POLICE CONTINUE SEARCH FOR THE WRIGHT TRIO

Wanted Men Said to Be Hiding in Woods Near Perth

The announcement was made this morning at the headquarters of "J" Division, R.C.M.P., that no new developments have taken place in connection with the search for the three Wright brothers, whose daring break from Hampton jail early Monday morning resulted in a widespread manhunt. The desperadoes are cornered in the Scotch Colony district, a short distance from Perth. The police are scouring the heavily wooded territory and it is thought that the escaped trio will be recaptured within a few hours.

The three escaped from the Hampton jail on Monday morning, made a quick getaway in a stolen car at Hampton and are thought to have reached Bath in a car stolen in Fredericton from Leonard Griesbach, assistant superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Station.

The men were believed to be in Devon late Tuesday night, according to the reports of residents who claim they saw men peering into the windows of different residences there. The men allegedly seen were said to answer the descriptions of the wanted jail-breakers.

STRAWBERRY GROWERS ORGANIZE FOR PURPOSE OF MARKETING PRODUCTS

Meeting at Waterboro Last Evening

Directors Elected

Provincial Department Will Co-operate

An organization for the purpose of supervising the marketing of strawberries in the Grand Lake district was formed at a meeting of strawberry growers held last evening at Waterboro. Preliminary plans regarding the proposed formation were taken at the meeting and D. O. Motz was appointed provisional president of the new body which will be known as the "Strawberry Growers Association."

J. K. King, deputy minister of agriculture for New Brunswick, who attended the meeting, stated this morning that he was much impressed with the interest shown by the growers in that district. Marketing has been one of the major problems faced by the growers, Mr. King said, pointing out that the organization of the new association was definitely a step in the right direction.

Commenting on the prospects for this year's strawberry crop, the deputy minister stated that there was every indication that the "winter killing" was not as serious as was anticipated earlier in the season. However, he continued, the season is a bit too early to predict the extent of this year's production.

Will Co-operate

Mr. King, referring to the formation of the marketing association, stated that his department would co-operate in every way to assist the members. The growers are realizing the potentialities of this phase of the agriculture industry and will make every effort to better the quality of their products. The department will co-operate with the new association regarding the "setting-up" of the organization and will also assist in the grading and shipping of berries.

Among the provisional directors elected last night were Burpee McBean, Harold Springer and McLean Sharpe. The newly elected executive will meet soon to further discuss matters relative to organization work. At the meeting a large number of growers enrolled as charter members of the association.

Local Improvement Association Doing Excellent Work

J. J. F. Winslow, K.C., was elected vice-president of the Local Improvement Association and not W. G. Clark, M.P., as was reported in our paper yesterday. We have been requested to make this correction. Mr. Winslow has for several years taken an active part in the work of the association. The Local Improvement Association is one organization that deserves the hearty support of all who are interested in seeing Fredericton kept in a good condition. Nature has done much for our pretty little city and it is up to all citizens to do their part towards keeping it nice. This applies alike to private places and public dwellings.

RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT

C. F. Bailey, superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Station, Fredericton, was re-elected president of the Maritime Stock Breeders' Association at the annual meeting in Amherst yesterday. Mr. Bailey is expected to return to Fredericton this evening.

OFFICIALS MOOT ESTABLISHMENT CANNERY SYSTEM

Scheme Would Benefit Farmers in New Brunswick

The feasibility of the establishment of a "kitchen cannery" system in the province is being considered by leading agricultural authorities throughout New Brunswick. C. F. Bailey, superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Station, Fredericton, who is at present attending a meeting of the Maritime Stock Breeders' Association in Amherst, is extremely interested in the proposed scheme.

It was pointed out that the system is worked on the Niagara peninsula, stating that the huge canneries there work in co-operation with farmers' wives for miles around. These women are provided with modern equipment for canning, and they send the finished product, minus a label, to the central cannery.

Here, the goods are labelled and are sent out under the firm name, about 50 per cent. of the average cannery's output being accomplished in this way.

It was stated that proper canning equipment could be put in the hands of the average country housewife for about $21. Under government supervision, she could be instructed in the procedure, and regularly would be issued with a certain number of cans.

Peas and Beans

Her activities would at first be limited to products such as peas and beans, commodities which are grown on practically every farm in the province.

"This scheme has been tried here before with little success, because of the lack of some force to push it ahead," an official said.

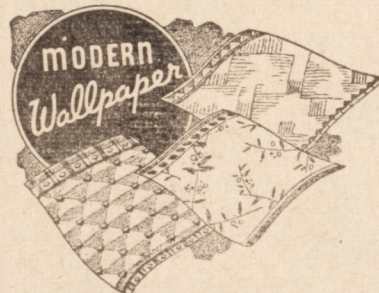

"In time, we think that it will be possible to do away almost entirely with imports of canned goods from the centralized Ontario production area, and money which hitherto flowed to Upper Canada will flow directly into the pockets of our farmers."

Former Student Nurse Passes at Gagetown

Many friends will regret to learn of the passing of Mrs. Charlotte Bird, wife of Glen D. Bird, which occurred last evening at the home of her mother, Mrs. R. D. Gaunce, Upper Gagetown. Surviving are her husband, mother and two sisters. The body will be brought to Fredericton today and will rest at the home of her mother-in-law, 173 Brunswick Street until tomorrow afternoon when the funeral will take place at 3 o'clock. Interment will be made in Upper Keswick.
