WHYS AND OTHERWISE

AS SEEN BY H. L. G.

We speak of skiing today, but with out tongue in our cheeks, and an apology. But just because there isn't any snow to speak of is no reason to believe there isn't going to be any, is there? Besides something will have to be done about those grand pair of skis that somebody gave somebody else for Christmas. So even if you can only anticipate for the rest of the winter here's some "dents" for lover of this great winter sport to mull over:

Ski experts are being besieged for advice on the fine points of executing the crouch, the slalom, downhill and the big jump. More important for the American skier, because he is young at the sport, is to learn to ski safely. This is the belief of a widely known authority on skiing, who holds a Swiss championship and who served with the famous Alpine troops at Andernatt on ski-duty, during the World War.

Safety "dents," he believes are simpler for drivers than for skiers, because in the case of the skier much depends on the individual. What one skier can do, because he is built to accomplish it, another skier would find disastrous. The discussion which has occupied professionals—to telemark or not to telemark on American trails—is a matter of the skill of the skier, and of snow conditions.

There is a correct and an incorrect way to fall. The right way is to land on your side, not on your back. And the worst possible way to fall, when you feel yourself slipping, is to sit down. For if you hit a rock on your down-hill course, while in a sitting position, there is danger of injuring your spine.

Knowing how to avoid falling is even more important. The most dangerous spills are those when your legs go apart. If you find yourself losing balance, the answer is—keep your knees bent and keep one leg forward. This sounds obvious, perhaps, but it is sound advice, since the principle of keeping one leg forward is the same principle of balance that you have learned on the subway or on a moving train. With your two legs apart, you may stagger around, but by putting one leg forward, you regain balance.

If, while skiing, you seem destined to flop, then, keeping your knees still bent, turn the points of your skis the way you are leaning to fall—just as a bicyclist turns his front wheel in the direction he is tending to fall. This is the advice of the expert. In this position, the chances are that your knees and hips will bring you back into position and thus you will avoid the fall. In terms of physics, it is a matter of keeping the base under the center of mass, while the momentum of your body straightens you up.

In general, the rules of safe skiing are, according to this expert: cultivate confidence, stand on the full sole, get used to speed, and see that you keep one leg forward for balance.

What Fans Should Know About the Hockey Rules

Below is another of a daily summary of the rules of ice hockey, as drawn up by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, and which apply to all amateur hockey in the Maritimes, including intercollegiate and high school hockey. The Daily Mail is presenting these rules in order that the ordinary fan may be well informed on plays as they happen and the regulations now in practice. The rules follow:

Anti-Defence Rules

10. Not more than three players, including goalkeeper, of the defending side may stand in their defending zone before the attacking side carries the puck into that zone. Should a team violate this rule it shall incur a minor penalty for each infraction, the penalty to be imposed on the fourth player entering the defending zone. The referee must allow such a play to be completed before penalising the defending club and if a goal is scored by the attacking club under such conditions the goal shall be allowed and a penalty shall not be imposed.

11. The puck must at all time be kept in motion. Except to carry the puck behind its goal once, a side in possession of the puck in its own defence area shall always advance the puck towards the opposing goal, except if it shall be prevented from so doing by players of the opposing side. A minor penalty shall be imposed on a player violating this rule.

11a. A player beyond his defence area shall not pass or carry the puck backward into his defence area for the purpose of delaying the game.

For an infringement of this rule the referee shall order a face-off ten feet in front of goal.

11b. No defending player, except the goalkeeper, shall be permitted to fall on the puck to prevent it being reached by an opponent. Goalkeepers must not use this method of stopping the puck in areas outside of 10 feet from the goal net. For infringement of this rule play shall immediately be stopped and a penalty shot as in Rule 27 shall be ordered.

Holding Puck by Goalkeepers

12. No goalkeeper shall be permitted to hold the puck with his hands or arms. He may catch the puck in his hand but must clear immediately and must not throw the puck forward toward his opponents' goal. For infringement of this rule a penalty shot shall be awarded against the offender. (See Rule 27.)

If a goalkeeper is removed from the ice to serve a penalty the manager of the club shall appoint a substitute and the referee shall be advised of the name of the substitute appointed. The substitute goalkeeper shall be subject to the rules governing goalkeepers and have the same privileges, except wearing the pads.

