The Boy Scouts will also be under canvas in separate tents at the same time. They will be under the leadership of a Rover Scout from Ontario.

WOMAN FINED IN COURT TODAY FOR ASSAULTING MAN

Defendant Claimed the Informant Called Her a Vile Name

Charged with assaulting Hudson Doyle, Barker's Point, Mrs. Virginia Goslin, colored, was fined $20 or in default of payment 20 days in jail, when she was arraigned before Magistrate Limerick in police court this morning. The charge, laid by the plaintiff, alleged that she assaulted Mr. Doyle in a local theatre.

Mr. Doyle, taking the stand said that he attended the theatre on Saturday night last, accompanied by his wife and another couple. They entered the theatre at the beginning of the second show, and there was a general rush for seats. He started to take a seat, when he was told by Mrs. Goslin that the seat, which was next to her seat, was reserved. He replied that they all paid the same price for seats, and at that moment his party, which was just behind the seat he was about to take, found that there was room for one more person in that row and told him to climb over the back of the seat and sit with them.

According to his evidence, he moved to the rear seat and was further bothered by the accused. "She called me a ringer bum," Doyle said and then slapped his face.

Mrs. Doyle, wife of the informant and Frank Legere who accompanied Doyle to the theatre that night, gave similar evidence, stating that Doyle

LUMBER DEALERS TO HOLD ANNUAL CONVENTION HERE

Exact Date of Meeting Not Yet Decided

Some time between July 20th and July 26th has been set as the tentative date for the annual meeting of the New Brunswick Retail Lumber Merchants' Association here. The decision was made at a meeting of the executive held here recently. Alderman David McCaughy of this city is a member of the executive body.

General business concerning the industry was discussed at the meeting, and there was also considerable talk on compensation and accident prevention, with special emphasis placed on the thought that a scheme might be worked out whereby varying fees to the Workmen's Compensation Board would be paid according to the efforts of the factory in attempting to reduce the possibility of accidents.

It was thought by some that factories which employed special means for the protection of help should enjoy a reduction in fees, whereas those which did not take such careful measures could be assessed more as a penalty. The proposed scheme would be operative for a year at a time.

Among those who attended the meeting were Emery D. Smith, of Murray & Gregory, Ltd., Saint John, president of the association; Charles S. Christie, sr., and Charles S. Christie, jr., of the Christie Woodworking Co., Ltd., Saint John; Harry Wallace, of the Wallace Manufacturing Co., Ltd., Sussex; Leonard Lockhart Woodworkers, Ltd., Moncton; Eric Raworth, of C. C. Raworth & Sons, Ltd., Moncton; Alderman McCaughy, of the J. C. Risteen Co., Ltd., Fredericton, and Harold Haley, of Haley & Sons, Ltd., St. Stephen.

RUSH OF ANGLERS EXPECTED SOON ON MIRAMICHI

Many Reservations Are Made by American Sportsmen

Non-resident anglers in large numbers will be whipping the salmon pools of the Southwest Miramichi and its tributaries in the course of the next week or ten days, according to advices received from Boiestown, Ludlow, McNamee, Blissfield, Blackville and other outfitting centres. The recent rainfall brought the river up to a high pitch, but the water is now falling and the prospects for fishing appear to be bright. The advance guard of a large contingent of Americans, which will include many nimrods who have whipped the waters of the river with success in previous years, is expected to pass through the city later this week. Most of them will travel by auto, either to some point on the river or to McGivney Junction and board a C.N.R. evening train for Deersdale, where they will camp for the night, and on the following morning embark on canoes for Burnt Hill, Rocky Bend, and other pools further down the river.

Reports from the Miramichi indicate that many salmon have entered the river during the past week, and some American anglers, already on the stream have been having fair sport. One party landed two on the day of their arrival at the camps of W. T. Griffin and Son.

Bright Prospects

July of last year was one of the best months for fishing on the Miramichi, and the next few weeks should provide capital sport on that river. The indications are that there will be plenty of fishermen on hand to try their luck and skill. Practically all of the guides and outfitters have American parties booked for the months of July and August.

E. L. Ipsen, an American portrait artist who has a summer home at Boiestown, started up the river last night with his guide for a week's canoeing and fishing. He landed his first salmon of the season last week near Boiestown.

