

Boy Scout Period Ending March 7th

Period Ending March 7, 1937.

The first of the week-end Camps in connection with the District Scout Training Course, was held on Saturday and Sunday last, when the seven members of the Beaver Patrol went up to the Douglas Scout Troop Camp at Aulapauk. This occupies a magnificent site, with a splendid view over the Keswick Ridge country; and the conditions for training and living are of the best. We were favored with fine weather and place this Camp among the best yet held in connection with these courses. The usual programme was carried through, and we were assisted by District Commissioner Good, on both days, he assisting with the Scouts' Own and the investiture on the Sunday in particular, when five Candidates made the Scout Promise for the first time and two other renewed theirs. During Sunday, we were visited by Scoutmaster Earle Hawkins, and his brother, Gordon, of the local Troop. Lunch was eaten in the gully below the Camp, and getting up and down from there provided some unrehearsed thrills, especially for those who, like the Camp Chief, are putting on weight. Wednesday saw another successful indoor meeting of the Guilders and Rangers in training, at St. Dunstan's Hall.

We append extracts from two reports from country troops, lately received. Scoutmaster Leslie Simms, of the Meductic Troop, writes that this new Troop is meeting every Thursday. They have suffered some from the prevailing flu, but nine are qualifying for Tenderfoot, good work having already been done towards this. The Troop neckerchief will be wine color. Thursday next will see these boys invested as Scouts.

They have held a hike to Marston Mountain; "tramping" was heavy, but all had a good and useful time, cutting staves and cooking meals, and building a lean-to, which, when completed, will be large enough to house the whole Troop."

Meanwhile, from Durham Bridge, Scoutmaster W. A. Sansom reports all well. "Semaphore, under our very efficient Assistant Scoutmaster, Cedric O'Donnell, I might say, the boys are doing exceptionally well in this work. And seem to learn it very easily. Staff drill is also popular, and is well done.

"After drill, a fountain pen was presented to Gerald Pond, as second prize for essay on hike to Marysville, on Feb. 13. First prize won by Donald Cleghorne, being presented to him at Fredericton at St. Dunstan's Hall, on Feb. 22. We feel proud of these boys and the Troop feels proud of them, too. After investiture, a half hour was taken for games, which proved very comical and caused much laughter. Our motto is: Be Prepared; so in order to be ahead of the game, we decided at the close of the meeting, as spring would be here shortly, and the birds arriving, that each Scout was to build a bird house before the next meeting. A hike was planned for March 6 to Kentville. A test on Fire building will be given; also instructions in Forestry work, by Scoutmaster; such as spotting trails and building lean-to; overnight shelters and overnight fires, felling trees, etc."

TENSION SUBSIDED IN JERUSALEM

(Special to The Daily Mail)
JERUSALEM, March 8 — Tension has now subsided in Jerusalem. The curfew which had been established during recent riots was lifted yesterday.

SNOWFALL IN ENGLAND TODAY

(Special to The Daily Mail)
London and Southern England had their first heavy snowfall today.

CHURCH SERVICES

St. Paul's United Church
Large congregations were present at both services in St. Paul's United church yesterday. 'The Perils of the Unoccupied Man' was the subject of the inspiring sermon delivered at the morning worship by Rev. George Telford, M.A., D.D.

Christchurch Cathedral
Regular Sunday worship was held in Christchurch Cathedral yesterday morning, while in the evening Lenten devotions were observed. Large congregations were present at both the periods of worship. Very Rev. Dean Moorhead was the speaker in the morning and evening.

Reformed Baptist Church
The revival services at Reformed Baptist Church were concluded last evening. "Consecration" was the theme of the morning worship, and a large number attended the altar. The theme of the evening service was "Thou Art Not Far." This service was attended by unusually large congregation.

Rev. Miss M. Manning conducted the service, assisted by Rev. Miss L. Furbush, who was in charge of the children's classes throughout the campaign which concluded Saturday afternoon. These classes will be continued under the direction of a woman member of the congregation.

