SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Bridge Hostess

Mrs. William Warwick was hostess at a delightful four-table bridge last evening at her home. The ladies prizes were won by Mrs. C. J. Mersean and Mrs. J. H. Kirk. The winners of the gentlemen's prizes were R. K. Nevers and E. M. Taylor.

Delightful Supper at

Fraser Memorial Hall

Over two hundred guests from the city and surrounding districts availed themselves of the opportunity of enjoying a delicious turkey supper served last evening in the Fraser Memorial Hall by the Ladies Aid of St. Paul's United Church. The menu consisted of turkey and all 'the fixings' served with mashed potatoes, green beans, celery scallop, pickles, jellies, rolls, mince pie, apple pie, tea and coffee. An efficient committee did the serving in a satisfactory manner. The decorations in charge of Miss Kate Stewart and Mrs. Harold Walker were in keeping with the approaching Christmas season. Miniature Christmas trees, Jerusalem cherries and various Christmas novelties were stressed, the serving table being centred with a silver basket of bronze mums.

A sale of Christmas cooking and fancy work found ready buyers for the numerous beautiful articles that were offered for sale. The fancy table was in charge of Mrs. P. H. Rowe assisted by Miss Betty Whitaker, Mrs. Percy Smith, Mrs. R. A. MacMillan, Mrs. Bedford Green and Mrs. Leslie Mavor. A wide display of articles included needle point and hand painted pillows, hand painted luncheon sets and other articles suitable for Christmas gifts. On the apron table over a hundred aprons were on display the table being in charge of Mrs. Roy Graham, Mrs. J. Bacon Dickson and Mrs. Harry Smith. The candy table was in charge of Mrs. James Mavor. Mrs. H. R. Logan was in charge of the kitchen and Mrs. George Chapman was convener of the dining room. A beautiful display of children's articles were shown at a booth in charge of Mrs. Kenneth Staples, Mrs. Harry Gibson, Mrs. A. B. Kitchen and Mrs. Armstrong. An attractive grab bag was in charge of Mrs. Duncan McDougall and Mrs. C. K. Gray.

An opportunity to buy excellent

Hostess at Bridge

Mrs. Harry Wilson again entertained last evening at a charmingly arranged six-table bridge. The prizes were won by Mrs. A. F. Belding, Mrs. G. R. Lister and Mrs. Fred Mundle. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. T. A. Wilson, Miss Violet Wilson, Mrs. J. H. Ramsay, Mrs. C. B. Burden, Miss Lenore M. Gerow, Mrs. I. B. Rouse and Mrs. A. G. Coy.

St. Dunstan's Young Peoples

The regular social evening of St. Dunstan's Young People's Society was held last evening in St. Dunstan's Hall. The games and dancing were in charge of Fred Boyle and the sing-song was also enjoyed by the guests present. Vocal solos were rendered by Thomas Thompson, Miss Helen Veniot and Miss Frances Owens.

Luncheon Hostess

Mrs. J. Lorne Howatt was hostess at a luncheon yesterday at her home. Covers were laid for eight.

Leaves for Boston

Mrs. Ross, wife of Rev. G. E. Ross left last evening for Boston where she will visit her daughter Mrs. McMahon.

Returns Home

Frank Morrison who has been taking a course of studies at Baltimore, Maryland, returned home yesterday.

Christmas cooking was provided at a food table. The articles were most attractively arranged in cellophane wrappers and found ready buyers. This table was in charge of Mrs. E. R. Blackmer, Mrs. L. S. Morrison, Mrs. Ronald Evans, Mrs. McEwan, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Robert Scott. Throughout the supper and sale Miss Jean Smith rendered suitable music at the piano. Mrs. W. M. Todd president of the Aid was general hostess. Mrs. Geo. W. Brown, president of the Auxiliary presided over the tea-cups for the first hour and pouring tea and coffee were Mrs. Robert Porter, Miss Winnie Everett, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. George Telford, Mrs. Belyea, Mrs. Brewer and Mrs. J. H. Malcom. The candy table was charge of Mrs. Fred Ferris assisted by Mrs. Edison Cummings, Mrs. Bremner and Mrs. Robin Munroe.

Adopt Resolutions

Several resolutions were submitted regarding the work of the Committee on Religious Education. After some discussion the Presbytery adopted the recommendations and resolutions. Rev. E. E. Ashley was appointed convener of the committee in place of Rev. Gordon Pringle, who resigned. Rev. Dr. F. A. Wightman reported progress for the committee on Church Property, while encouraging reports were received from all aid-receiving charges visited by representatives of the Presbytery. On motion it was decided to ask the superintendent of missions to visit the Napadogan and Upper Keswick charges.

