JURY GOES

"Did you really remember what you have said here, or did you hear previous evidence and think that this is what must have been said?" questioned Mr. Gunter.The witness made no audible answer, and the defense counsel did not press the point.

Saw Pair Together

The next witness to be called by the prosecution was Samuel Brawn, who testified that he had seen Miss Painter on the road in the company of the accused on the night of Aug.
29. He was briefly cross-examined by the counsel for the defense on some of the points of his testimony.Durward Jones, 17 year old youth who was at the Painter house on the evening of Aug. 29, confirmed the testimony of Miss Painter as to the accused offering the informant a job working for him at $18 per month. On question, he said that the reputation of Miss Painter in the community was good. The witness continued his testimony, in general repeating what Miss Painter said yesterday, which is reported on page two of today's paper.

Reputation Good

Constable David J. Evans, Fredericton detachment, R.C.M.P., who had arrested the accused on Sept. 7, stated that at the time of the arrest he had gone to the home of the informant and obtained some under-clothes from a sister of Agnes Painter. He was handed the undergarments which were offered in evidence last night, and identified them as those he had received from Agnes Painter's sister. The witness, who has known the Painter family for years, stated that the girl bore a good reputation in her community.On being called as a witness by the prosecution, Mabel Painter, 18 year old sister of the informant. She also identified the underclothes in evidence, and said that it was she who gave them to Constable Evans.
The case for the prosecution being concluded, Mr. Gunter stated there was no defense witnesses. Court was recessed until 2:30 this afternoon, when both attorneys summed up their cases, the jury was instructed by Mr.
Justice Richards, and the jury left the room to consider the case and arrive at a verdict.EVENING Voca-

Trained Instructress for "Y"

The first fall meeting of the Board of Directors of the Community "Y" was held this week. Program plans were discussed at some length.Among the business to be transacted was the adoption in principle of a new constitution which makes a joint Y. M. C. A.-Y. W. C. A. set-up and entitles ladies to be elected to the Board of Directors of the joint body which shall be known as the Community "Y".
In order to further women's and girl's work, the directors decided to hire a trained Y.W.C.A. instructress with experience in physical education. They received word this morning from the Y.W.C.A. National Council confirming the appointment of Miss Betty Brigham who will arrive here in the city Tuesday or Wednesday to take over her new duties. Miss Brigham is a graduate of Margaret Eaton College and for the past two years has been serving as a Physical Instruct-ress at the Y.W.C.A. in Saskatoon where her work was very well received.The local directors state that Miss Brigham comes very highly recommended by the National Council of the Y.W.C.A. and they are looking forward to a successful expansion of the work they are already doing with women and girls. They point out that securing a trained worker is made possible by the fact that the Y.W.C.A.
National Council has a fund for Extension purposes from which they will pay a portion of Miss Brigham's salary. The local directors will make up the balance from funds raised for that purpose last spring.

An Old Autumnal Story

My heart should not be troubled by this thing;When will it learn that maples gone to flameAre but the sequel to another spring.
The final syllable of summer's name?And what the old beech scatters through the grassIs not of gold, though it appear to be; My heart should know that what has come to pass

Is but the autumn stripping of a tree.

But always still, I make too much of these—Old tales of beeches and of maples burning.That have another telling in the trees Of every autumn—and the heart goes learningOver again its own autumnal story.
From these slow griefs and this brief golden glory.

A New Feature

Besides the courses that have been offered in previous seasons and which have been well attended, the Committee have decided to offer one additional class this term. A class in Rapid Calculation and Business English will be in charge of Miss Helen Scott of the Commercial Department of the Fredericton High School. Miss Scott has had much experience in teaching commercial subjects and is well qualified to give instruction in these subjects.The object in the establishing of this course is the training of young men and women for positions as clerks; and to give to persons, already engaged in clerical work, training that will qualify them for promotions. There are many young men and women who should think seriously before deciding that they cannot afford the time. Four hours per week for ten weeks is but a short time to give up to preparation for higher positions. Employers are always looking for those who are prepared to take on greater responsibility and will select those whom they see preparing themselves for it.Instead of a closing night at the end of each term, the Committee have decided to establish as a regular practice the experiment which was carried out at the end of the last term, an annual closing at the end of the second term. The closing to be in the auditorium of the High School; and to include such demonstrations of work and displays of hand craft as are possible. The presentation of certificates to those who have attended two terms and who have become proficient in their work will be an important part of the programme.The fact that New Brunswick is advertised as leading the other provinces of Canada in illiteracy should cause all good citizens to think seriously on this subject. The General Education Course presents a splendid opportunity for those unable to read or write to acquire these fundamentals at no cost. The course in General Education is to be entirely free. This course should be so popular that additional teachers should be required to give instruction to those desiring it. The course is not limited to those who cannot read or write but is open to all, over the age of sixteen, who wish to attend it, and to improve their knowledge.Time Builds
