Oakie-Burns Get Call For Champ "Ribbing"

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 12—Out in Hollywood they call Bob Burns and Jack Oakie a pair of champion ribbers. They're both going to team up with Bing Crosby in a triple-threat comedy act on the Kraft Music Hall broadcast Thursday, December 17.

Back in the days when Bob Burns was touring the country in vaudeville he played on a lot of bills with Jack Oakie and they kidded back and forth in their acts. Jack has been on the Kraft Music Hall show several times before and each time the score on "ribs" was just about even.

Bing will have other guest stars for the broadcast over the NBC-Red network at 10 p.m., EST, and before the show is over they may turn out to be comedians too.

STRADS FEATURED

NEW YORK, Dec. 12—The four famous Stradivarius instruments, two violins, a viola and cello, recently presented to the Library of Congress in Washington, D. C., by Gertrude Clarke Whittall, will again be heard over the NBC-Blue network on Wednesday, Dec. 16, at 10:00 p.m., EST, when the second of four chamber musicals being broadcast by the Library of Congress under the Gertrude Clarke Whittall Foundation is presented.

This programme will consist of chamber music works by Johannes Brahms played on these instruments by the Gordon String Quartet with the assistance of Frank Sheridan, American concert pianist.

When presenting these four "Strads" to the Library of Congress, Mrs. Whittall also created a Foundation of $100,000 for the purpose of engaging noted artists to play them publicly, thus preventing the instruments from becoming "voiceless" museum relics.

On January 6 the Musical Art String Quartet with Sheridan will broadcast the third programme of this series, and on January 27, the Roth String Quartet with Beryl Rubinstein, pianist, and Howard Mitchell, cellist, will be heard playing these famous instruments.

THE HITMAKERS

Hitmaking scores are to be featured on the sparkling popular musical presentation, "The Hitmakers," which will offer Percy Faith's orchestra in currently successful tunes, over the eastern network of the CBC from Toronto, on Monday, Dec. 14, at 6 p.m. Tuneful arrangements by the directors provide the week's high in rhythm. Faith has specially arranged "It's D'Lovely" from the current Broadway triumph, "Red, Hot and Blue," which stars the gay Ethel Merman, and the dance maestro will also highlight "Easy to Love," from the Langford-Powell-Gardner film sensation, "Born to Dance."

Billie Bell, joyous lady of modern song, will be fittingly featured in such favorites as "Let's Put Our Heads Together," "There's a Silver Moon on the Golden Gate," "Will You," and she will also do the vocal honors in the Faith presentation of "Easy to Love."

Other tuneful offerings from the orchestra will be "The Night is Young—You're So Beautiful," "Tea on the Terrace," "Now That Summer is Gone" and "Swing, Brother Swing."

NO PLACE LIKE HOME SAYS COBB

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 12—There are two reasons why Irvin S. Cobb, the Sage of Paducah, Ky., and boss of the Paducah Plantation on NBC, believes there is no place like home.

One is that he is a true gentleman of the south who believes a man's home is his castle. The other is that nowhere can he court the Muse as successfully as he can in the study of his Santa Monica home, which was once owned by the glamorous Greta Garbo.

Cobb does all of his writing at home. Clad in a smock, the famed humorist and short story writer writes laboriously in longhand at the table of the simply furnished "den."

"I take a lot of razzing for those smocks," said Cobb, "but the real reason I wear them is to save clothes. I puff at a cigar continuously and let the ashes fall where they will."

E. P. Smith of Sackville is a guest at the Queen Hotel.

Ten Favorite Carols to Be Sung Over NBC

NEW YORK, Dec. 12—The ten most popular Christmas Carols selected by radio listeners in all parts of the United States, will be sung during a special programme, Saturday, Dec. 19, from 11 to 11:30 p.m., EST, over the coast-to-coast NBC-Blue network.

Songs will be selected by post-card vote and returns will be announced on Dec. 14, 15 and 16 at 11 p.m., EST, over the NBC-Blue network.

Group singing will be led by three large NBC choirs, located in New York, Chicago and San Francisco. The spirit of a good old-fashioned Christmas is anticipated when audiences everywhere join in the chorus.

The programme has been organized to encourage NBC audiences to take an active part in its broadcasts and it is expected that this will be the largest choir ever to have sung at any one time.

While it is generally conceded that "Silent Night" and "O Come All Ye Faithful" are the two most popular Christmas carols, the relative popularity of other favorites is a matter of some dispute.

The poll will not only help in determining the programme for the chorus singing but will probably result in an improvement of other carol programmes during the Christmas broadcast and prevent too frequent repetition of some songs at the expense of other and equally popular ones.

AL'S WELL... WELL

Sponsors of the new Al Jolson series which debut Tuesday, Dec. 22, over the WABC-CBS network, have been distributed by misleading reports that the mammy singer is ailing.

