

World Heavyweight Fistic Champ Fails to Meet Maxie Schmeling

Braddock Suspended And Fined $1000 by Athletic Commission

Teuton Scrapper Thinks Decision "Rotten" --- Gould Fined

NEW YORK, June 3—Heavyweight champion James J. Braddock was fined $1,000 and suspended indefinitely by the New York State Athletic Commission today for failing to keep his heavyweight championship engagement with Max Schmeling here to-night.

Braddock's manager, Joe Gould, drew a similar suspension and fine. About all the disappointed Schmeling got for his five trips across the ocean, a wasted training grind and an expenditure of something like $25,000 was a nice, large eight ball.

In announcing the decision in the famous "phantom fight case," Chairman John J. Phelan said he also was advising Boxing Commissions in states with which New York is affiliated that any boxer who meets Braddock before the champ defends his title against Schmeling will be suspended.

This was a direct shot at the scheduled June 22 Chicago battle between Braddock and the brown bombing Joe Louis of Detroit for which both men are now in training.

In Chicago, however, Joe Triner, chairman of the Illinois State Athletic Commission said the suspension of Braddock would not be recognized and that it would not interfere with the bout in Comiskey Park.

A burned-up Schmeling, flanked by an equally burned-up trainer and manager, dashed from the Commission offices, looking for the nearest court.

Although they first refused to make a statement until "we have seen our attorneys," Schmeling and Manager Joe Jacobs later shot off plenty of steam in their hotel.

"It was a rotten decision," Schmeling said. "They have made a joke of the heavyweight title. A suspension means nothing. Bah!"

Schmeling, who says he was personally assured by Chairman Phelan that the Commission would "protect" him, thinks Braddock's title should have been vacated.

Would Not Claim Title
"I would not claim it," he said. "But they should name me the leading contender and then run a tournament to decide who will fight me."

Schmeling was so upset he seized a newspaper picture of a somewhat chubby champion enjoying a shower bath and hurled it to the floor, exclaiming:

"That's how our champion looks. I've spent almost $30,000 hunting him and look what I get."

Except to say that the decision automatically cancels tonight's scheduled bout, Col. John Reed Kitpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden, would not comment.

"I'm awaiting the decision of the federal courts in Philadelphia on our application for an order restraining Braddock from fighting Louis," he said. "When that is handed down I will have plenty to say, win or lose."

The commission ordered the $5,000 cheque posted by Braddock as a forfeit be divided between Schmeling and the garden.

The boys aren't the only ones who can swing a bat. The girls are forming a softball league, and from all appearances they have the material. We watched the "Aberdeen Amazons" work out last night at Wilmot Park, and we warn all others who enter the league, that these "wim-men" can sock a ball for a loss.

Right now the girls are having financial difficulty in keeping a supply of balls ahead. It seems that the ordinary softball is a "softy" when they swing the willow at it. They just can't take it, and explode with the force of the blow, resulting in a pulverized mass of yarn and horse-hide. We admit, it makes it impossible for the opponents to field the ball, but at the same time the finances of the club won't stand 20 to 25 new balls per game.

The Yellow and Black leaves for Saint John today, with all the team and its supporters confident that a nice assortment of "mugs" will come back to add to the honor of F.H.S.

Diz Dean is still "popping off." He is threatening to sue the league heads for taking his job. If he does and wins the toss, his little blow-up the other day won't do him any harm. $250,000 will pay for a lot of damage.

Diz now has company, while outside looking in. Jimmy Braddock got the bounce from the N. Y. Boxing Commission for not meeting Maxie last night. The $1,000 fine should make anyone fighting mad, let alone a man who makes fighting his business.

The ruling also says that any man who fights Jimmy before he meets Schmeling is automatically suspended also. Wonder what Joey Louis will say to this?

Besides telling no tales, dead men are out of luck. A ticket worth $3,000 on the Epsom Derby was held by a man who died the first of May.

The Indians are on the war-path again. Scalpings are becoming popular again, and it seems that the hatchet is safely above ground.

YOUNG RETURNS IN TRIUMPH TO HOME YESTERDAY

MONTREAL, June 3—With a second marathon victory safely tucked away in the brief period of one month, Walter Young, winner of the Boston marathon one month ago and of the Salisbury Beach, Mass., marathon on Memorial Day, returned triumphant to Verdun today.

Jubilant and beaming with a constant unassuming smile, he was greeted with open arms at Mayor Herve Ferland's home today to thank the municipality's first magistrate for the encouragement he had received.

An intimated reception followed at the City Hall where Mayor Ferland, Ald. George Brown, who accompanied Young to the United States; Ald. Georges Duquette, J. R. French, city controller, and other civic officials congratulated him for his second victory.

Mayor Ferland said he was proud of Young, happy that he had made such a "find" in Verdun and determined to encourage to the greatest possible extent in the future for other marathons.

"This is the first real marathon runner Verdun has ever had and the municipality intends to keep him at all costs. Few people realize what a real boost Young is for Verdun," Mayor Ferland stated.

After the reception, Young accompanied by the Verdun Mayor and a number of other civic officials, visited various public works undertakings where he displayed the trophy he had won in Salisbury Beach, Mass. At every stop, Young was greeted with cheers and applause.

