

MORE HAY, LESS OATS IS FORECAST

Late Seeding Reflected in First Report

The latest seeding in some years is indicated in the first crop report of the season issuing today from the Department of Agriculture. A larger hay crop than last year is forecast while the acreage sown to oats will probably be smaller. The report as issued by the Department is as follows:

Seeding, generally, is the latest over a long term of years. Many farmers in the central, eastern and northern sections of the province have not yet sown any seed whatever. In Carleton county work on the land began the last week of April.

Progress was made during three weeks and a large part of the acreage of oats and potatoes were sown or planted.

The month of April and the first week of May were dry and cold. Hay and pasture made a favorable start and the prospect now is for a large hay crop although clover is scarce, the grass crop being mostly timothy. It is to be expected that the acreage sown to oats will be less than last year as a result of the continued dampness of the fields due to the rains of the last two weeks.

On the first day of June a terrific storm of wind, rain and hail passed over the central part of the province. Near Fredericton fourteen haybarns were blown down and many large trees were uprooted.

British Empire. The speaker dealt with the programmes carried out by the various branches in connection with the observance of the coronation, pointing out that in all cases the auspicious occasion was most fittingly observed by the institutes.

The president referred to the great significance of Education Week, reporting that considerable progress in educational matters had been made during the past year by the organization. She pointed out that the institute endorsed the resolution of the New Brunswick municipalities concerning revaluation, and asked for better facilities for high school pupils in rural districts. In that connection, Mrs. McCain stated that a commission has been appointed by Governor-in-Council, and a special committee was appointed to study rural problems.

It was also pointed out in the presidential address, that the Farmers' and Dairymen's Association made a strong appeal to the government for educational reform, and the association appointed a special committee for rural school problems with a view of making education more along lines of vocational work and giving agriculture a more important place in the curriculum. The Women's Institute have been asked to co-operate in that regard, Mrs. McCain said.

Urges Members

The president urged the members to make every effort in furthering the educational program, asking them never "to stop protesting until the government takes action in the matter of compulsory school attendance." In that connection, Mrs. McCain referred to instances of children growing up absolutely illiterate. "We must never rest until New Brunswick is no longer the most illiterate province, and if we never do anything else, we shall have justified our existence by this one achievement."

Her report continued, in part, as follows: "The scholarship idea was advanced last convention, and your advisory board appointed a committee which met in Sussex, March 24, and drew up recommendations for your consideration. We found it difficult to consolidate the different view points regarding the conditions of the scholarship.

"We have been looking backward and noting progress, and I should be remiss in my duty if we did not have the onward look. We have said many times that all children should have equal opportunities, that idea is growing in popularity, and I believe the day is coming when we will see the establishment of rural high schools, which include courses in academic and vocational work. We must be willing to give our fullest co-operation, forgetting sectionalism and having the foresight to think of future years and view progress rather than think of slight inconveniences."

In closing, she said: "I wish to take this opportunity of thanking the members of the advisory board of provincial conveners, the superintendent, assistant superintendent, Miss LeBlanc and Miss McMullin for their co-operation and help at all times."

The feature of this afternoon's program will be an address by Hon. A. C. Taylor, minister of agriculture. This evening the delegates will be guests of the Fredericton, Devon, New Maryland, Lincoln and Lower Kingsclear Women's Institutes at a supper to be served in the gymnasium of Brunswick Street Baptist Church.

In addition to the service provided by these stations the planes will be able to make full use of the marine radio direction finding facilities already provided along the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the east coast.

The department's marine and civil aviation divisions are laying mooring buoys and making other arrangements off Point Aux Trembles on the St. Lawrence River which will be the landing place at Montreal.

Mr. Howe said Imperial Airways had promised one of their ships would fly from Montreal to Toronto during its stay on this side of the Atlantic. The Toronto visit will probably take place late in the season.

At Botwood a direction finding system is ready to direct the trans-Atlantic planes on their initial flights. It was expected Botwood will be used for experimental flights until completion of a huge airdrome at Gander's Lake, 10 miles away, situated in a fog-free area.

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Guests of Mrs Phillips

Mrs. H. W. Woods formerly of Fredericton now of Welsford, N. B., is the guest of Mrs. Bedford Phillips. Mrs. Woods is a delegate at the provincial Women's Institute which is meeting in the city this week. Tomorrow morning Mrs. Woods will be accompanied by Mrs. Phillips to Moncton where both will attend the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Stars which is meeting in that city. Mrs. Phillips is Grand Chaplain of the Order and Mrs. Woods is its Grand Secretary.

