

Fredericton Takes Lead In Maritimes-Eastern Maine Bowling Tournament

Capital Pinbusters Score 10 Victories

Halifax Trundlers Still In Running

SAINT JOHN, May 7—Swinging along the victory trail that leads to the bowling supremacy of the Maritimes and Eastern Maine the Palace Alleys five of Fredericton were on top of the heap last night with the goal in sight.

Their 10 victories and one loss gave them a margin of one triumph over the star Conn and Martel team of Halifax which they meet today in what promises to be a thriller and which may decide the championship and the holders of the Brunswick-Balke-Collander trophy for the next year.

Conn and Martel with nine wins and one defeat will have one less chance of winning than Fredericton due to the fact that they play three times today in the windup of the tournament to the Capital five's twice. Where "Marty's" men must win all three and Fredericton their remaining two to be perfectly sure of the championship it looms up as a mighty duel down the home stretch.

Fredericton had to hurdle Porter's and Y.M.C.I. last night to take the tournament lead. They came through in the six o'clock schedule to upset Porter's by 42 pins and then go on at 8 o'clock for a tough battle with the Y.M.C.I. which they won by four pins.

With Porter's the Capitals took the lead in the first string by a margin of 34. Porter's came back to cut the advantage 21 pins but faltered in the third as Fredericton headed them in by 29. Duffy was high in the game with 345.

Palace Alleys took a lead in the opening string of 13 pieces of maple. The "Y" five cut the edge in the second to three pins by coming out 10 to the good and in the third had a one-pin margin for the victory.

Horncastle and Allen arrived yesterday from the Capital when the Palace Alleys crew sent out a call for reserves but both were low but the others held up their end enough to make it a Fredericton victory.

One of the upsets came in the 5 o'clock schedule when Sydney met defeat at the hands of the Dartmouth five. Dartmouth had an edge of 17 pins in the total scores.

Up to that time Sydney had an outside chance of winning as they had but two defeats.

Conn and Martel made good in both their games yesterday to remain absolutely in the running.

The tale will be told today and it will be either Fredericton or Conn and Martel.

SCHMEILING HINTS HE'LL SUE—SQUEAKS FROM SPORT CORRIDORS

NEW YORK, May 6—Just as everyone suspected, Max Schmeiling hints he'll do a bit of suing if Jimmy Brad-dock isn't waiting at the gate of the Madison Square Garden bowl the night of June 3. . . . His friends are telling Tony Canzoneri he is under-rating Lou Ambers plenty too much. . . . Heavyweight Hans Kohlhas has retired to become a truck driver. . . . Over in Brooklyn they call umpire Larry Goetz (Burlleigh Grimes' pal) Larry Guess. . . . Ouch! By the time you read this, Judge Guy Fake of Newark, may have said his piece anent the heavyweight situation.

The current Detroit toast is outfielder Gerald Walker. . . . Jimmy Caroli, St. Louis bookmaker, will drop a fortune if either Reaping Reward or War Admiral is home first in the Derby. . . . He is loaded on both, with odds as high as 15 to 1 on Reaping Reward and 12 to 1 on War Admiral. . . . Today War Admiral is the favorite at 3 to 1, with Reaping Reward the leading second shot at 4 to 1. . . . Happiest bookie of 'em all is Benny Davis of New York, now that Mrs. Parker Corning's Up and Doing is listed as a non-starter. . . . Benny had laid $60,000 against $60 on the colt, or 1,000 to 1.

Get out the bunting. . . . The Baltimore Orioles finally ended their 10-game losing streak. . . . (and had a five-run scoring rally, too). . . . Earl Sande is irked because he can't find jockeys to ride his two Derby entries. . . . Old Earl may have to climb into that saddle himself. . . . Does it pay to be good: Shanty Hogan, who boiled, worried and dieted 40 pounds off this spring, winds up with Indianapolis, and Hazen Cuyler, who doesn't drink, smoke or stay out late, strikes out with the bases loaded.

There is a possibility (its hardly more than that, yet), that the Garden will leave its fight privileges next season, with James J. Johnston, present Garden matchmaker, having the inside track. . . . Judge Landis' favorite slang word is "bully." . . . What pitchers are doing to some of the big shot hitters in the National Baseball League is a shame. . . . Just look at the averages. . . . Hank Leiber is hitting less than .100 and lots of others are sporting marks they don't care to write home about. . . . British golfers have voted down the 14-club limit proposal which the U.S.G.A. puts into effect next year.

