Government Printing

During the session of the Legislature some talk took place in the Public Accounts Committee regarding Government printing. Mr. Perry of Carleton put in a word for the newspapers of the province. Mr. Perry pointed out that considerable Government printing was being turned over to job printing concerns throughout the Province which not only rendered no service to the Province in the way of publicity but which were of no assistance whatever to the party in power. Mr. Keay of Charlotte expressed hearty approval of the sentiments made by Mr. Perry. He said he hoped that the committee was sufficiently impressed by what was said to embody a recommendation in its report to the Legislature to the effect that the newspapers be given more encouragement in the way of public printing.

There are a good many people who think that the newspapers, especially those supporting the Provincial Government, are making fortunes out of the Government printing. Such is not the case. The newspapers, and The Daily Mail is one of them, are giving dollar for dollar service for every bit of money that it is getting from the Government. In addition to this the newspapers have to submit figures tendering on every job of printing which they get from the Government and they have absolutely no favoritism shown to them because they are papers supporting the Government. An ordinary job printing establishment employing half a dozen hands or perhaps one or two hands will get the job every time if their figures are a dollar or two lower than those of the paper. No consideration is given to the fact that the papers are supporting the Government, and no consideration is given to the fact that to run a newspaper apart from the job shop entails considerable more expense than it does to run an ordinary job printing establishment. No consideration is given to the fact that the paper is there to give publicity to the Province and work for the welfare of the Province.

There was a time, perhaps, when newspapers supporting the Provincial Government no matter what party was in power were given pretty generous treatment in regard to the matter of public printing. But that day is gone by. While it may appear from the Comptroller General's report that large sums have been paid to newspapers supporting the Government for printing, just as large sums have been paid to ordinary job printing establishments who can give no support whatever to the government in power. A comparison of the figures in regard to the different job printing establishments in the City of Fredericton itself will bear this out. There is one thing sure, that papers supporting the present Provincial Government get no favors any more than the ordinary job shop which employs one or two hands and which does not have to go to the extra expense of running a newspaper in order to carry on its business.

Ottawa Looks Ahead

The proposal of the Minister of Justice, Hon. Ernest Lapointe, that a reserve of 300 men be created in connection with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police will receive the approval of all who wish peace and order.

During the past few years there has been increasing evidence of the presence in Canada of elements which, more or less openly, are opposed to the democratic principles of Dominion government and which are admittedly waiting the propitious moment for making their opposition effective.

Moreover, with further development of Canada's present returning prosperity, there is likely to be a further influx of new citizens and perhaps a renewal of the country's former generous attitude toward immigration.

In these circumstances the Government is acting wisely and with forethought in making early provision for the strengthening of that force which so ably has policed otherwise unguarded territory in the past, and which deserves much of the credit for the law-abiding nature of Canadian citizens throughout the Dominion.

It may be taken as a sincere compliment to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police that so small a reserve as 300 men be considered sufficient to render them adequate to meet possible emergencies.

Chinese Eyes East

Day by day now we are likely to see the news from Japan grow hotter and hotter. Basic is the growing assertiveness of the business men and farmers and peasants against expensive adventures of army and navy.

Members of the Japan Diet have long been perky about the struttiness of the powerful military clique. Emperor Hirohito leans that way, too, though his official effort is to keep peace between the two.

Last January the civilian spokesmen in the Diet got so brash that they sucked in air between clenched teeth and forthwith hissed and jeered at the mention of names of proud militarists. Outcome was that the Hirota cabinet went out and in came Premier (retired general) Ugaki.

Saucier have grown the outspoken anti-militarists. Increasingly jittery where guns and bayonets and planes and bombs cannot be used against an adversary, military bigwigs scampered straight to the palace where Emperor Hirohito decided it best to send the civilians home. So he dissolved the Diet.

What good? An election is due within a month. The campaign will give both sides more than a hint of public temper. It is obviously anti-military, no Diet may be assembled for a long time, if ever, and Japan may become the newest fascist state, bossed by Emperor and the military.

All of which may further aggravate Japanese public opinion. Chinese eyes twinkle.

Bank Debits to Individual Accounts

Financial transfers in the form of bank debits registered a recession of 1.3 per cent. in February from the same month last year and after seasonal adjustment, a decline of nearly 9 per cent. from the previous month. The index stood at 121.9 compared with 123.6 in January and 123.5 in February last year. The grand total was $2,731,934,437 against $3,227,354,600 in the previous month and $2,767,449,324 a year ago. The totals follow by economic areas with those for last year in brackets: Maritime Provinces $45,315,762 ($43,826,951). Quebec $881,645,303 ($865,790,309). Ontario $1,312,797,280 ($1,258,232,826). Prairie Provinces $313,731,367 ($427,832,564). British Columbia $178,444,725 ($171,766,674).

