PREPARE FOR EXHIBITION

A large crew of men is at work repairing and ditching the Fredericton Exhibition race track. It was revealed this morning by C. L. Sypher, secretary of the exhibition company. The new dressing rooms are completed, and most of the work in the main or industrial building is also finished. Considerable work on the grounds remain to be done, but with the large number of men at work, it is expected to be completed in plenty of time for the opening of the Exhibition on September 11. Entries are already starting to come in, it was stated.

Miss Mary Pickard Dies Suddenly At Princess Park

Miss Mary M. Pickard, a well known and life long resident of Marysville, died suddenly at Princess Park, at 3.40 yesterday afternoon.

Miss Pickard had gone to Princess Park last Monday to begin her vacation, and was apparently in good health. On rising yesterday morning, she complained of indigestion and stated that she was feeling ill. The attack apparently passed, and she was sitting, chatting with another lady when she suddenly dropped dead.

Miss Pickard was a well known and popular member of the community, a respected member of the United Church of Canada, and associated with many church and social activities. She was a member of the staff of the sample rooms of the Canadian Cottons Limited, in Marysville, having held this position for the past twenty years. Of kindly and sociable nature, she will be mourned by a great circle of friends and fellow employees.

She is survived by three brothers, Chesley, John and Henry, all of Marysville.

The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon, with service at the home at 2.30 o'clock. Rev. M. D. Oliver will conduct the service. Interment will take place at Marysville.

LACK OF FIRES CAUSE OF ADVT.

The Fredericton Fire Department is contemplating inserting an advertisement in The Daily Mail, asking all to keep a sharp lookout for fires, it was learned today. If fires are detected it is understood that the observers will be requested to write in to the local station, informing the fire chasers of the fact.

This drastic action is felt necessary because of the slack conditions which have existed in the local fire fighting business during the last two months. Only five calls were received at the station in July, and a like number so far this month. All the fires were very small, only three of the alarms being general, the rest being of the still variety.

Both men and horses at the local station are growing fat and lazy for lack of exercise—a deplorable state of affairs, it was said. Shooting, curling, writhing flames are meat and drink to the fire fighters, and they seriously feel their absence. Although the local department cannot insert the ad. immediately, it is believed that the matter will be considered by both the fire committee of the City Council and the Council as a whole at the next meetings.

GOOD HUNTING SEASON THIS YEAR PREDICTED

All Game Birds and Mammals Much More Plentiful This Summer Than Last.

Closed Season On Moose

No Open Season On Pheasants Until At Least 1942, It Is Understood.

An excellent season for hunters and sportsmen was foreseen this morning by Harry C. Moore, of the Fredericton branch of the New Brunswick Fish and Game Association. "All game, both birds and quadrupeds, are present in abundance in this province this year," he said. The only exception he mentioned was moose, which, although more numerous than last year, are not here in sufficient numbers to justify the declaring of an open season on them.

Deer, ducks and partridge are much more plentiful this year than last, he said. The province is overrun with bears, as reports from the outlying districts all state. So numerous are they that they have grown very bold, their even being reports of their having attacked men.

It is presumed that geese will also be present in the province in considerable numbers, since the number that flew north this spring surpassed those which were seen last spring. Woodcock are also thought to be more plentiful, although their nocturnal habits and ability to keep out of the sight of observers makes it difficult to estimate in how much greater numbers they will be present this year, as compared with last.

A few old breeding pheasants have been liberated this year from the Association hatchery on the Fredericton-Saint John highway a short distance below the entrance to the Dominion Experimental Station, but the young ones are still in captivity. The birds bred this year will be liberated later in the season when they have attained a greater size, and when a few birds for breeding purposes next year have been picked out.

There is no open season on pheasants this year, nor will there be until 1942 at least, it is understood. For the first time in years there is a closed season on moose, which have become exceedingly scarce during the past few years. It is not known if open season will be declared on them next year.

The deer season opens September 15, and the season for ducks, woodcock, partridge and geese on October 1. The season for partridge will close November 1, unless it is extended as it was last year, and the duck, geese, woodcock and deer season closes on the last day of November.

CURBING LAID

Work has been begun by the City in placing curb stones on Church Street between Charlotte and Union. Curbing is being laid on both sides in preparation for paving. Although this street was not included in the paving program outlined for this year, it may be paved, it was announced by City Engineer J. D. MacKay, because the original program will be completed before scheduled time.

NINTH ANNUAL U. N. B. SUMMER SCHOOL CLOSES

Enrollment of 108 Was Second Largest in the History of Provincial Institution.

U. N. B. Opens Sept. 20

Two New Members On Staff—Prof. Donald B. Marsh and Dr. L. W. Harkness.

The ninth annual summer school of the University of New Brunswick came to a close today, having been in session for six weeks, starting July 12. Examinations began on Thursday, and ended today.

This year's school was very successful, it was stated this morning by J. W. Sears, registrar of the University. Starting at 95 on the day the college opened, the enrollment reached the total of 108, the second largest in the short history of the summer courses. Of these, 14 were Roman Catholic sisters, it was said.

None of the students enrolled have completed their courses leading to the degree of bachelor of arts, but some will be eligible for the degrees by next Emuena, after they have completed the required winter reading.

Supplemental examinations at the University will commence on Tuesday, September 14, with lectures beginning on the following Monday, September 20. The University staff will be the same as last year, with the exception that L. W. Harkness, M.Sc., Ph. D., will replace Dr. Brian Priestman as professor of physics, and Donald B. Marsh, Nashua, N.H., will replace B. S. Kierstead as professor of economics and political science.

Dr. Priestman has secured a year's leave of absence to go abroad, while Prof. Kierstead has accepted the position of assistant professor of political science at the University of Arizona, Tucson, Ariz., for the coming year. Dr. Harkness comes to U.N.B. from Memorial College, St. John's, Newfoundland, where he taught last year. Previous to that he taught at Acadia University.

LOCAL STORE BURGLARIZED LAST NIGHT

Sansom's Fruit Store Entered Through Back Window Sometime during the Night.

Stolen Goods Value $20

Great Care Taken By Marauders To Avoid Leaving Fingerprint Marks.

Burglars entered Sansom's Fruit Store at the corner of King and Regent streets last night and stole cigarettes, candy and other articles valued at approximately $25. A small amount of cash that had been left in the cash drawer was also taken, as well as possible further theft of fruit, which the owner of the store has been unable to check as yet.

Entrance was made through a window at the back of the store, which faces into an alley leading to King Street. The culprits broke two panes of glass out of the sash and the wooden strip between the two in order to force a larger opening. They took all the broken glass with them, apparently to leave no fingerprints behind on the shattered pieces.

The owner, however, believes that prints may have been left on the sill and the upper panes of the window, which were not broken, as well as on the cash drawer.

The instrument used to force the entry was not left behind, and as far as the owner of the store can ascertain, no clues other than possible fingerprints were left.

Interviewed this afternoon, Mr. Sansom stated that he understands that a family living across the way on King Street heard a noise similar to the breaking of glass some time in the night, but the rumor has not been substantiated.

It is believed that police are investigating the rumor this afternoon. This is one of several burglaries which have taken place in this city during recent months, and in the majority of cases no person connected with any of the breaks has been brought to justice.