Dr. Charles E. B. Chase, of Boston, a veteran angler who owns a pool at Burnt Hill and who has been an annual visitor to it for twenty-eight years, is expected to arrive this week with a party of friends to spend the month of July. Donald McKay, of Ludlow, who figured in the Mr. Tutt articles written by Arthur Train for the Saturday Evening Post has been employed by Dr. Chase as head guide for a number of years.

Paul Richardson, New York stock broker, and an annual visitor to the salmon waters of the province, will arrive here on July 9th with a friend from Cincinnati and make the river trip on the Miramichi from Half Moon Cove to Ludlow.

had not bothered the accused and had asked to leave him alone as he wanted to see the picture and did not wish to argue.

Mrs. Goslin was called to the stand by her attorney, R. W. McLellan. She testified that the vacant seat referred to was about to be taken by her little daughter, and that Doyle had started to sit down in it when she told him that it was reserved. According to her evidence, Doyle called her a vile name and climbed over the back of the seat. He shook his hand in her face and told her that he paid as much for seats as she did, and she said that she then had struck his hand and had not slapped his face.

Questioned by the informant, she was asked why she had called him a "ringer bum" and replied, "Because you called me a son of a —"

Three Programs to Mark Conclusion of School Year in City

Addresses and Entertainment Features Will Be Highlights of Closing Exercises in Schools Here Tomorrow

High School Closing This Evening

CLOSING exercises in the city schools will be held tomorrow morning, and there is every indication that the programs to be carried out will have made the finest exercises the finest ever held in the local schools. Parents of the pupils as well as scores of other interested citizens will be present in the different schools to attend the programs prepared to observe the closing of the 1937 school year.

Each school will carry out its own special program of entertainment. Prizes and certificates will be presented pupils for proficiency in the various branches of school work. Addresses by prominent citizens will feature the programs while entertainment specialties prepared by the pupils will also contribute to the general enjoyment of the occasion.

The different exercises will take place in the morning, the majority of the programs commencing at 10 o'clock. Closing exercises in other schools throughout the Fredericton district will also take place tomorrow. The graduation exercises of the 1937 class of the high school will be held this evening.

The Programs

The programs to be carried out tomorrow include the following:

The Assembly Hall of the Charlotte Street School being closed for repairs, no combined program will be carried out; the closing exercises being carried out in the classrooms. ## R.C.M.P. RESERVE RECRUITS HERE ON JULY FIRST

Announcement is Made This Morning by Major Bruce

Reservists of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who will undergo training at "J" Division headquarters, Fredericton, will report here July 1. It was announced today by Major W. V. Bruce, superintendent of the division. Between sixty and seventy young men will take part in the course which will extend over a period of two months. Fredericton, Ottawa and Regina are the three centres in which members of the newly formed reservist group will undergo training. The "rookies" will be stationed at the barracks here; those who cannot be accommodated in the barracks will spend the summer "under canvas."

Speaking to newspaper men here this morning, Major Bruce explained that men on the reserve list would receive the first call when and if recruits are needed on the force. In the meantime, they form the reserve unit and may be called upon to act in a time of national emergency. The reservists must measure up to required qualifications before they are accepted by the Dominion-wide police organization.

Physical Training

Physical training and elementary police work will comprise the major part of the two months training. Major Bruce pointed out. Members of divisional headquarters staff will give lectures on the various phases of police activities, particularly with relation to the interpretation of the Canadian Criminal Code. Time will not permit any specialized training, therefore the course will be a general one.

Ju-jitsu, the Japanese art of self-defence, will be taught the 'rookies' by Corporal Milrose, one of the outstanding exponents of the science on the continent. Corporal Milrose received his training from Japanese masters of the art during the time spent in the detachment at Vancouver.

The training course will extend over a period of three years. Each summer the reserve recruit will take the training and at the expiration of the three years will be given the opportunity of continuing the train for another three years if they wish to do so.

During their training, they will wear the regulation khaki uniform. The uniform will include tunic, 'slacks', Sam Browne belt and peaked cap. Candidates for the reserve force must have at least a junior matriculation, or its equivalent, Major Bruce said. High character qualifications are also necessary before a candidate is accepted. Included among the reservists to train at Fredericton are many university graduates while the majority are graduates of high schools.