SNAPSHOTS

Our city fathers are still angry right straight through. Their statement published today seems to be a reasonable one.

Between the Coronation proceedings and the visit of the Governor-General we are going to have a lively social time this summer.

But the habit of taking short cuts because the rules get in the way has landed a lot of people in jail.

A nation is near bottom when its chief comfort is the realization that other lands are in a worse fix.

The world is burdened with anxiety, most of which is revealed in five little words: "What will the neighbors say?"

We should revere gold. It's the only common thing of which man hasn't yet made an imitation better than the genuine.

Great Oaks

(Continued from Page One) They are being sent by Canadian Pacific Express to Toronto and will be distributed from there to various parts of the Dominion for ceremonial planting on coronation day, May 12.

The seedlings are all grown from acorns taken from ancient trees in Britain's royal parks. So young are the shoots that although they are 5,000 of them, they only take up ten cubic feet of space.

(Special to The Daily Mail) LONDON, April 5—The coronation ceremonies of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth will last two hours instead of three hours as in the case of previous monarchs. The acts by the various Bishops will be performed together instead of individually.

Within two or three days the schedule of the procession will be rehearsed in the early hours of the morning when there is little traffic and will be gauged with time watches.

The King has requested that four factory workers attend the ceremony representatives of the Individual Welfare Society of which the King is now President. These representatives are to include one man, one woman, a boy and a girl. Queen Mary inspected the Coronation preparations this morning at Westminster Abbey.

Landing Places

"One of the disappointments in connection with establishment of this new transportation system is that, through failure of Government legislation to pass the Senate, we shall be unable to put the trans-Canada air lines under the jurisdiction of the Dominion Railway Board.

No Passes Issued
"There will be no passes issued to travellers on these airplanes," the Minister told Thomas L. Church, (Cons., Toronto-Broadview.)

"Passengers who may meet with accident will have the right to sue the air lines corporation, as they will not be Crown property," he informed the same member.

There was much debate again at night about ownership of the corporation and assurance that the Government would remain in control of the project.

At the suggestion of Right Hon. R. B. Bennett, the Minister amended the measure to provide that of the 49 per cent. of the stock remaining after 51 per cent. had been disposed of to the Canadian National Railways not more than 24,986 shares could be sold without a reference to and consent of Parliament. Another change provides that no one may be a director of the company unless he has been a resident of Canada for five years.

Provisions have been inserted in the act to safeguard the Government against the need to pay an excessive price for the trans-Canada air line if as and when it exercises the privilege of acquiring the property, and the Minister moved an amendment providing that "trans-Canada contracts shall not be deemed to have any value or be an asset to be taken into consideration in determining the book value of the shares" of the air lines corporation.

All sections of the bill were passed, through the committee stage, and the measure stands for third reading.

Mr. Howe said he could not say when Toronto to Montreal flying services will be inaugurated. "It is physically impossible to develop routes faster than we are developing them

OUR ALDERMEN JUSTIFIED

Aldermen. And the Capital Transit bill was also thrown out. THE BILL TO PROVIDE A PLEBISCITE WAS SO AMENDED AS TO MAKE IT USELESS FOR THE PURPOSE OF A PLEBISCITE ON THE ABOLITION OF THE POLICE COMMISSION. THERE SEEMED TO BE A DETERMINED EFFORT BY THE MUNICIPALITIES COMMITTEE TO BLOCK AT ANY TURN THE EFFORTS OF THE CITY ALDERMEN TO ABOLISH THE POLICE COMMISSION. AS THE BILLS WERE CONSIDERED IN PRIVATE SESSION THE PUBLIC CAN ONLY GUESS WHY THIS WAS DONE AND WHAT INFLUENCE WAS AT THE BACK OF IT.

