

Kelly and Skinner Lead in Golf Tournament in Moncton

Hockey Star Still Heads Amateurs At Two-Third Mark

Has Total of 215, Four Up On R. G. Likely, of Westfield--Algonquin Pro Well in Front For Professional and Open Titles

MONCTON, July 14—Pete Kelly of the Belvedere Club of Charlottetown, who plays hockey with the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League, continued to stroke his way into the lead for the N.B.—P.E.I. amateur championship tournament as the fourth annual hit the two-third mark.

At the end of the 48th hole of the 72-hole medal play this afternoon Kelly had amassed a total of 215. He carded a 55 and 56 today and led the youthful Bob Likely of the Westfield Country Club by four strokes. Behind Likely came Percival Streeter of the Riverside Golf and Country Club with 223.

Successive cards of 48, one over par, shot Archie Skinner, Algonquin Club pro of St. Andrews, into the lead for professional honors and the open championship.

He took the lead from Larry Thornton, pro of the Riverdale Club of Moncton, by six strokes, carding a total of 202 for the two days of play.

The tournament ends today with the final 24 holes of play with Likely conceded a chance of overtaking Kelly for the amateur crown.

Rev. J. Walter Holland of Saint John, playing for the Riverside Golf and Country Club in defence of both the open and amateur titles, was disqualified today when he dropped an alternate ball too far from the vicinity where he lost one. At the time, however, Father Holland was virtually out of the race for honors and came in with a 48-hole card of 233.

Pete Kelly led the amateurs at the half-way mark with a gross of 159 and has managed to keep the lead of the field since the opening of the meet on Monday morning.

Harry Rich, Moncton, Riverdale, who headed the Second Division on Monday was tops at the half-way mark yesterday afternoon with a gross of 178, but his 66 card for the 112 holes shot him down the ladder to sixth place. While Rich was slipping, George Belliveau moved from twelfth place to second.

Archie Skinner posted the two best cards of the day when he stroked the fast Riverdale course of 12 holes, twice in 48, a single stroke over par, while William Crawford, Westfield, posted a card of 51 for the 12 holes in the morning to lead the amateurs for the 12 holes throughout the day.

Four pros, Skinner, Thornton, Vernon Balch, Riverside, and C. M. Galbraith, Charlottetown, are ahead of Kelly in the race for the open title. Thornton being six strokes behind Skinner, with a gross of 208, while Balch has a gross of 210 and Galbraith a gross of 214. In addition, Jock Anderson, Ridgewood pro, is tied with Kelly, having a 48-hole gross total of 215.

In the first division R. G. Likely Westfield moved from eighth place Monday to second place yesterday, while P. Streeter of Riverside pushed his way up from sixth place to third and Eric D. Thomson, Riverside, who was runner up to Kelly on Monday slipped down to the tenth position last night.

WOODSTOCK HARNESS MEET POSTPONED

To Open Circuit Meet This Afternoon

WOODSTOCK, July 13—Postponed on account of the soft ground on the Island Park track, the mid-summer harness racing meet of the Woodstock Driving Club will open tomorrow instead of today.

Heavy showers fell this morning and although the sun came out brightly during the morning the track was still wet at the hours set for the races to start.

Cars were sent around the track in an effort to dry it out but several of the drivers considered that the footing was not safe for their horses and the opening was postponed until tomorrow.

LONG-RANGE PLAN FOR NEWFOUNDLAND FORESHADOWED

LONDON, July 13—Plans for a long-range economic reconstruction program for Newfoundland will be revealed in the Budget at St. John's next Tuesday, Malcolm MacDonald, Dominions Secretary, told the House of Commons today.

He replied to a question from Arthur C. Jones, Labor, as to what action had been taken on the social and economic reconstruction program proposed by Newfoundland's Commission of Government.

Jones also asked MacDonald whether he was aware of the "increasing confusion and discontent" in Newfoundland, but the Dominions Secretary said:

"I don't think either confusion or discontent is increasing." He added that general outlines of the program to be followed in Newfoundland had been approved by the British Government.

PSYCHOLOGICAL EXPLANATION FOR BLOOD-THIRSTY FAN

CHICAGO, July 7—The sports fan who shouts "break his neck" at a wrestling match or "kill the umpire" at a ball game may be on a "psychological bender" something like an alcoholic spree, Dr. Robert N. McMurray, a psychologist, said today.

And if he is the kind of person who makes his wife a "baseball widow" while he tosses his straw hat about the grandstand, he may be a "psychoped."

