ILLUSIONS

My husband has a den of sorts, Pipe-strewn and four feet square, A cluttered, crazy cubby-hole . . . But when he's sprawling there He thinks he's the Shah of Persia, Or a bloated millionaire!

My Junior has a wooden horse With a mane like river weed, A goggle-eyed and grinning nag, A mangy wretch, indeed . . . But Junior, astride, glows pink with pride In his "swift Arabian steed".

I've a husband and a small-sized son. A nut-shell home and a cat . . . And if I think I'm the Queen of the Earth, Well, they're to blame for that!

THANKSGIVING WAS OBSERVED LOCAL CHURCHES SUNDAY

Large Numbers Attended Special Services — Many Churches Decorated in Spirit of Thanksgiving

With churches decorated, symbolic of the spirit of thankfulness, the citizens of Fredericton generally on Sunday attended their respective places of worship in large numbers. In the churches, services of thanksgiving were conducted, with special music and anthems in keeping with the occasion.

The services at St. Paul's United Church featured Thanksgiving sermons and special music. In the morning Rev. George Telford, minister of the church, spoke of "The Thankful Spirit," while in the evening the subject of his sermon was "Now is the accepted time." The choir rendered appropriate anthems, while the musical portion of the service also featured a solo by Charles Fraser, and a duet by Mrs. Roy Eldridge and Mrs. Bedford Green. The church was decorated with palms, and both services were attended by large gatherings.

Services at the Brunswick Street Baptist and George Street Baptist churches were largely attended. In the Brunswick Street church, Rev. Gerald W. Guion spoke in the morning on the theme "And Be Ye Thankful," while in the evening his subject was "The Grace of Gratitude." The choir rendered special anthems.

Rev. John Linton conducted regular Thanksgiving services in the George Street Church, taking as his subject for the morning address "Then Returning, Give Thanks," while in the evening he spoke on the theme "Need of Vision." The choir rendered special Thanksgiving music.

Speaking on the subjects "Enter His Gates with Thanksgiving" and "The Lord is Good," Rev. Dr. George E. Ross addressed large gatherings both morning and evening, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. In the morning Bible Society work was also taken up. The service featured special music.

The morning service of the Wilmot United church was broadcast. Rev. Dr. J. W. Bartlett took as his theme in the morning "The Rod That Budded" while in the evening he spoke on "The Aldermen of Jerico, and the City Water Supply." Special music featured both services and a large attendance was on hand.

Three children were received into the Gibson Memorial United Church at Devon yesterday morning. Rev. W. A. Burge conducted the services. The junior choir under the direction of Walter Fraser rendered several anthems. Rev. Mr. Burge spoke on the subject "Think Right, Do Right," while in the evening his subject was "First Fruits."

Rev. Mr. Burge emphasized the blessings richly bestowed on our province and in general on the Dominion, blessings not only of material nature, but also the spiritual benediction. The congregation and the church welcomed back Mrs. J. Ray Burpee as organist. Rev. Mr. Burge thanked the young people at the close of the service for the great pains taken in decorating the church so finely.
