

WE MUST DEDICATE OURSELVES TO THE CAUSE OF PEACE SO THAT THEY WHO DIED SHALL NOT HAVE DIED IN VAIN

Address of Major C. A. Kimmins, Salvation Army, Features Remembrance Day Service at Cenotaph — Many Wreaths Placed — Veterans Decorate the Graves After the Parade

"Thousands of crosses in Flanders Fields and in our own Dominion mark the graves of the men in whose memory we are gathered today, the men who gave their lives for the cause of peace. Unless we take the torch and dedicate our lives to the cause for which they sacrificed, these men will have died in vain." These words, spoken by Major C. A. Kimmins of the Salvation Army, president of the Fredericton-Devon Ministerial Association, were part of the address in which he extolled the great and unselfish sacrifice of those who laid down their lives for King and Country, and pleaded for continual peace among the nations of the world, at the Remembrance Day ceremonies at the Cenotaph.

A large gathering was present. Beautiful weather bolstering the attendance. About 250 members of the local Branch, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. and other ex-service men marched in a body to the Cenotaph, led by a uniformed colour party and the Carleton and York Regiment Band. The Guard of Honour at the entrance to the Cenotaph was composed of the standard bearers of the six City Chapters, Imperial Order, Daughters of the Empire.

Delivered Opening Address

His Worship, G. Willard Kitchen Mayor of the City of Fredericton

Graves Decorated

His Worship Mayor G. Willard Kitchen delivered the opening address on behalf of the City of Fredericton. Following the address of Major Kimmins many beautiful wreaths were placed on the Cenotaph in memory of those who suffered and died for the empire. At the close of the ceremonies the ex-service men paraded back to the Legion grounds where they disbanded, following which small parties of Legionnaires proceeded to the different cemeteries where the graves of 134 Fredericton men who served in the Great War and who have since passed on were decorated with a flag and poppy.

The ceremonies opened with the playing of "O Canada" by the Carleton and York Regiment Band, following which Mayor Kitchen delivered his address. His Worship pointed out that in spite of the present extremely unsettled political, economic and social conditions in the world, if it were possible to instill the thoughts of those who went through the last world conflagration into the minds of the present generation, another war would be impossible.

This address was followed by the hymn, "O God Our Help In Ages Past." Comrade, Very Rev. Dean W. H. Moorhead gave the Scripture reading, taking a passage 1-Peter, first portion of Chapter 2. Dean Moorhead then led the gathering in two memorial prayers, asking that the peace for which these men sacrificed continue, and that good-will be in the hearts of all in the world.

Two Minutes' Silence

At two minutes to eleven a field piece on the green opposite the Cenotaph roared forth, proclaiming silence in memory of the men who lie "beneath the crosses, row on row." At the stroke of eleven the gun blasted the silence, but heads remained bowed and throughout the crowd, here and there, eyes filled with tears as dear and familiar names were called and answered by the silence of the dead, when the Roll of Honour was read by Comrade Herbert Endall.

The placing of wreaths followed the address by Major Kimmins, after which the band played the hymn "Abide With Me." Comrade, Rev. E. E. Fytche pronounced the benediction.

Bagler John Forrester sounded "Last Post" as the colours lowered, and the four uniformed guards-of-honour on the Cenotaph stood with arms reversed. As "Reveille" was sounded by Trumpeter Sgt. Fred Mc-

Morris, the colours were again raised and the guard stood at 'present arms.' The ceremonies came to a close with the singing of 'God Save The King.'

Many Beautiful Wreaths

DRIVER WHO FAILED TO DIM LIGHTS RESPONSIBLE FOR DEATH OF MRS. WM. H. VRADENBURG, SAYS CORONER M'KAY

Jury Exonerates A. T. Snodgrass, Saint John, By Bringing In Verdict of "Accidental Death" at Inquest Wednesday Night — Five Witnesses Submit Evidence

"One witness I would like to have tonight, but unfortunately we can't identify him and bring him into court, is the driver who meets another car on the road at night and does not dim his lights. He is the man who is responsible, I believe, for the death we are inquiring into. If we could deal with those people and bring them into court, we could lay charges of manslaughter that would tick!"

Thus in part, Coroner Dr. Charles MacKay addressed the coroner's jury on Wednesday night, inquiring into the death of Mrs. William H. Vradenburg, who died last Sunday as a result of injuries received when she was struck by an automobile driven by Aubrey T. Snodgrass, of Saint John, near the Experimental Station on October 29. A verdict of accidental death was brought in, and Mr. Snodgrass exonerated.

Five Witnesses

Five witnesses were called: Dr. A. S. Van Wart, who attended the injured lady, Mr. Snodgrass, Thomas

G. Hetherington, John M. F. MacKenzie, and Robert McKinley.

The evidence of Dr. Van Wart related mainly of the extent of the injuries of Mrs. Vradenburg. Other witnesses told of the poor visibility in driving that night, while the evidence of Messrs. Hetherington and MacKenzie told principally of the scene of the accident.

Robert McKinley, the driver of the bus on which the deceased had been driving, testified that he had let Mrs. Vradenburg out at the Experimental Station side-road.

Mr. Snodgrass stated that he met a car at that point, which was between 60 and 100 feet below the side-road, and as the car did not dim its lights he did not see the deceased until she stepped out in front of the car as though to cross to the other side of the highway. He slammed on his brakes and swerved the car but could not avoid striking her.

First Accident

The car stopped within the length of itself, the witness testified. He pointed out that he has been driving a car for 18 years—25,000 miles per year—and had never before had a serious accident. The remaining part of his evidence told of taking the victim to the hospital after having notified her relatives, and reporting the accident to both the R.C.M.P. and the city police.

In summing up the evidence, Dr. MacKay stated that he did not believe that negligence on the part of the driver could be found. He stated that the only mystery in his mind was why Mrs. Vradenburg was below the side-road and why she started out across the highway when the home of her daughter, Mrs. MacKenzie, whom she was going to visit, was on the side of the highway which she had gotten out of the bus.

C. L. Dougherty was counsel for Mr. Snodgrass.

The members of the jury were as follows:

Cecil Burt, Robert Stevenson, Selby Locke, Howard Blair, Warren Maxwell, A. J. Ryan, E. C. Armstrong and Joseph Cain.

NEW YORK FAILS TO SEE LONDON

But Laboratory Did Pick Up Noises of British Television

NEW YORK, Nov. 12—Transatlantic television is a new hope for radio's future. Already picture signals originating in London have been picked up here.

At Riverhead, Long Island, reception laboratories have been tuning in on London's radio movies. So far they haven't reproduced a picture, but they have heard both the sound part of the transmission and the musical buzz-saw note of the television signal. To do so they have been using special aerials and an elaborate receiver.
