Canada's Foreign

In the evolution of the League, emphasis should be placed on conciliation rather than upon coercion.

Canada reaffirms her adherence to the fundamental principles of the Covenant.

Automatic commitments to the application of force are not practical policy.

Goodwill Among Nations Essential

Without the restoration of confidence and goodwill among nations, Europe and the League cannot possibly begin to perform their tasks. The first step necessary is a conference.

Factor Influencing Opinion of Canada

"There is another factor which inevitably influences Canadian opinion on many league policies, particularly on the question of automatic obligation to the use of force in international disputes. I have in mind our experience as a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

"Nations of the British Commonwealth are held together by ties of friendship, by similar political institutions and by a common attachment, to democratic ideals rather than by commitments to join together in war.

"The Canadian Parliament reserves to itself the right to declare in the light of circumstances existing at the time to what extent, if at all, Canada will participate in conflicts wherein other members of the Commonwealth may be engaged.

"It is true that there are special factors in this relationship which make it impossible to draw a complete parallel between League and Commonwealth relations. But these factors also work in both directions. Certainly this experience has had an effect in convincing Canadians of the possibility of reserving close and friendly co-operation without the existence of central authority or military commitments.

Emphasis Placed on Conciliation
"But there is today," Mr. King went on, "also a widespread conviction, born of experience, that at this stage in the evolution of the League emphasis should be placed upon conciliation rather than upon coercion. And there is general unwillingness in peoples to incur obligations which they realize they may not be able in time of crisis to fulfill, obligations to use force and to use it at any time in circumstances unforeseen and in disputes over whose origin or whose development they had little or no control.

"The difficulty of automatic intervention increases rather than decreases when conflicts tend to become struggles between classes, between economic systems, social philosophies, in some instances between religious faiths as well as between states. Moreover, participation in civil conflict abroad brings the hazard of strain and conflict at home.

Reaffirms Adherence to Covenant
"Canada comes to the League of Nations today with the desire to reaffirm her adherence to the fundamental principles of the covenant. The preservation of peace by the progressive organization of international co-operation within the collective system has been championed in equal measure by members of all political parties in Canada.

"Our attachment to this ideal is as strong today as it was at the inception of the League. At the same time there is general concurrence in the view which has been expressed by leaders of all political parties since the beginning of the League, that automatic commitment to the application of force is not practical policy.

TO SOLEMNIZE MARRIAGE

Today's issue of the Royal Gazette contains notice that Rev. Thomas Arthur Glendinning of Oromocto, and Rev. W. Floyd Haney, of Saint John have been registered to solemnize marriage in the province of New Brunswick.

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Lady Foster, of London, England, who is the guest of Mrs. Henry Joseph, of Montreal, at her summer home at Ste. Agathe is expected in town shortly to be the guest of Mrs. A. F. Rogers.

Stuart—Winfield

The marriage took place at five o'clock, yesterday afternoon, at St. George's Church, Montreal, of Katherine Somerville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Winfield, of Halifax, N. S., to Dr. Edwin A. Stuart, of Fredericton, N. B. Dr. Stuart is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stuart of Fredericton Junction and has recently returned from Edinburgh, Scotland, where he had been taking post-graduate work in medicine. Venerable Archdeacon Gower-Rees officiated.

The bride who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a fawn ensemble with brown hat and accessories to match, and a corsage bouquet of roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

A reception and dinner at the Mount Royal Hotel attended by the friends and relatives of the bride and bridegroom, was held following the ceremony. Later the bridal couple left for a trip to Quebec and other points. On their return Dr. and Mrs. Stuart will reside in Montreal.

Cathedral Men's Club

The Cathedral Men's Club held their regular weekly meeting last evening in the Memorial Hall, Church street, with a large attendance. After the opening prayer in unison, led by Very Rev. Dean W. H. Moorhead, the meeting was addressed by Brig. General F. W. Hill, who spoke on the recent pilgrimage of war veterans and relatives to the battlefields of Belgium and France and the unveiling of the wonderful Canadian Memorial on Vimy Ridge by the King. Speaking in his usual graphic and vividly descriptive manner, General Hill held his audience deeply interested as he led them over the country, once familiar to quite a number present and deeply revered by all as the last resting place of thousands of Canada's best manhood. The speaker, throughout an address, interspersed with incidents of dry humor, brought strongly home to his listeners the fact that the trip was, in reality, a pilgrimage of sentimental and sympathetic reverence to those who did not come back rather than an excursion of joviality for those who were going back. In concluding his most interesting address, General Hill gave a clear and comprehensive outline of the present chaotic conditions in Europe. His broadly trained mind and well developed powers of intelligent observation enabled the speaker to thoroughly analyze the situation and present to his audience a clean cut and definite realization of the facts as they are. The President extended the sincere thanks of the Club to General Hill and the spontaneous enthusiasm of the members showed their deep appreciation. Play was then resumed in the cumulative card tournaments. The evening results showed J. H. Maxwell as 'high man' among the forty-five players, and R. K. Nevers leading the bridge pack by a comfortable margin. The usual light refreshments, followed by the National Anthem, ended still another instructive and enjoyable evening for the Cathedral Men's Club.