And after this trip around the municipality, Young is not the only happy man as Mayor Ferland and members of the council granted two days' holiday to the 450 men on relief works.

IMPROVING

NEW YORK, June 3—Dr. Emmet Walsh today said Mickey Cochrane, Detroit baseball manager, was making steady improvement but insisted the "danger wasn't altogether over yet."

"As far as can be seen, all is well and Cochrane is making rapid progress," said Dr. Walsh, "but he isn't definitely out of the danger zone. We are on guard against complications."

'Diz' Dean Threatens To Sue League Pres.

Cards Hurler Has Three Alternatives --- Will Not Apologize

NEW YORK, June 3—Still under indefinite suspension, as a result of his refusal to sign a disavowal of alleged attacks on National League president Ford Frick and Umpire George Barr, "Dizzy" Dean late today threatened to sue Frick and the league for $250,000 "damages."

"I'll appeal to Commissioner Landis," said Dean, "and if that doesn't get me anywhere, I'll sue Frick and the National League for plenty—at least a quarter of a million—foxes prying me of my job."

Dean, "popping off" at intervals to newspapermen, resisted all efforts to have him sign a modified "explanation" and "loyalty" pledge, much less an apology.

The deadlock between the star right-handed pitcher of St. Louis Cardinals and Frick, who banished Dean yesterday "for conduct detrimental to the best interests of baseball," re-roostered unbroken after a heated two-hour conference, attended also by Frank Frisch, manager, and Clarence Apolize for. My conscience is clear."

Lloyd, secretary, of the St. Louis club.

Faced With Alternatives
Automatically off the Cardinal payroll for the duration of his banishment, Dean now faces the alternative of (1) changing his mind and signing a formal disavowal of his alleged "popoffs" or (2) appealing to Commissioner Landis for a hearing, after a 10-day interval. Frick made it clear that the next move was up to "Dizzy."

Although Dean made a blanket denial, verbally, that he delivered any statements reflecting upon the honesty or integrity of league officials, he steadfastly refused to affix his signature to any form of refutation.

Not even when urged to do so by Secretary Lloyd, on behalf of President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Club, would Dean consent to sign a fourth and final compromise statement from which the word "apology" was eliminated, in a last-minute conciliatory move by Frick.

Glancing out from Frick's office, on the 19th floor of an office building, Dean said:

"I'll jump out this window before I'll sign anything. I've got nothing to

INDIANS SCORE VICTORY OVER YANKEES SQUAD

NEW YORK, June 3—The Indians pulled up to three games of the American League lead at Cleveland today by whipping the pace-setting New York Yankees 6-2 behind Mel Harder's effective pitching.

Although touched for 11 hits, three of them by Lou Gehrig, Harder held the Yanks scoreless through the first six innings to chalk up his third victory.

Lefty Gomez started for the Yanks but gave way to "Blubber" Malone in the eighth inning, after being lifted for a pinch-hitter. The erratic south-paw gave up three runs in his seven-inning tour of duty and Malone allowed the Indians the other three in the eighth.

Homers by Zeke Bonura and Tony Piet and the wildness of four Boston pitchers enabled Chicago White Sox to score an 11-4 win at home today.

Wes Ferrell was chased by the Chicagoans in a five-run fourth-inning attack which included Bonura's seventh homer of the season.

Washington Senators at Detroit too kadvantage of the wildness of took advantage of the wildness of pitchers, today to score a 5-4 victory. A pass to "Buddy" Lewis by Sorrell in the eighth forced Joe Kuhel home with the winning run.

NEW YORK, June 3—Lou Fette, Boston Bees 30-year-old right-hander, stretched his personal winning streak to four straight at Boston today as he handed Pittsburgh Pirates their first shutout of the year 6-0.

Between Fette, who muffled the league-leaders with seven hits, and Wally Berger, who clouted two homers that drove in four runs, the Pirates never had a chance after the Bees posted a four-run lead in the first inning.

The defeat cut only half a game from the Pirates' league lead, since the rest of the circuit was rained out.

"I'm for Peace,"

... said Mr. PICOBAC

A benign expression spread over Mr. Picobac's countenance. Removing his pipe, he leaned against the desk of the Essex Centre Grand Central Hotel, and gazed at his audience of two.

"I'm a peaceful man," repeated he. "I try to be a good neighbour, same as President Roosevelt does . . . and Mr. Baldwin. But . . ."

"You don't like people to walk on you," suggested George Boniface, genial proprietor of the hostelry.

"Peace with self-respect," agreed the Burley tobacco patriot. "Canada is a self-governing, self-respecting Dominion in the British Commonwealth of Nations. She's not looking for trouble. But I'll say she will hold up her end if trouble ever starts."

"Well, don't start anything around here," advised Gus, who drives the bus that meets all the trains.

"Don't worry," rejoined Mr. Picobac, puffing in great content. "I won't. As long as I have enough Picobac tobacco for a mild . . . cool . . . sweet smoke, there'll be no trouble with me. I'll keep the peace and be a friendly neighbour."