Interference with Goalkeeper

12a. If a player of the attacking side not in possession of the puck stands at or near the goal of the defending side, in what is known as the crease area, and a goal is scored, then the goal shall be disallowed and the referee shall order a face-off at a point five feet beyond the line marking the defending zone of the defending side.

The crease area shall be rectangular in shape. The line between the goal-posts shall be extended one foot from each goal-post, then from these points lines shall be drawn at right angles to a point five feet from the goal-line in the direction of centre ice. A line parallel to the goal-line shall be drawn to connect these two points, making in all a rectangular area eight feet by five feet. The line shall be one and a half inches wide and shall be colored.

A goalkeeper may stop a shot in any way he chooses, except by throwing his stick, but must not hold the puck and must not pass forward with his hand but may pass it laterally or backward with his hands. Penalty as in Rule 27.

"IMAGINATION" IS HIS AVOWED QUALIFICATION

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Jan. 9—Armand Charon, 18-year-old local carpet factory employee who has never seen a college football game, has applied for the position of head football coach at North Carolina State College.

Weighing only 120 pounds, this five-foot-eight youngster has never played much football himself, due to his light weight and a broken arm suffered in childhood. However, he is a most enthusiastic fan, having studied football plays "as long as he can remember."

Interviewed today, he declared he was perfectly serious about seeking the North Carolina job. He said he realized he would need a staff of assistants, but expected to supply most of the brain-work himself.

Asked what he considered his one main qualification for the job, he answered simply: "my imagination."

In a general way, he said, the "Charon system" of football strategy that he has evolved is a combination of the Rockne and Warner styles, plus a lot of his own developments.

WIFE OF LATE "CHUCK" GARDNER ON AIR TONIGHT

A message to junior hockey players from Mrs. Gardiner, wife of the late "Chuck" Gardner of Chicago Black Hawks will be brought to the microphone by Herb Roberts, guest commentator on the Imperial Oil Hockey Broadcast next Saturday night.

One of Canada's pioneer announcers, and programme director of CKY, Winnipeg, Roberts was a close personal friend of "Chuck." During 12 years before the microphone he has described many sports events, including hockey, baseball, swimming, tennis, soccer, football, badminton and horseracing. Incidentally, Roberts was co-announcer with Foster Hewitt on the first network broadcast of the Allen Cup finals from Winnipeg, Coast-to-Coast, fans, therefore, are likely to hear a number of interesting reminiscences when he is interviewed by Perce LeSueur.

With the league-leading Canadiens providing the opposition for Leafs at Maple Leaf Gardens, it looks as if Foster Hewitt will have a busy evening before the Gondola microphone. At the close of the game, Roberts will be asked to select and introduce the three stars of the evening.

ENGLISH HOCKEY

LONDON, Jan. 9—Earlscourt Royals, cellar team in the National League, defeated Harringway Racers, the runners-up, by 4-3 in a hockey game last night. Wembley Monarchs won 1-0 from Manchester Rapids in another contest.

A Welsh of Regina and Haves each scored two goals in the Royals' victory while Len Burrough of Winnipeg got three for Racers and C. Kerr the other.

ASSISTANT FOR BRANCH RICKEY

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 7—Branch Rickey, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, announced the appointment of Robert L. Finch as vice-president of all Cardinal minor-league baseball clubs.

Finch, who has resigned his position as business manager of athletics at St. Louis University, will assume his new duties next week. He will assist Rickey in operating the far-flung Cardinal farm clubs.

A graduate of Drake University, Finch was general alumni secretary there for eleven years. For five and a half years he was connected with St. Louis U., coaching the baseball team the last two years in addition to his other duties. For seven years following his graduation he was a minister at Marysville, and Kansas City, Mo., and Milwaukee.

TOMMY TO GIANTS

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—New York Giants today announced the purchase of infielder Tommy Thevenow from Cincinnati Reds. Thevenow will be assigned the utility role filled last season by Mark Koenig who was given his unconditional release.

Gulls Move Into Second Place -- Maroons Beat St. Croix by 7-5 Tally.

SAINT JOHN, Jan. 9—Saint John Seagulls moved into second place in the Southern New Brunswick Hockey League last night at The Forum here when they mowed down the Fredericton Capitals 8-2 while Moncton Maroons were forced to the limit to beat St. Croix 7-5 in overtime at the border town.

