DEMAND FOR LIVE
NEW BRUNSWICK
BEARS IS KEENTourist Bureau Have Requests For Six
Cubs

New Brunswick black bears are in demand.

This morning D. W. Griffiths, director of the Bureau of Information and Tourist Travel, received a letter asking whether he could recommend guides and woodsmen who could supply six of the little black fellows in the immediate future. The letter came from C. K. Howard, manager of the Tourist and Convention Bureau, Canadian National Railways, Montreal, and at the time of writing Mr. Howard was acting for the manager of a large amusement park in Montreal. The cubs are required for exhibition during the coming summer and the manager is seeking delivery early in May.

It will be recalled that New Brunswick bears have recently been a strong attraction at Sportsmen's Shows held in Boston, New York City and Hartford, Conn. Teddy, a yearling cub, was one of the best "playing" bears ever exhibited at the Shows and could hold the crowds by the hour just by playing with a ball in her cage. Then there were also the three cubs, just five weeks old, that made their debut in Hartford. They were too young to play much but they came in for plenty of attention as the youngest triplet cubs ever exhibited.

At the same time, mature bears are highly regarded as a game animal by the sporting public and inquiries being received at the Bureau of Information indicate that many non-resident hunters intend coming to New Brunswick to take advantage of the complimentary bear hunting license during the coming spring.

Two-Day

Investigation of the last year in the control of the brown heart disease affecting Swede turnips. So far it has been shown consistently that brown heart may be controlled by the application of 10 to 15 pounds of common borax to the acre, when applied in the row, it was reported. Mr. Bailey pointed out that the committee has proved conclusively also that the residual effect of borax in the soil is not likely to have injurious effects on succeeding crops.

The committee has plans for tests that will be made to determine if brown heart can be controlled by spraying the turnip tops during development so that the boron may be absorbed through the leaves as well as by the root system.

The whole system of control of the two turnip diseases will be dealt with shortly at Ottawa by the central committee, presided over by Dr. E. S. Archibald, director of experimental farms in Canada. Mr. Cox will attend this meeting as a representative of the Maritime committee.

New Treatment

"In my report last year it will be found that the rate has risen from 186 in 1934 to 293 in 1935; this has now increased to 341. This increase has still further increased the demands on our medical, nursing and office staff and the very facilities afforded by the new wards naturally have made still further demands on the staff as we are now able to apply many treatments and procedures which formerly had to be omitted. In addition just before the year ended I decided that some new treatments which had been developed at Vienna were showing such promise as to make it necessary for me to enable the people of New Brunswick to profit by their introduction in the Provincial Hospital and this again has made new demands on our staff. Indeed they could not have been given had we not first introduced our medical staff.

I wish particularly to acknowledge here our debt to Dr. W. D. McDonald of Saint John. As our visiting specialist in Metabolism Dr. McDonald gave a great deal of time and skill in helping us to successfully carry on this new work. As I write this report the public is comparatively unaware of what is being done but arrangements are being made to give this treatment wide publicity in the United States and by the time this report is in the hands of the citizens of New Brunswick many of them will be vaguely aware of the existence of something new in the treatment of the insane."

Public Accounts

stitutions. He expressed the opinion that the system should be based proportionately on amounts paid to the hospitals by municipalities, as well as regards the number of patients in the respective institutions.

Crown Land Bonuses

The system of crown land bonuses was explained by G. W. Prince, deputy minister of lands and mines, who answered questions of committee members in that connection. The bonus applies to every square mile of crown land in the province under timber or pulp licenses, he said.

In connection with the governmental bonuses to deep sea fishermen in this province, C. H. Blakeny, M.L.A., Moncton, requested to know why the provincial government established the system in view of the fact that the federal government makes provision for this phase of the fishing industry. It was explained that the 'system' was instituted as a relief measure.

J. G. Boucher, M.L.A., Edmundston objected to Mr. Blakeny's questions, contending that the committee was not meeting for the purpose of discussing governmental policy. The chairman was in accord with the view expressed by Mr. Boucher.

The committee adjourned shortly after 11 o'clock. J. A. Doucet, M.L.A. was chairman.

He was sentenced five years on each charge in the Maritime Penitentiary at Dorchester, the sentences to run concurrently.

The beaver builds

A beaver colony, by instinct and experience, builds its home so that the sleeping quarters are clear of any sudden rise of waters.

The beaver never relies on anyone's gossip. He examines the river banks and notes the history of water levels. Only after he knows the safety factor does he start to place his sticks and plaster.

Financial investors have to face the same hazard of a "flood line"; and its presence or absence may be quickly determined before making commitments.

No grown-up beaver acts on a hunch, but thousands of 'securities buyers' treat pre-vision and pre-caution as non-essentials.

Knowledge and commonsense should be the advance guards of every investment programme. We invite you to make full and free use of our facilities for accurate analysis and to regard our staff as genuinely interested in your financial advancement.
