniversary will get underway in Boston June 24 and will reach Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, July 25 and the Polo Grounds, August 13. Ford Frick, president of the old circuit, is doing the stunt in proper style. The funny looking uniforms are already on view in his office.

HAMAS IN CAMP

NEW YORK, June 17—With thoughts far from the squared circle, Steve Hamas, New Jersey boy, who met Max Schmeling in Hamburg, Germany last year, is athletic director of a boys' camp in the Adirondack Mountains.

SEEDS SHIFTED IN OUTFIELD

MONTREAL, June 17—Bob Seeds, former member of the Boston Red Sox, now with the Royals of the International League, has been shifted to center field by Manager Shaughnessy in hopes of getting better results.

driven to cover before the second inning was completed.

It would be a simple matter to lay the full blame to second-year trouble, since Roy is a sophomore now, except that between those two jinx-breaking starts he has won and completed three games in impressive fashion.

"LEFTY" KERRIGAN ELIGIBLE TO PLAY WITH DEVON IN 1936

Executive of N. B. Baseball Association Recommends Him as Devon's Property But Pontiacs Still Protest

SAINT JOHN, June 17—The executive of the New Brunswick Baseball Association in special session at the Royal Hotel here last night recommended to T. L. MacDonald, president of the M. P. B., that Clifford H. Kerrigan be allowed to play for the Devon Baseball Club this season.

According to William T. Whitlock, president of the association, the decision of the executive, with but one dissenting voice, was that because Kerrigan had not been a resident of Saint John this year he should be allowed to play for the Devon team. He is now with the Devon Club.

Kerrigan, as is known, signed with the Pontiacs for this season, and the Saint John Club will carry on its warfare to have the pitcher either perform for them or be forced out of baseball for this season.

The southpaw, on a ruling by Sheriff C. D. Shipley, chairman of the registration committee, was ordered to play ball with the Pontiacs this season if he wanted to remain in organized amateur baseball. Devon has fought against this and last night representatives of the club were at the meeting and were gratified when the executive made its recommendation. Kerrigan was also at the meeting.

TERRY SIGNS ON DOTTED LINES

NEW YORK, June 17—A report around here has Bill Terry, boss and first baseman of the New York Giants, again signing a contract to manage the club for five years. Terry was supposed to have signed a five-year contract two years ago.

My political ideal is democracy. Everyone should be respected as an individual, but no one idolized.—Albert Einstein.

"I wish I owned a Bank"

"Don't mistake me. I'm not criticising the Canadian system of branch banking. I'm all for it," declared Mr. Picobac with a twinkle. "My credit is good. I guess I could get a couple of hundred dollars on my face any time."

"Not from me you couldn't," observed the gentleman who had just borrowed a pipeful of tobacco from Mr. Picobac's "SEAL-TIGHT" pouch. "I haven't got it."

"What I am getting at is Picobac, the pick of Canada's Burley crop," continued the genial Essex county philosopher, ignoring the interruption. "A man that grows good Canadian Burley—Picobac quality—deserves credit. If I owned a bank I'd give it to him—give it to him right up to the dotted line."

"It's not everybody that can grow Picobac quality," observed another gentleman.

"You're right it isn't," agreed Mr. Picobac. "But when you DO you got what it takes! You can bank on a mild... cool... sweet smoke."