According to a regulation of the Legislature this decision of the Municipalities Committee to kill the Fredericton bill COULD HAVE BEEN TAKEN UP IN THE LEGISLATURE BY SOME PERSON ON A MOTION, AND COULD HAVE BEEN THRASHED OUT THERE. IT IS PROBABLE THAT IN THE RECONSIDERATION THAT THE BILL WOULD HAVE PASSED. AT ANY RATE IT WOULD HAVE BEEN FOUGHT IN THE OPEN AND THE PUBLIC WHO ELECTED THE ALDERMEN AND WHO PAY THE BILLS WOULD HAVE HAD A CHANCE TO LEARN HOW THE WHOLE AFFAIR WAS HANDLED. THIS KILLING OF THE BILL IN A SLIM COMMITTEE IN A SECRET MEETING BEHIND CLOSED DOORS WAS AGAINST ALL PRINCIPLES OF FAIR PLAY. THE ALDERMEN AND THE CITIZENS OF FREDERICTON RECEIVED A ROTTEN DEAL. THE ALDERMEN WHO WERE ELECTED TO CARRY ON THE CITY'S BUSINESS AND WHO WERE AS WELL QUALIFIED TO CARRY IT ON AS IS ANY MEMBER OF THE POLICE COMMISSION HAVE BEEN SNUBBED FROM START TO FINISH. THEY WERE SNUBBED BY THE CHIEF OF POLICE WHEN HE WAS ASKED TO APPEAR BEFORE THEM ON A CERTAIN MATTER BECAUSE HE CLAIMED THAT HE WAS UNDER THE CONTROL OF THE POLICE COMMISSION. They are ignored by the Police Commission when that body sits behind closed doors and makes purchases of cars and other equipment without any reference to the Aldermen, and they have been ignored by the Legislative Committee, and no self-respecting body of Aldermen elected by the people to conduct their affairs, and snubbed right and left, could do anything else whatever than to tender their resignations. Sir Edward Grey, Britain's Foreign Secretary, said in 1914: "THE BEST EQUIPMENT THAT A PUBLIC MAN CAN CARRY IS A SIGNED RESIGNATION ALWAYS READY FOR DELIVERY. HE THAT CONSTITUTES A PERMANENT DENIAL OF THE CYNICAL SAYING THAT EVERY MAN HAS HIS PRICE." To say that an Alderman has no right to resign his seat and that the action of the Fredericton Aldermen in doing so was "childish" is a statement that is not worthy of contradiction. There is nothing else that the Aldermen could do and retain their self-respect. They passed a resolution in November last to abolish the Police Commission. This action was endorsed by the citizens of Fredericton at the general election in January last when no opposition was put up against the gentlemen who wanted the Commission abolished. Their action in resigning as Aldermen will be endorsed by the citizens of Fredericton and any person who comes out to oppose any of these Aldermen when they seek re-election as an endorsement to their action will be trimmed to a fizzle. When the general aldermanic election comes around again at the first of next year the citizens of Fredericton will show again by their votes that our seven aldermen who have resigned have the endorsement of the citizens and that they took the only possible stand that they could take under the circumstances. As one of the leading members of the Municipalities Committee stated, the WHOLE AFFAIR WAS AN OUTRAGE.

The police bill will come before the Municipalities Committee of the Legislature again next year, and when it does it will not be strangled as it was this year.

OUR COMMISSIONER

Editor Daily Mail,
City

Dear Sir:
We now understand why the city has put Mr. Armstrong in for poor commissioner. He is trying to cut down expense and in so doing has taken the milk from a few needy families that were being supplied by the city. Well that is one way. But Mr. Armstrong was not so saving two or three years ago when he handed out relief to a family where the father was under compensation, a son working, and the mother working and sending money to New York to aid a married daughter. It's no wonder that family said if you knew how to handle Mr. Armstrong you can get all you want. Well, it's too bad someone more fair-minded couldn't be found to look after such affairs. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for this space.

reaching political consequences. Wheat is a major political as well as an economic factor.

The rapid rise in the price of wheat is placing a terrific strain on Italy and Germany, whose wealth is sunk in vast war machines. Ever at the existing price level, it is predicted that a crop failure in Germany this summer will bring a political crisis.

For these reasons crop conditions in North America are being watched in London with anxious interest.

at the moment. Undoubtedly there will be air service between Toronto and Montreal in the not-too-distant future, and I have no doubt it will be productive of much revenue. The new corporation will decide questions relating the feeder lines."

family routine and making him feel a necessary part of the home," Dr. Billinger averred.

Responsibility Important

Many parents, he said, hate to see their children grow, building up strong emotional bonds calculated to keep the child close to them always. There are a host of mental patients in our hospitals today because they have developed habits of over-dependence. By all means, parents should encourage their children to take responsibility as soon as they are able, thus developing self-assurance, leadership and backbone, and security and mental health.

Describing the modern home as an area covering 50 miles in any direction, Mrs. B. W. Langworthy, President of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers of the United States, spoke on the home as an index to national life at luncheon preceding the afternoon session.

Honesty, courtesy, common decency, and hospitality were among certain things, that, if not learned in early life in the home were never learned, the speaker affirmed. Hospitality should not mean entertaining the bridge club twice a year, but a welcome for the child's friends that he brings home. If there isn't enough food to go 'round, say so frankly, she advised, and have the children share what there is equally. Of courtesy, she said: "We are so discourteous to children that it is a wonder they ever learn any courtesy. The only way to teach them is on a 50-50 basis."