INTIMATES MPB WILL FOSTER OWN HOCKEY IN '37-38

AMHERST, N. S., May 6—Making the intimation that the Maritime Province Branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada would foster its own hockey during the winter of 1937-38 President Tom MacDonald made a literal declaration of war against the Maritime Amateur Hockey Association and its parent body, the C.A.H.A., during the course of the semi-annual meeting of the Maritime Province Branch of the A.A.U.C. here today.

Mr. MacDonald stated that hockey would be fostered in all three provinces and controlled by provincial committees. It was a slimly attended meeting and William Rector of the Springhill A.A.A. stated that it was not the time to discuss hockey as clubs that regularly gave their support to the winter game were not in attendance. Sheriff C. D. Shipley entered into

AMBERS PROVES BIG RING TEST FOR CANZONERI

NEW YORK, May 6—The changes that can take place in the grim business of boxing in so short a time as a year may be shown Friday night when Tony Canzoneri climbs into the Madison Square Garden ring to try to regain the lightweight crown from Herkimer Lou Ambers.

It was only a year ago the game little guy with a flattened nose and a fighting heart as big as a heavyweight's was at the top of his profession. He was the only fighter who ever had lost a title and regained it, and he had been winning a fight a month for over a year.

Despite his long years of ring service Tony was believed to be at his peak after trouncing the bigger and harder-hitting Vancouver celt, Jimmy McLarnin, in a 10-rounder.

At the same time Ambers, who had fought Canzoneri and lost to him in the bout that decided the title award after Barney Ross abandoned the lightweight division, was just the fellow who was to get another crack at the crown. He was regarded as too inexperienced and inept and too light a hitter to have a real chance against Tony.

Now the situation is reversed. Ambers won the title when he and Canzoneri finally met last September. He's gained in stature as champion and in confidence since then. And the fans, who still have an affectionate regard for Canzoneri, are wondering if he really needs the money badly enough to risk a beating and possible injury by fighting Lou again.

The discussions and characterized the development measures of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Associations as "a racket," pointing out the cost of membership, playing certificates and other fees as the basis of his argument. He also referred to the expenses received by teams as well as officials and included it all under his classification.

William Whitlock of St. Stephen took humorous exception to the remarks of the sheriff stating that no mention had been made of a "racket" while the two sports were pulling harmoniously.

As a result of the announcement made by President MacDonald it is now expected that the annual meeting will provide a heated controversy with regard to the hockey arrangements. Following the meeting various delegates frankly presented the opinion that the Maritimes were intent upon Allan cup and Memorial cup competitions.

Three Teams Tied for American League Lead

Tigers, Yankees, Red Sox Deadlocked

NEW YORK, May 6—The Tigers collected 12 hits good for 30 bases today and walloped New York Yankees 12-6 in Detroit and went into a tie with the world champions and Boston Red Sox for first place in the American Baseball League.

Tommy Bridges went the route for the Tigers and was touched for 12 hits, but his mates twice came from behind to pull out the game.

Leading the attack were Hank Greenberg and Mickey Cochrane, each of whom belted a homer. Greenberg also hammered a double and a triple into the outfield, driving in four runs. Monte Weaver held Cleveland Indians to three hits until the eighth inning when young Roy Weatherly, Cleveland outfielder, stepped forward with Lyn Lary on base and rifled a home run over the right field wall, helping the Indians to a 4-2 victory over Washington.

The Indians were trailing, 2-1, when Weatherly came to bat. The Indians scored another run in the 8th on Earl Averill's walk. Trosky's single and Solter's long fly.

Bunching four of their seven hits for all their runs in the eighth inning, Philadelphia Athletics defeated the White Sox 3-1 today to sweep the two-game series. It was the fifth straight loss for the Chicagoans.

In St. Louis, the Browns outdid the Boston Red Sox, but Johnny Marcum was tight in the pinches and Boston won 2-1 for Marcum's third consecutive season victory. The Sox entered a tie with New York and Detroit for the league lead.

Joe Vosmik drove in Sammy West with the only St. Louis run in the seventh. Boston's two runs, scored by Cramer and Manager Joe Cronin, came in the fourth.

Cubs Sweep Series

NEW YORK, May 6—The Cubs swept a three-game series with the Phillies today, winning 1-0, in a game in Philadelphia called at the end of the fifth because of rain.

The lone run was scored in the fifth. Galan singled, Frey sacrificed. "Rip" Colling then doubled to left scoring Galan. Other than this Claude Passeau held the Cubs in check.

Pittsburgh Pirates' four-game winning streak ended abruptly as the Dodgers, at home, landed on "Red" Lucas for seven runs in a fifth inning uprising and went on to a 9-5 victory.

Al Todd's homer in the sixth gave Pittsburgh their first run.

