

New York Giants Win and Tigers Take Game From Cleveland

Draw Completed For Golf Tourney

The most picturesque course of the Fredericton Golf Club will be the focal point of the sphere of provincial sports this week on Tuesday and Wednesday, when the annual tournament of the New Brunswick Ladies' Golf Association will be staged featuring the 36-hole medal play for the New Brunswick ladies' golf championship.

Mrs. H. G. Chestnut of this city, president of the Association, announced, following the draw for Tuesday's play that there were 48 challengers from nine clubs in the province for the title held by Mrs. D. A. Lindsay of Woodstock, who is returning this year to defend her title. Miss Audrey McLeod, of Saint John, runner-up last year will also be in the play.

Pairings by the provincial executive for the first 18 holes of first and second division play brought together Mrs. Lindsay and Miss Maggie Jean Chestnut, ladies' champion of the Fredericton Club and Miss Audrey McLeod and Mrs. C. W. Argue, also of the Fredericton Club.

Mrs. C. P. Holden, president of the Fredericton Women's Golf Club, will preside over the formal opening and the address of welcome to visiting golfers will be made by D. W. Wallace, president of the club. Tuesday evening Mrs. C. P. Holden and the ladies' club of this city will be hosts at bridge for the entertainment of tournament players.

A field of 13 are paired together for the second division for The Telegraph-Journal trophy, second division provincial championship and the tee match leaving 36 in the swing for the provincial championship, the T. Eaton trophy and the team matches. Driving approaching and putting competitions will also add flavor to the tournament.

The legend to be used during the tournament by The Daily Mail to denote the club of the players will be as follows: (F) Fredericton, (S) Sussex, (C) Restigouche Club, Campbellton; (RW) Ridgewood, (RS) Riverside, (P) Perth, Armstrong Club, (A) Aroostook; (W) Woodstock; (E) Edmundston. The draw:

Tuesday morning, second division: Mrs. H. O. Clark (RS) and Mrs. Hedley Wilson (F) 9.00 a.m.

Mrs. E. O. Houghton (C) and Mrs. Walter Clarke (E) 9.04.

FARR SIGNED, MUST FIGHT FOR TITLE SAYS HERR MAXIE SCHMELING

NEW YORK, July 3.—Not wishing to make a point of being an authority on focus pocus, I can only say that currently I'm a little confused as to whether promoter Mike Jacobs intends to use Soldier Bartfield or the fourth Marx brother against Joe Louis at the Yankee Stadium in September. It can't be, as announced, Tommy Farr, the Englishman.

For almost in a dead heat with Promoter Jacobs' announcement, the London papers arrived today and there on the front page of the Daily Sketch and Daily Mirror are very handsome half-tones of the official signing between Farr and Max Schmeling for a fall showing at White City, London. In other words, Farr did sign for Schmeling and he'll meet him, as contracted, or the next thing he'll meet is his creditors.

The British are very old-fashioned about that. Once you're down on white paper to render services, you render promptly—or steps are taken.

Promoter Controls Fighter

Promoter Jacobs is simply doing business with the wrong man. Once that contract is signed, General Crichtley, the promoter, controlled the fighter, not his manager. I even have intimations that fighter and manager have decided they like each other, but not very much. However, if they were as Damon and Pythias, they couldn't and won't come to America until their English obligation is discharged.

Yesterday, in fact, the date of the Schmeling-Farr match was set for September 1. Today, I understand that Schmeling is cabling the New York Commission to the effect that he stands ready to meet Louis for the world's heavyweight championship after the Farr match, meaning June, 1938.

Since he knocked the man out last year, it isn't tenable that he's avoiding Louis. What he is avoiding is not getting the 40,000 pounds the British are guaranteeing him for Farr, who can box but can't hit your hat off your head and ought to be quite a touch.

These, anyhow, are the facts as I see them and I might add that those broadcast yesterday didn't make sense, in that they announced Louis and Farr for New York, meantime overlooking the fact that Louis now hasn't a license here—and won't get one until he goes through with Schmeling. As for a Chicago showing for Louis and Farr, I gravely suspect that Chicago feels that, if it never sees, Farr, it will be premature.