Rev. Miss Manning will conduct similar services in other parts of New Brunswick, Maine and Ontario.

Wilmot United Church
Services at Wilmot United Church were largely attended yesterday. Rev. M. D. Oliver, B.A., was the special speaker during the morning worship. The speaker at the evening worship was the minister, Rev. J. W. Bartlett, whose subject was "God and the Policeman."

George Street Baptist
Both services at the George Street Baptist church were largely attended yesterday. The morning service conducted by the pastor Rev. J. A. Linton was broadcast over CFNB.

St. Anne's Parish Church
Rev. S. C. Grey was the speaker at both services in St. Anne's church yesterday. In the morning his subject was "The Eyes of Christ," while in the evening he spoke on "The Mouth of Christ." Both messages were meditations on the Crucifixion. Large congregations were present at both periods of worship.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church
Yesterday's services at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church were attended by large congregations. Rev. Dr. G. E. Ross was in charge and delivered inspirational sermons both morning and evening.

The regular monthly service of the Young People's Society was held in the afternoon. There was a large number present and an interesting program was carried out.

Following the evening worship, His Honor, Lieutenant Governor, Murray MacLaren entertained a large gathering in the church hall. He delivered a lecture on the life and works of St. Columba, and a brief sketch of the Presbyterian church. Following this the distinguished speaker gave an illustrated lecture on 'The Isle of Iona.' The scenes depicted monastery life in the sixth century, the cathedrals on the Island and Celtic crosses. The isle is now the property of the Presbyterian church, the speaker explained, having been given to the institution by the Duke of Argyll. The lecture was a most interesting one and much appreciated by the audience.

NEWSPAPERS SUSPENDED

(Special to The Daily Mail)
JERUSALEM, March 8—The Palestine government has suspended two newspapers, one Arabic and one Hebrew. Both published articles which were likely to destroy public peace and create panic.

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Junior Tea at the University

One of the most artistically arranged Junior Teas in the history of the University was held on Saturday afternoon in the Ladies' Reading Room. About 200 guests were present including the members of the faculty and their wives, the women students of the University and the junior and senior men. The rooms had been turned into an improvised ice palace, the effect being quite striking. The walls were done in chalk and blue paper and covered with cellophane to represent ice blocks and the ceiling was made to represent a star sprinkled sky. The floor was made to look like ice with blue paper and artificial snow and the guests were seated on boxes which represented ice blocks. Miss Margaret Nason was Queen of the Ice Palace and was dressed in a white robe. The young ladies who served were dressed in white skating costumes and included Miss Phyllis Batt, Miss Marian McKnight, Miss Dorothy Haines, Miss Rosemary Durick, Miss Jean Bunker, Miss Ruth Camp and Miss Hope Jarvis. Mrs. C. C. Jones and Miss Millicent Ramsay were in the receiving line. The tea and coffee cups were presided over by Mrs. J. H. Ramsay and Mrs. C. E. Batt. Miss Mary Pinder and Miss Dorothy Durst replenished. Miss Patricia Clark and Miss Muriel Folkins were in charge of the kitchen. Dancing was enjoyed, music being provided by George Olts' orchestra.

Visitors at Government House

Mrs. George Hooper, daughter of His Honor, Lieutenant Governor Murray MacLaren, C.M.G., and her son, Master John Hooper, arrived in the city today to visit the Lieutenant Governor. They will remain here several days.

Here's the Modern Way to Help END A COLD Quicker

The 3-Minute VapoRub Massage

Massage VapoRub briskly on the throat, chest and back (between and below the shoulder blades). Then spread it thick over the chest and cover with warmed cloth.

Almost before you finish rubbing, VapoRub starts to bring relief two ways at once—two direct ways:

1. Through the Skin. VapoRub acts direct through the skin like a poultice or plaster.

2. Medicated Vapors. At the same time, its medicated vapors, released by body heat, are breathed in for hours—about 18 times a minute—direct to the irritated air-passages of the nose, throat and chest. This combined poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation—helps break congestion.