The Sons of Temperance are holding their annual convention in Moncton on October 21st and 22nd. In conjunction the New Brunswick Christian Temperance League will also meet in Moncton on October 22nd and 23rd.

Col. A. L. Barry of Newcastle, is in the city today and is a guest at the Queen Hotel.

DIED AT BANGOR, MAINE

Mrs. J. H. Barry received word this morning of the death of Mrs. McCann, wife of the late Dr. Daniel McCann of Bangor, Me., which occurred suddenly this morning. The late Mrs. McCann is survived by three sons, Dr. James McCann and John McCann, barrister of Boston, and Robert McCann of Washington, D.C.; also one daughter, Mrs. Joseph Kelly of Boston, Mass. Decided, who was before her marriage, Miss Mary Cole of Woodstock, had many friends in the city who will regret to hear of her sudden passing. She had been a frequent visitor at the home of Chief Justice and Mrs. J. H. Barry. The funeral will take place in Bangor on Friday morning. Mrs. Barry and Miss Molly Barry are leaving tomorrow to attend the funeral.

A PUBLIC MEETING

E. A. Corbett, director of the Canadian Association for Adult Education will address a public meeting tomorrow evening at eight o'clock in the Provincial Normal School auditorium. The address is under the auspices of the Home and School Association. Everybody welcome.

REMODELLED

The house on Brunswick street formerly occupied by the late George Bidlake has recently been undergoing renovation, and has been remodelled with a beautiful stucco finish.

ON ROUTINE BUSINESS

A. W. Barbour deputy minister of public works, returned last night from Saint John where he was engaged in business connected with his department.

A T.B. EXAMINATION

The new students at the University of New Brunswick underwent a physical examination for tuberculosis yesterday, the inspection being in charge of Dr. J. M. Cameron of the Department of Health. Several other physicians of the department assisted.

ANOTHER IMPROVEMENT

One more of the civic improvements advocated by The Daily Mail has been accomplished with the completion of the paving of Phoenix Square, surrounding the city hall. This will eliminate mud puddles and also give the city an up-to-date appearance.

CANADIANA

A PRAYER OF THANKS

Oh God of all the world, to Thee My thanks, at Eventide, I bring For loved ones, home and sky and earth

All creatures who Thy praises sing. For quiet times in early morn, For rich convictions that release A healing stream of Light from Thee For guidance from Thy voice of Peace

For power of Music, and for work Altho' I feel my hands are tied By centuries of false ideas Whose roots did not in Thee abide.

For strength I know is not my own To help another on Life's way, For doctor's skill, and for all those Who for their faith a price will pay.

For fellowship of those who can Forgive and forget the sin in me, And love, and laugh, and lift and leave

A challenge to live nearer Thee.

O God of all the World, may those Who catch the Vision—see the Star—Surrender all to Thee, until, Wars cease, and none Thy plan shall mar.

Pulpwood

operators who have secured an export market for pulpwood were confirmed by the Minister.

The Premier and Mr. Heenan met recently with newspaper representatives. The conference objective, the Minister said, was to map out certain rivers on which operators cutting for export can get to the timber.

The Government is able to open the new pulpwood operations under last year's "reallocation" law. It was ready to open them, Mr. Heenan said, to any practical operator who is able to, employ men and can deposit 20 per cent of the Crown dues as a sign of good faith.

"This winter's cut with the sappeeling season will show an increase of at least 300,000 cords over last year," the Minister predicted. "More than that, negotiations are proceeding with other new business which will probably mean an increase of another 250,000 cords."

The improved conditions have already hit the Thunder Bay area. Mr. Heenan said that a Thunder Bay newsprint mill will open to full capacity today. After several years of idleness, it was partially opened last year.