Accordingly they dispatched a specialist to the Jolson Hollywood residence to check up on this rumor. When the physician arrived early in the morning, Jolson was playing an after-breakfast game of handball. He invited the doctor to join him.

After the game, they showered and, dressed for the bride path. Then Jolson asked the doctor to sit in on a hectic session about his material on the forthcoming broadcast.

In the afternoon, they watched the USC-Notre Dame game and dropped around to the dressing rooms to josh with the team members.

Returning to the Jolson home, the doctor, watching for symptoms which might substantiate the rumors of Al's illness, accompanied him on a vigorous walk around the grounds of his estate.

After dinner, Jolson and the doctor attended the prize fights.

Jolson asked the doctor to drop around the following day so that he might conduct some sort of a complete physical examination.

But the next day the doctor didn't show up. Early in the morning, Jolson clambered out of the swimming pool to call the medico's home. He was informed that the doctor was in bed, suffering from exhaustion.

NO CHANGE IN METHOD OF GETTING MEN

NEW YORK, Dec. 12—Without trying to ascribe a reason for it, the problems of subsidizing and recruiting college football players apparently are as dead as the famous Carnegie report which brought them into the open years ago.

There have been sporadic reports that the Carnegie Foundation is going to make another investigation but using the apathetic attitude of some of the leading institutions and their athletic leaders as a yard stick almost everybody, with the usual few exceptions, seems to be content to let well enough alone.

The old bugbears have been the cause for a few scattered skirmishes and conversations. The Reynolds plan which would have legalized modified subsidization in the collegiate big ten was voted down 9 to 1. But the Southern Collegiate Athletic Association decreed yesterday an athlete may accept tuition scholarships and work for the college to pay for his schooling, without fear of censure.

The fate of the "Graham plan" aimed at elimination of subsidization and recruiting, will be decided when the southern conference meets in Richmond Friday and Saturday. Frank Graham, president of the University of North Carolina and author of the plan, which put into effect this season, will press for further tightening of the rules. Forest Fletcher, Washington and Lee, president of the conference, has said that he will seek its abolishment.

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 11—The possibility that Edward VIII might make his home in this country was seen tonight in unconfirmed reports he had purchased an Argentine estate through an agent. Other rumors said the former King was negotiating the purchase of a home at Venado Tuerto in Santa Fe Province.

SCIENTISTS TO BE ON AIR ON DECEMBER 19

NEW YORK, Dec. 12—Outstanding contemporary figures in science, art and literature, including James Truslow Adams, Dr. Robert Millikan, Hendrik Willem van Loon and Charles Dana Gibson, will be heard during a broadcast over the NBC-Red network on Saturday, Dec. 19, from 4:45 to 5:30 p.m., EST.

The broadcast, to be titled "Fifty Years in American Literature," will be presented by the NBC from a party in New York's Waldorf-Astoria, marking the 50th year of the publication of Scribner's magazine.

Van Loon, historian and well-known NBC commentator, will tell "The Story of American Literature," outlining its history and the development of its various art forms from early days to the present.

Charles Dana Gibson, originator of the "Gibson Girl," will talk on women, styles, the life of years ago and how illustration reflects changes in living. S. S. Van Dine, detective story writer, will relate the personal experiences of authors of his calling. Marcia Davenport, music critic and NBC announcer from the Salzburg Festival last summer, will speak on music criticism and critics personal reminiscences. Zona Gale, prominent novelist, will talk on modern fiction and the novel.

Others who will be heard on the programming will be Leonora Speyer, poetess; George Biddle, artist-illustrator; Nancy Hale, novelist, and Ernest Elmo Calkins, advertising official for the past four decades.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's "Friendly Enemies," who broadcast a programme of song and patter from the Winnipeg studios every Tuesday at 9 p.m., EST, expect a tough time of it on Dec. 15. On that date Ralph Judge, tenor, and John Moncrieff, basso, will culminate an interlude of verbal sparrings with a hypocritical tenor and basso version of "Kiss Me Again." Striking out on his own, Ralph will also sing "Rose of Tralee" and help John in the duet, "The Moon Has Raised Her Lamps Above." John for his part will offer "Serenade" from Faust.

Microphonics

Memos on a Radio City reporter's pad: Ed Wynn likes to stroll Fifth Avenue late at night, window-wishing. . . Sam Hurn, the Horace Nimble of the Show Boat troupe, is ambitious to conduct a radio orchestra. . . Phil Spittain, director of the Hour of Charm all-girl orchestra, is one of three brothers to attain distinction as orchestra leaders. Each member of the Spittain family for four generations has been a musician.

Bits about NBC broadcasters: Three of radio's ace announcers—Graham McNamee, Harry Von Zell and Don Wilson—all began their microphone careers as baritone soloists. . . Irvin S. Cobb began his newspaper career not as a reporter but as a cartoonist for the Paducah News-Democrat. . . Tenor Jan Peerce made his professional debut as a violinist.