During the night, VapoRub keeps right on working. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Avoids Risk of Stomach Upsets
This safe, external treatment cannot possibly upset the stomach, as constant internal "dosing" is so apt to do. It can be used freely, as often as needed, even on the youngest child.

Now White—Stainless

Thanks to a new process, VapoRub now comes to you in white stainless form. Only the color is removed; it is the same VapoRub—the same formula and the same effective double action.

THE FORTUNE TELLER . . .

HEAR:

Hedley Wilson, as Signor Martello, sing pleadingly:
"Gaze on my hand and tell me what you see,
Tell me my fate and who my wife shall be."

George Boldon, as Madame Claire Fontaine, sing:
"I've wandered far o'er hill and plain
In search of some true-hearted swain, etc."

SEE:

Vernon Box, as Signora Martello (the wife of Signor Martello) arrive on the scene.

Under these difficult circumstances hear Bluffins, the Fortune Teller (Frank Pridham), clear the situation in an unexpected manner. (This sketch will be given during the intermission in the concert to be given by the Fredericton Male Chorus). 8.15 p.m.

CANADIANA VALUABLE BOOKS BY CANADIAN WRITERS OF NOTE

Thomas Marquis Well Known in This City --- Book of Encouragement by Archer Wallace.

The Daily Mail is in receipt of a neat little book of poems by Thomas Guthrie Marquis a native of Chatham and a gentleman who was formerly well known in this city. The book is "The Cathedral and Other Poems." Mr. Marquis who died in April last had an outstanding literary career. He was the author of many published volume most of them of a historical nature.

"The book 'The Cathedral and Other Poems' is a valuable addition to the many works written by our New Brunswick authors.

As is fitting the introduction to the book is written by Mr. Marquis' old teacher Sir Charles G. D. Roberts. Sir Charles had much to do with moulding Mr. Marquis' career as a writer.

The book is published by the Musson Book Company, 480 University Avenue, Toronto, Ont.

"The Silver Lining" by Archer Wallace, author of "The Religious Faith of Great Men" and "I Believe in People." "The Silver Lining" is a book of devotional meditations intended to help troubled and perplexed people. The author writes from a liberal point of view. He does not attempt to put across any propaganda, and it is our hope as publishers that it will meet the needs of many holding widely divergent views.

This book which is a publication of the Ryerson Press, Toronto, makes appropriate reading at this season, and would make a good Easter gift. The price is one dollar.

"Democracy - that's ME"

"I've been keeping an eye on Europe lately," said Mr. Picobac of Essex Centre, applying a match. "But I find that one eye is not enough. I'm getting cross-eyed."

Mr. Picobac chuckled between puffs, while the incense of prime, fresh-lit Canadian Burley spread like a benediction of peace, comfort and human kindness to all the brotherhood of man.

"They're getting too far away from democracy over there," said he, shaking his head. "I tell you us folks in Canada ought to be glad we're here."

"Look the world over", commanded he, passing his "SEAL-TIGHT" Picobac pouch. "Where do you find the happiest people? Tell me that. Isn't it in the democratic countries — countries patterned after old England? And of all the democratic countries of the British Empire where can you find the beat of Canada? . . . The land where every man is as good as his neighbour."

"And most of 'em a danged sight better," agreed Cy Parker, the postmaster, settling down for a mild . . . cool . . . sweet smoke.

"THE PRINTING PRESS IS THE TONGUE OF CIVILIZATION"

In the year 1437 Johannes Gutenberg, a German printer, invented the printing press and began printing at Mainz.

The civilized nations are now commemorating the five hundredth anniversary of this invention. We believe that the best way to get information to the public is by the general use of "printers' ink"—civilization—as a means of therefore we are using "the tongue of conveying some very valuable information to the men of Fredericton and vicinity.
