SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

Chicked Salad Tea and Sale This

Afternoon at St. Andrew's Hall
Everything is in readiness for one of the outstanding church affairs of the season which is being held this afternoon at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Hall. A delicious chicken salad tea will be served from four thirty o'clock to six thirty o'clock. The guests are being served at small tables each one being centred with a red candle in a silver candlestick. Small Christmas trees and Jerusalem cherries are also used as floral decorations together with silver and red and green trimmings in various parts of the hall. The window ledges are banked with greenery and potted plants and the stage has been attractively arranged.

A splendid opportunity is being offered to the guests to buy Christmas cooking and several booths are displaying suitable gifts and novelties at fancy work, apron tables and the other booths. The general convenor of the tea and sale is Mrs. A. Pierce Crockett, the President of the Guild. The tea convenors are Mrs. A. McP. Limerick and Mrs. Harold Limerick assisted by Mrs. A. L. Gorow, Mrs. J. D. MacKay, Mrs. E. Allison MacKay, Mrs. Harold McCrea, Mrs. Jas. Crockett, Mrs. George W. Bonnell, Mrs. George McKee, Mrs. Harry Wilson, Mrs. Kay Smith, Mrs. Ernest Mason, Mrs. Robert Stewart, Miss Martha Fleming, Mrs. Kenneth McAdam, Mrs. Wallace Crockett, Mrs. Ronald McKay, Mrs. C. E. Nash, Mrs. Stewart Murphy, Mrs. Malcolm Prebble, Mrs. Clarence Burden, Mrs. Ray Pulsifer, Mrs. Harold True, Mrs. John Harvey, Miss Jean Hodge, Miss Margaret Elliott, Mrs. Robert Parent and Miss Jean Anderson.

Presiding over the tea and coffee cups will be Mrs. J. B. Crockett, Mrs. John Scott, Mrs. A. E. MacKay and Mrs. William Macredie. The fancy work table is in charge of Mrs. Geo. W. Hodge, Mrs. William Macredie and Mrs. Robert Biggs. Mrs. Harding Kierstead, Mrs. John S. Scott and Mrs. E. W. Elliott are in charge of the apron table. The Juniors Guild Christmas table is under the direction of Mrs. D. B. Gordon. The home cooking booth is in charge of Mrs. J. B. Crockett, Mrs. A. E. Barton, Mrs. Harry Atherton, Mrs. W. M. Clarke and Miss Bertha Harvey. The tickets will be taken at the door by Miss Nellie Winters. The Rt. Hon. the Countess of Ashburnham will be the general hostess. Others assisting in various ways include Mrs. Dell Hissack, Mrs. McConaghey, Mrs. Walter Raymond, Mrs. Lockhart, Mrs. H. A. Foster and Mrs. C. E. Covey. It is expected that a large number will attend.

Gubernatorial Luncheon

It has been estimated by officials of the local branch that enough pheasants will have been liberated in New Brunswick by 1942 that open season can be declared upon them. The work of pheasant breeding and liberation is quite cheap, as compared with the same program in connection with the Hungarian partridge. The latter, imported into this province from Saskatchewan, cost seven dollars per pair, so that considerable capital is necessary to indulge in the work to any great extent. It is a very good game bird, although not as large as a pheasant.

Successful in West
Unparalleled success has been achieved in the Prairie Provinces in breeding the Old World bird, stated Mr. Moore, fifteen or 20 years ago a mere handful were liberated near Calgary, Alta. Now Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan are overrun with the birds, and hunters are shooting them by the thousands annually. The ideal conditions in the Prairie Provinces, with the immense grain fields, have fostered the breeding of the birds as no other conditions the world over have done, not even those in Hungary, where the partridge originated. In spite of great trouble and expense in parts of the United States to establish the birds, no amount of success comparable with that achieved in Western Canada has resulted.

In this province, John Tingley, game warden for Annapolis, said he had seen many of the birds at Westmorland Point and at Annapolis. At one time he had sighted a group of 26. Another game warden, Kilgour Smith, of Annapolis, reported large numbers in his area.

Both Fredericton and Saint John Branches plan extensive breeding programs for next year. At present the local organization has 70 full grown, carefully picked breeders at its station on the Saint John highway just below the Dominion Experimental Station, while the Saint John branch plans to import more of the Hungarian partridge because of the success achieved during the past few years.

Condition Satisfactory

Friends will be glad to hear that the condition of Miss Estella Gibbey, who recently underwent an appendix operation at the St. John Public Hospital, is satisfactory. Miss Gibbey was taken suddenly ill in Saint John and is now recuperating at the home of her uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Howland in the city.