Closing Meeting Season

Governor Carleton Chapter Governor Carleton Chapter I.O.D.E. met last evening at the home of Mrs. Harry Jewett, Charlotte street. As this was the closing meeting for the season no new plans were laid, but reports of various secretaries and convenors of committees were received. The report of the work done among the schools on Empire Day was pleasing. Excellent speakers were heard in the city schools. Books and pictures were presented. Mrs. Harry Robertson, in memory of her husband, gave two full sets of books to the Smythe street school, the school she attended as a child. These were the works of Louis Stevenson and of Bulwar Litton. The report of the catering committee showed that about $90 were added to the treasury from the Coronation Ball. The minutes of the annual meeting were read and noted. These minutes will be the basis of the work in the Chapter when the meetings are resumed in the autumn. A resolution was passed asking the City Council to consider flood lighting the Cenotaph for the summer months, also that the Chapter assist the other Chapters in keeping fresh flowers on the Cenotaph. The executive were given power to conduct any business that may arise during the summer. A very hearty vote of thanks was extended Mrs. Jewett for her sumptuous refreshments and the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

Mrs. McDade Entertained

for Bride-Elect Mrs. George M. McDade entertained at a Wedgewood tea at her residence in Chatham recently in honor of Miss Mary Hogan, whose marriage took place yesterday. Mrs. McDade and Miss Hogan received the guests in the spacious drawing-room, which was attractive with early spring flowers and shaded lights. Mrs. A. J. Losier ushered the guests to the diningroom where the tea table, covered with a beautiful lace cloth, had the hostess' gift to the honor guest artistically arranged with lilies of the valley and sweet peas and placed on a reflector as a centerpiece. Also adorning the table and buffet were silver bowls of lilies of the valley and white candles tied with white satin bows and sprigs of lilies of the valley in silver holders. Mrs. W. L. Hogan and Mrs. C. P. Hickey presided over the tea and coffee cups and those who assisted in serving were Miss Muriel Hickey, Mrs. A. R. Hogan, Miss Helen White, Miss Heloise Losier, Miss Rita Duggan, Miss Mona Skidd and Miss May McEvoy of Newcastle. Master Michael McDade, elder son of the hostess, admitted the guest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Palmer announce the engagement of their daughter Dorothy Jardine to Dr. J. G. Petrie of Montreal, formerly of Newcastle. The marriage will take place on June 29.

Final Rehearsal Cecilian Singers

The final rehearsal and social evening of the Cecilian Singers took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Eldridge, North Devon. It was one of the most delightful social periods the group has been privileged to enjoy. Following a short practice period concentrated on three works as yet unperformed by the Society, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Helen Pulsifer, Margaret Elliot and Mrs. Chas. Fleet.

Robert VanDine sang two songs, "Vale" (Kennedy Russell) and Mr. Bayley's "Forty Dukes A-Riding" for the first time.

Donald Pringle was heard in a group of songs by Schubert and Squire and Messrs. Locke, Pringle and VanDine were heard in a male trio. Mr. Bayley gave three humorous readings and the chorus closed the brief program with a zestful performance of "Lost Chord."

The Cecilians will have a picnic meeting to deal with unfinished business late in June. Highlights of the group's eventful musical season were their organization in October last, the three major appearances (two in Fredericton and one in Sussex) and three minor appearances (St. Andrew's Church Musicales, I.O. D.E. convention banquet, and at the Provincial Competitive Musical Festival at Saint John at which time the organization received the highest marks given any choral group).

During the season, some twenty odd works were performed of which twelve were given first performances in Fredericton, one work, Coronation Ode by Willan, the first Canadian performance, and R. Charlton's trio (My Love is Like a Red, Red Rose) was given a first performance anywhere.

Guides Invested 2nd F'ton

At the regular meeting of the 2nd Fredericton (St. Dunstan's) company of Guides four girls were invested as Tenderfoots. They were Betty Farrell, Mary Lee, Maureen Dunphy and Rita Killee. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. D. J. Shea, Convener of Girl Guides for the C.W.L.; Miss Anna Kelly, President of the C.W.L. and Rev. Dr. Milligan, all of whom spoke a few words of encouragement to the Guides. Mrs. Shea presented Proficiency Badges to several of the girls. Needlewoman's badges were won by Anna Lee, Mary Simcock, Catherine Simcock and Zeta Killee, and a Lifesavers Badge was presented to Gertrude Lorette.

tem, the invention of William George Harold Finch, radio engineer.

Four hours were required to produce a positive color print after the transmission of the parrot by telephone.

Mr. French said that the equipment was fully developed for commercial use, and complete units could be manufactured for about $9,000 each. An electric light socket provides the current for operation. The only wire expense involved in the transmission process was the price that would be necessary for a long distance phone call of the same time, he said.

The process would be used in a trans-oceanic circuit involving radio transmission. Mr. Finch said, though the pictures might not be perfect in every case, static electricity could distort the tone and, therefore, the accuracy of the finished picture.

Mr. Picobac's Advice to Anglers

"I WANT you to put a piece in the paper where everybody will see it," said Mr. Picobac to his friend, Herb Smith, editor of the Essex Centre Gazette and County Advertiser (circulation guaranteed). "I'll save me a lot of time writing letters in answer to correspondents."

"Sure," said Herb, feeling for the pencil behind his ear.

"It's poetry," confessed Mr. Picobac, handing it over.

The editor read it aloud:

"Angler's Calendar for April"

"Give your good trout rod a coat of shellac,
"Glue up the ferrules if any be slack;
"Test all your tapers, silk, linen or cotton,
"Cut off the ends of all such as be rotten;
"Take last summer's leaders now frayed and worn,
"All moth-eaten trout flies, tattered and torn,
"Make one last cast with them—throw them away,
"Stock up with new stuff for Trout Opening Day."

"Sounds like an ad," said the editor. "What about the smokes?"
"Picobac, of course," said Mr. Picobac briefly. "In handy seal-tight pouches."
