SCHOOLS NOT TO RE-OPEN TILL SEPT. 27

Announcement of Further Postponement Made This Morning

Not Long Enough Since Peak of Infantile Paralysis Outbreak to Warrant Re-Opening of the Schools, Says Hon. A. P. Paterson

The public schools of New Brunswick, including the Provincial Normal School, will not reopen until September 27, it was announced this morning by Hon. A. P. Paterson, Minister of Education, Federal and Municipal Relations. It is felt by authorities of the Provincial Department of Health and Labor, who recommended the further postponement to Hon. Mr. Paterson, that insufficient time has elapsed since the peak of the outbreak of infantile paralysis was reached to warrant the reopening of the schools on next Monday, as was originally scheduled.

The text of the statement released this morning by Hon. Mr. Paterson is as follows:

"While, during the past week, cases of infantile paralysis have been reported in only two localities not previously affected, and while conditions in localities already affected show considerable improvement, it is felt that sufficient time has not elapsed since the peak of the outbreak to warrant the opening of public schools at present.

"It is necessary, also, to give due consideration to the fact that cases have occurred in seventeen localities in eight counties.

Consequently, the order to keep public schools closed is continued until September 27. This applies also to Provincial Normal School.

This is the third time that the reopening of the public schools after the summer vacation has been postponed. The schools were scheduled to open on Sept. 7, the day after Labor Day, but an order from the Department of Education, Federal and Municipal Relations, on the recommendation of the Department of Health and Labor, set the opening date six days ahead, to Sept. 13. Further postponement was made to Sept. 20.

No New Cases

No new cases of poliomyelitis, or infantile paralysis have been reported anywhere in New Brunswick during the past two days, leaving the provincial total still at 56. The last cases diagnosed were two at Saint John on Tuesday afternoon.

The situation with reference to infantile paralysis in the Province was thoroughly reviewed at a conference this morning between Hon. J. B. McNair, Acting Minister of Health, Hon. A. P. Paterson, Minister of Education, Federal and Municipal Relations, Dr. William Warwick, Chief Medical Officer, consulting with Hon. Dr. W. F. Roberts, Minister of Health.

It was stated by Hon. Mr. McNair following the conference that it is very necessary to continue the ban on children attending public gatherings. While the order may work a hardship in certain cases, he said it is felt that it is in the public interest and that no other course is justifiable at the present time.

All parents are earnestly requested to do their part to make the order effective.

The greatest outbreak of the disease has been at and near Saint John. Thirty of the Province's 56 cases have been in that city alone. Only three deaths have been reported during the outbreak, the vast majority of the cases having been caught early and successfully treated with anti-paralysis serum.

With the continuance of the ban against attendance of children at schools will continue that which restrains them from attending any public function of any sort, such as church, fairs, theatres, etc.

FISH & GAME ASSN. URGES CHANGE IN HUNTING SEASONS

S.C. Young Chosen President—W. R. Hay, F. C. Cooper, W. M. Todd, Rev. Dr. F. A. Wightman Elected to Executive.

Recommendations calling for a closed season on moose, geese and brant in 1938, setting the deer season back fifteen days, and opening the duck season on Sept. 15 to continue for two and one-half months were the highlights for the business session of the New Brunswick Fish and Game Protective Association held in City Hall yesterday.

The election of officers resulted in the choice of S. C. Young, Saint John as president to replace Dr. E. H. Cook, St. Stephen. W. K. Hay, president of the local branch was elected first vice-president; John Burpee, president of the Moncton Branch, second vice-president; and F. Cedric Cooper, W. M. Todd and Rev. Dr. F. A. Wightman, all of this city, were re-elected secretary, treasurer, and provincial editor respectively. Harry C. Moore, Fredericton, was appointed associate editor, while J. B. Kinghorn, Fredericton and Rev. Dr. Wightman were appointed to the audit committee.

The convention which closed with a banquet at the Waverley Hotel last evening, was attended by 115 delegates from 24 branches of the Association.

Increase Length of Season

Most important of the game regulations which will be urged on the government will include one favouring the continued closed season on moose in 1938, another suggesting that the deer season open on October 1 instead of Sept. 15, and close on Dec. 15 instead of on Nov. 30; and the recommendation that the duck season open on the mainland on Sept. 15 and continue until Nov. 30. The matter of zoning was the object of considerable discussion, but was not approved.

It was felt that if the province were zoned great difficulty would be encountered in enforcing the regulations and restricting illegal hunting. A difference in seasons in various parts of the province would bring up the difficulty that a man may have ducks in his possession out of season in that zone, but it would be difficult to prove whether the ducks were shot in the closed zone or in the section where the season was still open. The new resolution concerning the ducks extends the season for 15 days and it is believed that it will give all parts of the Province a fair season.

Less Unemployment In N. B. Than in Any Other Province

Statement by Premier Dysart at Fish and Game Association Dinner Last Night—Roads To Be Completed Next Year

New Brunswick has the smallest unemployment ratio of any province in the Dominion, stated Hon. A. A. Dysart, K.C., Premier and Minister of Public Works, in his reply to the toast to New Brunswick at the banquet of the New Brunswick Fish and Game Protective Association in the Waverley Hotel last evening.

Other highlights of the address included the announcement that two months of next year would see the main arteries of the province completely paved and a brief discussion of the labour difficulty on the North Shore which occupied the news a few weeks ago.

Among other speakers were Major W. V. Bruce, Superintendent "J" Division, R.C.M.P., who replied to the toast to Fredericton; S. C. Young, Saint John, newly elected president of the Association, who welcomed the delegates; and Dr. E. H. Leim, of the Biological Board of Canada, who replied to the toast to the association.

The banquet was preceded by a Blessing, given by Rev. Dr. F. A. Wightman. Following the dinner, Mr. Young gave a brief address of welcome to the guests of the Association.

Fine Work by Association

Premier Dysart, in opening his address, commended the Association very highly for the fine work it has been doing in the interest of the wild life of the province, and congratulated Mr. Young upon being elected president of the body. In speaking about the labour situation in the province, he stated that there is more employment in New Brunswick at the present time than there has been for many years. The small figure of 1 1/2% represents the unemployed of the province.

A most difficult task of the government is to wean individuals and municipalities away from the idea of direct relief, and it was not a popular move to meet these men and tell them that the responsibility must be met, he stated. "Fortunately we have succeeded and the province is free of relief—the only province in the Dominion that can make that claim," said the premier.

He commended the members of the Cabinet and the Legislative Assembly as one of the finest bodies of men ever to occupy the House. Speaking of their fine co-operation during the unemployment troubles, he said that certain members of the Cabinet dipped their hands into their pockets and of their own accord established certain institutions to lessen the situation and aid the labouring class, by increasing the work.