OUT OF TOWN CANDIDATES SEEK PLACES

MONTREAL, May 6—Atwater Park will be stamping ground for the largest number of out-of-town ball players for many years according to the list of prospects lining up with each team in the City Senior Amateur Baseball League and Montreal Intermediate Amateur Baseball League.

Shamrocks came up with three new men who will be starting tomorrow night at the Notre Dame Stadium when Alfie Bryant sends the west-enders through their workout. Dick Smith, catcher, and Bob Winters, infielder, both from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at Boston and Pete Martin from the Eastern Townships.

Shamrocks two teams will work out, and from the line-up of candidates, the Irish club will present its strongest teams in several years.

Abe Ellowitz put Y.M.H.A. candidates through a heavy workout last night at Fletcher's Field, and among the prospects, was Harry Bateman, a tall left-handed pitcher who hails from Saskatoon and who showed good form on the mound to make it look as if the Blue Sox will have the flinging class of the league with Bernie Ziff, right-hander and Al Herman, south-paw to do the tossing chores.

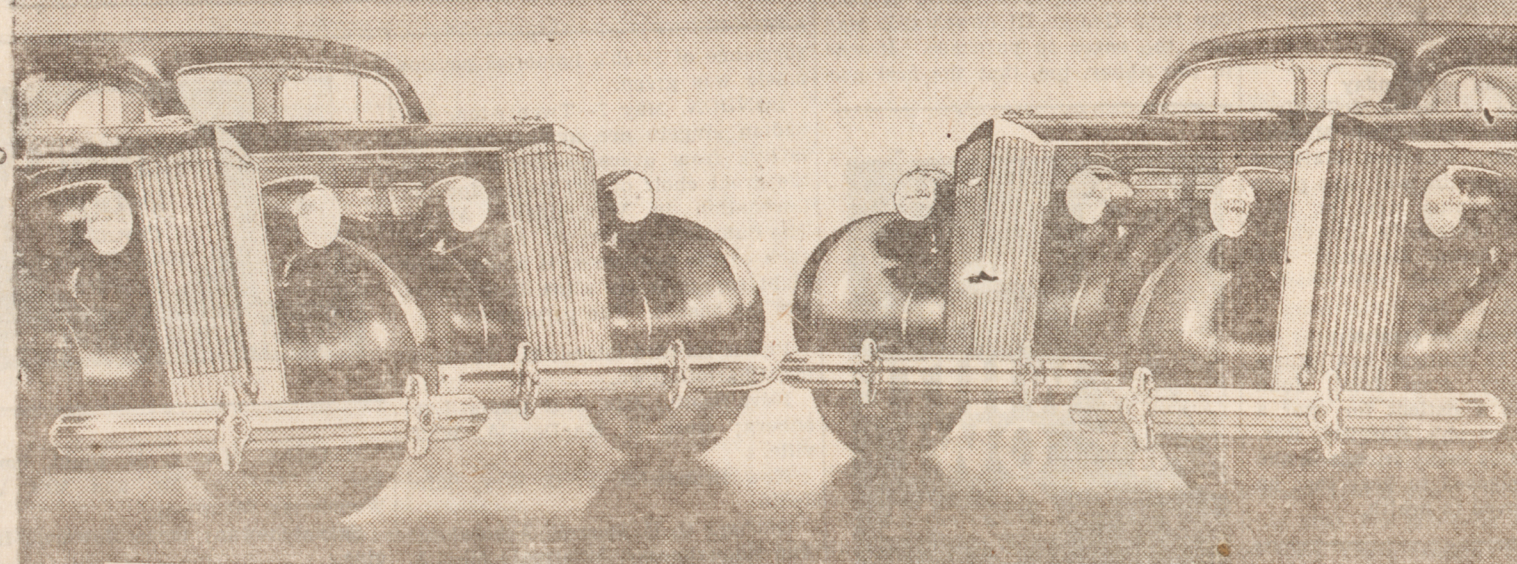

Clarry Booth is working on plans for Notre Dame de Grace Indians and has hooks out for several players, some of whom are making their debut in local baseball.

Freddy Gibson, Freddy Rice and Neil Price, outfielders are expected. Ewan Carr and Jerry Heffernan, infielders are counted on for another season. "Oke" Olson is on the list of candidates to appear at the first drill, likely on Saturday.

Johnny Pope, who cavorted in Montreal amateur rings for several years and on the mound for teams in Atwater Park, will be a member of the Dopolavore Intermediate team this season. The former Shamrock heavier was signed by President Louis Pascale last night for the Mallan squad mound staff.

Cincinnati Reds won their first series of the season by whipping the Giants 4-0 behind "Lefty" Lee Grieson's five-hit, pitching.
