Encaenial Exercises At The University This Afternoon

Excellent and Scholarly Addresses Heard This Afternoon

The old University of New Brunswick today bade farewell to another graduating class. The clergy, the faculty, the academic world, distinguished graduates and interested parents and citizens—all were represented as the 69 students received their degrees at the Memorial Hall of the University.

It is one hundred and thirty seven years ago since the college on the hill then established as the College of New Brunswick graduated its first class. It did not however grant degrees until later. Today's ceremony was a tribute to a long continuous period of progress. The College of New Brunswick functioned continuously at King's College until the year 1860, when it took its present designation as the University of New Brunswick.

Besides the sixty nine degrees conferred this afternoon an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred on G. Fred McNally, deputy minister of Education for the Province of Alberta, and Professor W. K. Hatt, of Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, received the degree of Doctor of Science. These with six Masters degrees brought the total up to 77.

Today's programme opened with the academic procession which formed in the lower hall of the Main Arts building and marched to the Memorial Hall. At 2.30 o'clock the degrees were conferred and a distribution of medals, prizes and honorary certificates took place. At 2.45 o'clock Dr. G. Fred McNally delivered his address to the graduating class. Dr. McNally's address will be found elsewhere in this issue. Following the address of Dr. McNally the Alumni oration was delivered by Dr. W. Kendrick Hatt. Dr. Hatt is a former Fredericton boy and a graduate of Arts in the class of 1887. He received his M.A. in 1898 in his civil engineering degree from Cornell University in 1891. He was for a year Professor of Engineering at U.N.B. He holds a degree Ph.D. from Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, of which he is a member of the faculty. Dr. Fred McNally graduated from U.N.B. in the class of 1900. After teaching for a time at Moncton he went west in 1906. He was for a time

CHEMICAL TO CURE WORLD EPILEPTICS IS SUGGESTED BY HARVARD SCIENTISTS

PITTSBURGH, May 14—The "tantalizing thought" that a bit of chemical no larger than a mustard seed, it could be rightly divided among the brains of all persons now living, might rid the human race of epilepsy was presented in a report to the American Psychiatric Association here.

This dazzling preview of possibilities scientists are beginning to see for some day remaking sick minds, and understanding the nature of mental illness, was given in a paper, released in advanced by the association, read by William G. Lennox of Harvard Medical School.

Hundreds of psychiatrists are here for a five-day meeting dealing with epilepsy, crime, child problems, habits, psycho-analysis, brain abnormalities, nervous disorders, mental troubles, personality, birth control and sugar shock.

Farewell Class of 1937

TODAY the old University of New Brunswick graduates one of the largest classes in its history. U.N.B. first granted degrees in 1833, although the college had been in existence many years before that date. During that period many hundreds of men and women have passed from its portals, having received during their course the necessary equipment to enable them to face the battle of life. Many of these sons and daughters have carried the fame of their Alma Mater into other parts of the world and have made both for her and for themselves a reputation that will go down in history. Their example is worthy of emulation, and what man has done man may do.

To the young men and the young women who today complete their course, the future is now opening. The world is before them and it rests with themselves which path in this world they will take. The depression which has for some years past been a handicap to graduates is lifting and opportunities will present themselves. In fact for many of the young men graduates positions are now opening up. It in a large measure rests with themselves how they make use of their opportunities. In a large measure also their future success or failure is in their own hands.

The University has laid open to them the best it had to offer as a means of preparation, and they go forth on the journey of life today with the good wishes of all, that they may be able to turn the experience and knowledge gained at U.N.B. to the best advantage.

To the great benefactors of the University, such as Lord Beaverbrook and others whose scholarships have made it possible for many students to continue their studies at U. N. B., a mark of deep gratitude is due.

The President and the Faculty have done their best. Fond parents have in many cases made sacrifices that these young men and women might stand where they stand today. The students themselves have worked faithfully and well. Today a certain amount of sadness is mingled with joy as the students stand on the platform to reap the rewards of their labor of four years.

BEST WISHES TO THE CLASS OF 1937.

FIRE FLASH SEEN BEFORE ZEP BLAST

Lieut. R. S. Andrews Tells Board Heard a Noise Like Shell

LAKEHURST, N. J., May 14—Lieut. Richard S. Andrews told a Government Board of Inquiry today that he saw a flash of fire just before the explosion which shot flames through the structure of the dirigible Hindenburg a week ago.

Previously Lieut. Benjamin May had testified that he saw the ship's structure, aft of the rear motor gondola on the port side, burst outward before he heard the explosion. Investigators believed that if this is true, a propeller blade might have broken off and pierced the side, causing sparks which ignited the gas.

"I saw a flash first, and almost simultaneously heard an explosion," Andrews said. "It sounded like a shell or gunpowder. This was followed by a definite detonation."

Andrews said the flames were yellow, tinged with blue, assuming a reddish color, and were "shooting horizontally," from the ship.

Andrews said he did not see anything like fabric moving, or anything like a structural break before the flash, but he did see sparks from an engine exhaust.

SAINT JOHN, May 14—In an effort to encourage the musical talent of New Brunswick, and to educate its people that they might become music lovers, the first New Brunswick Competitive Music Festival is being staged in Saint John starting today.