NEW YORK, July 3.—Two men—and two alone in the entire world—today make up the list of contenders for the heavyweight crown which Joe Louis lifted from Jim Braddock's bloodied head in the dramatic battle at Chicago.

First in line is Max Schmeling, who knocked out Louis last summer, and with that gave the new champion the only setback of his career. The only other current possibility is Bob Pastor, who was out-tangled by Louis in 10 rounds a few weeks ago. He is regarded as no better than a long shot to ever get a crack at the title.

However, because he stayed ten rounds with the Bomber, the young New York Jew and former collegian may wrangle his way back into the ring as a challenger. He, in fact, may even be the first to meet Louis.

Schmeling's play is indefinite for the time being. In something of a pique because Braddock side-tracked him and took on Louis, who seemingly had been eliminated from consideration by that knockout, the German former champion tentatively has accepted a match with Tommy Farr, the British Empire title-holder, the winner to claim the world title.

Seeking Challenger

Meanwhile, Louis and his handlers already are beating the bush in quest of a challenger and they won't be permitted to overlook Pastor. That is, Pastor is going to see to it that he gets a title match—if hollering will do it.

It will be recalled that he hollered his way into the ring against Joe Louis before, when he was being jeered at for even suggesting it. He didn't make much of a fight after he finally got in, but neither did Louis. Pastor not only survived but really had Louis looking pretty silly before the thing was over.

As Pastor views the situation now, the one man he will not box is Jim Braddock—a match about which there has been some talk—and the one man he will not let escape him is Louis.

"I'm going to pound Louis until I get a title fight," Pastor said with Jimmy Johnston, Jr., his manager, who is a son of the Madison Square Garden promoter, confirming it.

Wants Only Louis

"Yes, We intend to get back in the ring with Louis—and this time prove that he can be licked by Pastor, just as we proved before that Louis couldn't knock Pastor out," Johnston said.

As for meeting Braddock, Pastor said that was one match he positively would not accept "under any circumstances; not even for $100,000."

This stand, Pastor explained, was taken because he was afraid of what he might do to Braddock.

"Joe Louis hit me only three times in 10 rounds, and he murdered Braddock. After two rounds Braddock's legs were gone and after four rounds he couldn't hold his hands up. I don't want to be a party to anything that might happen to Braddock if he tries to fight again.

"I want Louis for the title—and I'll get him."

LOCAL GOLF

R. V. Limerick won the monthly handicap and sweepstakes play on Saturday afternoon at the Fredericton Golf Club, when he scored a net 64 over a fair field of golfers. R. S. FitzRandolph was second with a net 68.

The afternoon's play was as follows: R. B. Graham 71; C. R. Barry 80; E. A. MacKay 73; R. S. FitzRandolph 68; A. McF. Limerick 72; J. W. Sears 70; A. V. Limerick 64; Rev. Mr. Brundage 91 and George W. Chapman 91.

CHAMP GOLFERS ARE MADE, NOT BORN SAYS HAIG

LONDON, July 3.—Champion golfers are "made" not "born." One may be born with a flare for the game—but only constant practice and concentration with every type of shot will make a real champion and a great player.

Such was the belief expressed today by one of the greatest golfers of all time, Walter Hagen, who is over here to serve as non-playing captain on the American Ryder Cup team and to try to recapture the British Open championship.

Hagen, in an exclusive interview with International News Service said:

"All golfers can improve their game by continually playing and practicing, but a champion must never let up if he wants to remain a champ."

Last Inning Slugfest Beats Brooklyn Ace

Feller Makes First Since April Twenty-Fourth

NEW YORK, July 4.—Van Lingle Mungo had the Giants eating out of his hand for six innings today, but they put on a display of batting fireworks in the seventh and eighth innings to score all their runs and top Brooklyn Dodgers 6-5.

In the seventh inning, the Giants found the range and scored their first two runs, and in the eighth they belted Mungo out, scored four runs and put the game on ice.