A "psychoped", Dr. McMurray explained, is an adult who has the emotional attitude, under certain conditions, of a child. The word is a Greek coinage. Dr. McMurray, who is executive secretary of the Chicago branch of the Psychological Corporation, said it was not a bad thing to be a "psychoped." When the "psychoped" vents his rage at an opposing ball player or the umpire he can go home and relax.

Dr. McMurray said that in general three principal factors contribute to enjoyment of any sport as a spectator—the possibility of identifying one's self with the players (the "psychoped"); the opportunity for vicarious participation in the actual play; and the chance to release repressed aggressions. It is the latter principle, Dr. McMurray said, that makes for those violent outbursts.

"Some sports, such as baseball, prizefighting, wrestling and ice hockey," he said, "provide ample chance to vent the rages indirectly because these exhibitions are extremely partisan, and the spectators usually tend to take sides rather violently. For some reason the presence of a group seems to facilitate the breaking down of inhibitions against the expression of hostilities."

"An individual who would never think of threatening to kill an umpire or urge a wrestler to break his opponent's neck, if he were alone, becomes so stimulated by the presence of a mob that he becomes the victim of a sort of psychological intoxication somewhat similar to that produced by alcohol, which results in a partial or complete breakdown of any or all inhibitory mechanisms."

GALS GO FOR BASEBALL PLENTY IN CHICAGO

There are no "baseball widows" in Chicago.

During the past twenty years the Chicago Cubs have been host to 2,478,672 members of the fair sex on Ladies' Days at Wrigley Field. The demand for Ladies' Day tickets increases with each succeeding year.

No other city in the country can boast of as many women fans as Chicago. They turn out en masse for Ladies' Day, and are well represented on other days throughout the week.

Do they know their baseball? Well, brother, don't go home and start an argument or you're gonna hear things about the game you don't know.

Chicago women know their baseball. They follow the averages; are familiar with the rules and don't hesitate to "call" the umpire when they think he's wrong.

Ladies' Day at Wrigley Field is a gala event.

First Stage Fired At Bisley For Rich Challenge Cup

Dillon, Graham and Kier Score 72's---Matchett, Of Hamilton, Ties For First in Alexandra Challenge Match With Five Others

BISLEY CAMP, England, July 14—Clean-cut victories still eluded the Canadian sharpshooters at Bisley yesterday, but excellent marksmanship has put the men from the Dominion in tie-shoots for the Alexandra Challenge cup and The Daily Telegraph silver cup. In addition Canada today qualified at least three men, possibly five, for Saturday's final stage of the rich St. George challenge vase match.

The Alexandra and the first stage of the St. George's were fired yesterday. In the former, at 500 yards, young Lieut. G. S. Matchett of Hamilton had 10 successive bull's eyes for a perfect score of 50. He was tied by Cadet-Sgt. Alton of London University, G. A. Jones of Guildford, F. W. Mellows of Australia, Lieut. F. B. Smith of Seaforths and A. Warner of North London. The six will shoot off the tie later. C.S.M. George Emslie of Toronto is in another tie-shoot for The Telegraph cup.

Matchett's perfect 50 in the Alexandra was all the more noteworthy under the conditions, still unfavorable here. The skies were again overcast and keen winds added to the marksmen's difficulties.

The first stage of the St. George's fired at 300 yards, qualified 100 men for Saturday's final stage at 900 yards. Canadians qualifying outright were Sgt. M. F. Dillon of Ottawa, Capt. S. W. Graham of Toronto and Sgt. James Kier of Vancouver. All had scores of 72 out of a possible 75. In addition Matchett and Sgt. William Ewing of Montreal, with 71, will shoot off with 51 other marksmen for 37 remaining places in the final.

For top score in the first stage three marksmen tied with 74—A. de Maille of Guernsey, Q.M.S. W. Blackman of the Royal Sussex Regiment and H. J. Ward of Chesham.

The tie-shoot for The Daily Mail silver cup and corporation medal was won by Driver E. Brookes of the Army Service Corps.

WARNEKE HAD MANY TRAVELS IN BASEBALL

Lonnie Warneke was a migratory bird long before he blossomed as a front-line National League pitching ace. The difference was that in those days Lonnie took northern trips instead of eastern trips. He was a harvester, beginning in Oklahoma in June and July, and following the reaping machines northward until the season ended in the Dakotas and Southern Canada. That's why this slim Arkansan has muscles like whipcord and a finger-grip of steel to fashion those curves.

Linus Frey adopted baseball as a career when fired from a St. Louis factory.