The game here produced some nice combination plays in the initial session, fast skating and puck handling in the second and plenty of ragged hockey in the third, particularly on the part of the Capitals.

Gulls started out with a determination to triumph and had much the better of the play in the first session and crashed through for three goals while they held Fredericton players helpless. In the second Capitals broke down and besides checking Gulls they fired in their first goal of the night. It was a walkover in the third for the Gulls who scored five to Caps' one.

Monday night here the Seagulls will be at full strength for their tussle with the league-leading Moncton Maroons, now well out in front by their victory at St. Stephen last night.

The game was not as spirited as the ones played between the old rivals on former occasions. It was a replay of the Dec. 18 game which was ordered by the league president, Saint John having used an unofficial referee on that date.

Keep Game in Hand

Perhaps there were no fireworks because referees "wick" James of Moncton and Joe Rayne of Saint John kept the game well in hand, although several penalties were handed out.

Saint John went on the offensive from the opening gong but it was not until Mills was chased to the box for holding and copping that the Gulls could score their first counter.

Less than a minute later Sharpe barged in and caught another rebound off Young's pass for the Gulls second goal.

The second session was the fastest of the three. While the Capitals held the Gulls scoreless they managed to fire in their first marker of the night but it didn't come until well after the half-way mark had been reached.

Haddie Mills beat Lynch when he had no chance at all, his defence having deserted him to follow the puck-carrier behind the net. Mills was planted right in front of the cage and he caught the loose puck and drove it home.

Saint John endeavored to stretch their margin in the early minutes of the period when the McLenahan brothers, "Bus" and "Bun" were with the timers. Their rushes were checked and broken up and they were weak in shooting when in scoring position.

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., Jan. 8—Moncton Maroons continued their victorious march in the Southern New Brunswick Hockey League here tonight but only after an over-time session did the St. Croix bow to the league-leaders 7-5.

The victory placed Maroons well out in the lead in the standing and the loss for St. Croix relegated them to third position, one point behind Saint John Seagulls, who won their replay of Dec. 18 from Fredericton Capitals at Saint John 8-2.

Perry defeated him in their match in New York's Madison Square Garden Wednesday night.

Dutton Lays Charge of "Non-Sportsmanship" Against Rangers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—Manhattan's hockey fans waged heated verbal warfare last night over what manager Red Dutton of the National League Americans termed New York Rangers' "heartlessness" when they plastered Amerks with a 7-1 defeat in the intra-city series on Tuesday night.

The game ended with the Amerks suffering another body-blow when little Roy Worters, veteran Amerk goalkeeper, was helped into the dressing room suffering from hernia. He will be operated on shortly and will be lost to his team for the season at least. Worters had not been well for some time.

After the game manager Dutton charged the Gotham Blueshirts showed no heart, that they knew Worters was suffering intense pain, yet kept beating the puck into the American cage.

Lester Patrick head of the Rangers, retorted his team was totally unaware of Worters' injury—which did not become pronounced until late in the third frame following a pileup at the losing team's goalmouth.

Dutton's suggestion that Rangers should have taken matters easy sent hockey's silver-fox into a tantrum.

"We always try to give the fans their money's worth," he said. "Neither myself nor my players knew Worters' predicament but even if we had, would it have been our right to lay back? It certainly would not. The fans pay to see a show and a hockey match. Rangers will always try to provide them with both regardless of obstacles."

Dutton entrained for New Haven today to watch his Inter-American League farm team play. He hopes to get reinforcements for his badly shattered club. Red Doran, defenceman, brought up from New Haven a few weeks ago was sent back and several other Americans will be disposed of and replacements brought in. Dutton said.

BOXING ON THE CONTINENT

PARIS, Jan. 9—Arno Koblin of Germany and the veteran Pierre Charles of France were designated yesterday by the International Boxing Union as official challengers for the European heavyweight boxing championship, recently declared vacant. They were instructed to meet within 61 days.

The I.B.U. ignored Primo Carnera of Italy, Max Schmeling of Germany and Andre Lenglet of France because they have boxed mostly in the United States.

JEWISH GOLFERS ARE BARRED FROM BERLIN CLUBS

BERLIN, Jan. 9—German Jews, have been barred from golf clubs, the Government disclosed today.