Rev. Mr. Fyche gave a report of the missionary and maintenance fund which showed an increase in contributions over last year. That Rev. Mr. Fyche was re-appointed convener of this fund seems to indicate that he will be asked to serve another period in this district.

W. M. Burns reported for the Layman's Association fund, assuring the Presbytery that the allocation will be fully reached. The Presbytery adjourned to meet at the call of the executive.

SHIP BROADCAST TOMORROW OVER MUTUAL NETWORK

A quaint and unique radio program will be offered radio listeners in Canada and United States from 12.30 to 12.45 tomorrow noon, over the coast to coast network of the Mutual Broadcasting Corporation, when "The Piping of the Haggis," originating from aboard the Anchor Line steamer S. S. Caledonia, berthed at New York City, will be featured.

The program will be rounded out by Scottish poems and songs to accompany the age-old Highland custom. WOR will be the key-station for the program.

MANY CASUALTIES BY JAPANESE AIR RAIDS

(Special to The Daily Mail)

SHTUNGHAI, Nov. 24—Forty civilians were killed today at Nanking and a 100 civilians were killed at Canton by Japanese airplanes. Much damage also resulted from these air raids.

FINDS BUTTERCUP

Proof that summer has not entirely deserted us as yet was found last Saturday by Elmer Smith, Prince William, who discovered a buttercup in full bloom in a field near his home. Realizing the strangeness of his find, he mailed it to The Daily Mail in the belief that it might be of interest to our many readers.

Ever Make Lights From Vases? It's Worth Trying!

By Jean Prentice

Vases make charming decorative lighting units when wired and equipped with 100-watt bulbs. The interiors of the vases must be pure white, of course. Some stores carry them already wired. The effect produced is charming indeed.

WE hear so much about indirect lighting nowadays. Architects and decorators who strive for soft, pleasing effects invariably incorporate it into their plans and designs by means of built-in coves and panels.

A very simple and effective way to achieve lighting of this type is by means of ordinary vases. That is, ordinary vases that are given a different sort of treatment. Let me tell you about it. It's really quite simple, and costs a mere trifle.

Must Harmonize With Furnishings

The vases are selected to harmonize with the decorative scheme of the room, then wired to accommodate a 100-watt bulb. Some of them come ready-made in this way, and may be obtained at most department stores and specialty shops handling objects of this kind.

Should you decide to use an old vase and do the wiring yourself, or have the work done for you, be sure that you get vases that are white on the inside, so that they will properly reflect, and not absorb the light. The small hole through which the wire runs from the lamp socket to the wall plug or convenient outlet should be drilled not at the bottom of the vase, but at the side, about an inch or so from the bottom, so that the fixture will rest on an even base. A small reflector attached to the socket inside the base will throw more light upward and onto the ceiling, where it will be reflected in all directions. (Better have the wiring done by an electrical expert unless you are quite experienced at this sort of thing.)

Results Should Be Checked

Light thus obtained is very decorative in character, and provides soft general illumination. I have seen as many as four in a room, mounted on bookcases and tables where they couldn't glare into anyone's eyes, and the result was really something to enthuse about.

Of course, even the best of decorative lighting effects must be aided by light of sufficient amount from floor and table lamps, and the general result checked by a light meter to make certain that there is enough illumination for such severe eye tasks as reading and sewing. Among the advantages of supplementary decorative lighting such as is obtained from lighted vases is that the illumination in the room becomes more flexible, and may be adapted to the changing needs and requirements of the family.

This Safe, External Treatment Helps END A COLD Quicker

The 3-Minute VapoRub Massage

Massage VapoRub briskly on the throat, chest and back (between and below the shoulder blades). Then spread it thick over the chest and cover with warmed cloth.

Almost before you finish rubbing, VapoRub starts to bring relief two ways at once—two direct ways:

1. Through the Skin. VapoRub acts direct through the skin like a poultice or plaster.

2. Medicated Vapors. At the same time, its medicated vapors, released by body heat, are breathed in for hours—about 18 times a minute—direct to the irritated air-passages. This combined poultice-and-vapor action loosens phlegm—relieves irritation—helps break congestion.

During the night, VapoRub keeps right on working. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Avoids Risk of Stomach Upsets

This safe, external treatment cannot possibly upset the stomach, as constant internal "dosing" is so apt to do. It can be used freely, as often as needed, even on the youngest child.