Boston Bees made it nine victories in their last 10 starts when they swept both ends of a doubleheader with the Phillies. The scores were 14-9 in the first game and 4-2 in the second which went ten innings.

St. Louis defeated the Reds twice in Cincinnati, taking a six-inning rain-swept nightcap 5-2 after "Dizzy" Dean hurled a 1 to 0 victory in the opener for his 12th win of the season.

Get Six Hours of Ball

After huddling in the stands a full hour during a first-inning rainstorm, a capacity 36,744 Chicago crowd was treated to six hours of spectacular baseball as the Cubs bombed Cy Blanton from the mound to defeat Pittsburgh 8-5 in the opener. The Cubs lost second game 7-6 when a ninth inning rally fell short with the tying run on third base.

Giants dropped their first decision in seven starts when they lost 7-4 to Boston Bees.

Cincinnati Reds nosed out St. Louis' "Gas House Gang" 3-2 in ten innings while Philadelphia trounced Brooklyn 7-2.

Tigers Win

NEW YORK, July 4.—Bob Feller, American League strike-out champion, ran his season's record to two starts and two defeats today as Detroit Tigers defeated Cleveland Indians 3-2 in Cleveland in a game cut short by rain after seven innings.

Feller, making his first start since April 24, went four innings before Mel Harder replaced him.

In those four innings Feller struck out four men, gave up one hit and four walks, made an error, and let in three unearned runs, which proved enough to win the game for Detroit.

"I threw it away," Feller said afterward. Manager Steve O'Neill announced the 10 year old Iowan would take his regular turn on the mound hereafter.

Vernon (Lefty) Gomez of the league-leading Yankees pitched five hit ball to shut out Senators 7-0 in Washington.

Homers Win Game

The Browns matched the White Sox hits in the first game, but home runs by Zeke Bonura and Mike Kreevich gave Chicago the contest.

In the second game, Dixie Walker homered for the Sox in the third, driving in two runs ahead of him.

Boston Red Sox took two games from Philadelphia Athletic for their 15th triumph in the last 17 home games.

A Home Improvement Plan

"You know this Home Improvement Plan?" said Mr. Picobac, helping himself to a match from the manager's desk. "Well, it's got me into a jam."

"How's that?" asked his friend, Mr. H. B. "Pete" Christie, bank manager and financial counsel.

"I saw about it in the paper and showed it to Mrs. Picobac, and I said it might be a good time to put in one of these improved inglenooks they have nowadays to smoke in. You know—with a brick fire-place and seats at each side for a pal or two."

"And what did Mrs. Picobac say?"

"She thought it was just the time to modernize the kitchen like the magazine pictures," chuckled Mr. Picobac. "So we had to compromise . . . we compromised on the kitchen, and I'm here applying for a Home Improvement loan for $300."

"I think you are wise," said the manager. "That kitchen will give her a lot of pleasure—and you don't need any special place to smoke Picobac in."

"Yes," said Mr. Picobac, his face wreathed in smiles. "Picobac's a mild, cool, sweet smoke in a pipe—anytime, any place!"

Don Budge has turned the tables in the tennis world. Even the great Big Bill Tilden didn't expect the American to reach such heights. He showed sparkling ability in the concluding rounds of the All-England Singles, when he copped the title, and then came to the top again in the mixed matches to share the men's doubles with Mako, and the mixed match with Alice Marble.

The meet of the New Brunswick Ladies Golf Association next week comes to the fore in the local sport news. With nine clubs participating, and 48 challengers for the title now held by Mrs. D. A. Lindsay, we should see some exciting golf at the Fredericton course tomorrow and the next day.

Bob Feller had a little hard luck yesterday, when he let the Tigers get a little out of control. Feller may be a swell hurler, but his inexperience against him, so the present flop shouldn't be counted too heavily against him. The best of hurlers have "bum days" so the next one may be a little brighter for the 18 year old Iowan.

Van Lingle Mungo apparently can twirl a mean ball. He kept the National league champs blanked with a single hit for the opening six innings but began to slip in the seventh, when the Giants found the range and blasted in two runs, increasing again in the eighth with four more.