All Jews were ousted from country clubs just before Christmas, officials said. They will be allowed to play only on their own private courses.

The Wannsee Club, near Berlin, lost 200 members.

Venturi Holds Ambers to Draw

NEW YORK, Jan. 8—Enrico Venturi, Italian lightweight stylist, served notice he is a candidate for 135-pound honors tonight by holding champion Lon Ambers to a draw in a 10 round over-the-weight bout in Madison Square Garden tonight. Ambers weighed 136 and Venturi 138 1-4.

STRIKE SITUATION WILL AFFECT FORD FACTORIES

(Special to The Daily Mail)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 8—The strike situation in the United States is becoming more serious. Five more factories have become involved. The total number of strikers is now 50,000 and will probably be spreading to the Ford Body Factories.

Ford Frick Grants Pay Increases for New Year's Contracts --- What "His Umps" Think

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—Ford Frick, president of the National League, made it known today that he has increased the salaries of the twelve umpires on his staff and that most of them have returned their 1937 contracts signed. A few days ago William Harridge, president of the American League, announced his twelve arbiters had been granted rises in pay and the news from Harridge's office prompted an inquiry at Frick's headquarters. Is the National League going to stand pat on umpires' salaries for next year?

"Oh, no," answered Frick. "We sent 1937 contracts to our umpires about ten days ago and each man on the staff received an increase in pay. The American League hasn't anything on us when it comes to compensating the umpires. I don't know for sure, but I think we sent out contracts calling for pay increases to our umpires before the American League mailed out its new contracts."

Frick was asked if he had heard from any of his arbiters since the documents were put in the mails.

"We have heard from about two-thirds of them and all were satisfied with salary terms," he said. "No, I don't like to reveal the identity of the umpires who have not yet returned signed contracts. Some of the umpires live out on the Pacific Coast and it is too soon to hear from them. Bill Stewart is one of the fellows who have returned signed contracts. You know, Bill is officiating in hockey games and the day after he received his contract he was in town to work a game in Madison Square Garden, so he dropped into my office and delivered his signed contract."

SOPWITH'S CHALLENGER HERE IN MAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 9—Endeavour II, T. O. M. Sopwith's challenger for the America's Cup, will leave Gosport for New York early in May, the New York Times reported today. She will be accompanied by Endeavor I, the old challenger against whom she will race before the cup contest.

It is still possible that Endeavour I may represent Great Britain in the series as, according to The Times, Sopwith is uncertain which of the two boats is superior. A combination of bad weather and racing mishaps to Endeavour II last summer prevented effective comparison. The rules of the competition may require only that the challenging boat be announced not less than thirty days before the match.

Neither boat will race in England before leaving. Mr. Sopwith said he hoped the two boats would have six weeks of sailing on this side before the cup series begins July 31.

The coast of sending out Endeavour I as a trial boat is being borne by a syndicate of British yachtsmen.

Klem Heard From, Too

Did Frick hear from Bill Klem, the dean of his staff?

"Now that you've asked, the answer is yes," he replied. "He accompanied his signed contract with a note informing me he has recovered from the accident he had last October. He fell and suffered a fractured arm. He's down in Miami and will be ready for another season when the bell rings. Bill has been in the league a long time and still is one of the most efficient umpires in the majors."

Klem surely has been around a long time. He broke into the National League as an umpire way back in 1904 and has been active ever since. He is coming up for what will be his thirty-fourth consecutive season as an arbiter in the circuit. Think of that! Bill has been through thirty-three campaigns as an official. What interesting tales of the diamond he can unfold! His bitter verbal clashes with such fiery characters as Johnny Evers, Frank Chance and John McGraw. Memories of the fierce rivalry which prevailed in clashes between Chance's Cubs and McGraw's Giants still linger with Klem. He officiated in many a hard-fought battle waged by the two teams. Klem remembers the famous play-off game between the Giants and Cubs in 1908 on which the league championship hinged. Bill worked in that game which saw the Cubs beat Matty.

In all of his years as an umpire Klem never was struck by a ball batted into fair territory. He is mighty proud of that record, too, and well he might be. It is absolute proof that he was alert and never took his eyes off a ball through all of the games, too numerous to calculate, in which he rendered decisions on the infield and had to stay around the bases.