Entertains after Community Concert
Miss Mary Barker entertained informally at her home last evening, following the Community Concert in honor of Miss Mary Evelyn Lawson of Saint John who is her guest.

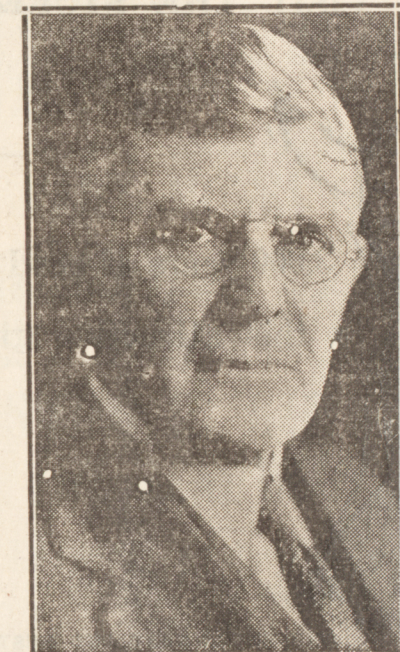

Supper Meeting
The B.N.P. Club held their supper meeting last evening in the Y. rooms with the president Miss Netta MacMillan in the chair. Following the business meeting Oscar Harris gave an interesting talk on the Number 7. Later the club adjourned to the Brunswick St. Baptist gymnasium.

Week-end with Parents
Miss Dorothy Rosborough who is taking up beauty culture at Mac's Beauty Salon spent last week-end with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rosborough at Bear Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Barry McLean with their baby daughter of Knoxville, Tenn., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Howland at their home on Shore Street.

Executive Fton Community Concert

The members of the executive of the Fredericton Community Concert Association are as follows: President Mrs. A. P. Crockett; Honorary President, Hon. Mr. Justice C. D. Richards; Vice-President, Professor F. H. Harrison; Honorary Vice-President, the Rt. Hon. the Countess of Ashburnham; 2nd Vice-President, Charles W. Johnston; Treasurer, J. H. Malcom; Corresponding Secretary, Robin Bayley; Recording Secretary, Sgt. Major W. A. Caldwell.

W. U. APPLETON
who sees good business prospects for coming year.

FIRST REGIONAL

also given by the following diocesan officers and convenors: Miss A. Veronica Osborne, Diocesan President; Miss Alice A. Ryan, Corresponding Secretary, both of Milltown; Mrs. E. V. Sullivan, St. Stephen, Convenor of Study Clubs; Mrs. George Crawford, Convenor of Legislation and Laws; Mrs. H. B. Hachey, District Convenor of Organization; Miss Mary H. McKenna, St. Stephen, Convenor of Religion; Mrs. Anna Curran, Milltown, Convenor of Penny Scholarship. An interesting talk by Mrs. M. F. Ronan Antigonish, a past National Vice-President, was deeply appreciated, and a vocal solo by Mrs. Sylvester Eagan enjoyed. Mrs. Edmond P. Casey was pianist for the evening, and, as a conclusion to the program, led in the singing of a group of popular songs. A vote of thanks to the Milltown Subdivision was moved by Miss Mary H. McKenna, President of the St. Stephen Subdivision, and seconded by Miss Dorothy Giddens, President of Rolling Dam Subdivision.

A pleasant informal social hour followed. The tea table was most attractive with lace cloth, centred with silver basket of yellow and bronze mums, lighted by tall blue tapers in silver holders. Mrs. Charles E. Casey and Mrs. Joseph Rose presided over the tea cups.

This first rally, which was so highly enjoyed, was admirably arranged by the following efficient committee: Mrs. Joseph Ross, Misses Cecilia Osborne, Laura Melanson, Dorothy Casey, and Mary Purcell. This committee was ably assisted by the President, Mrs. Curran, and during the tea hour by Mrs. Raymond Short, Mrs. Francis MacFarlane, Mrs. Joseph Carroll, Mrs. Wallace Boyd, Mrs. Vetal Enright, Mrs. James Coffee, Mrs. James Maher, Mrs. Bernard Casey and Misses Mary McBride, Mary Cophard, Louise Kelly, Mary Brewer, Anna Myers, Lena Melanson, Margaret Enright, Florence MacFarlane and Genevieve Senna.

Dark Spots Now Becoming Cozy Corners In Many Homes

The light-panel built into the ceiling makes possible an interesting decorative effect, which is extended along practical lines by the attractive lamp on the desk.

By Jean Prentice

THE dark spots of yesterday are becoming the cozy corners of today, thanks to modern architecture and lighting.

Many a home has an alcove or window seat that has long been the despair of the family, at least insofar as decoration is concerned. Generally, these areas are sufficiently pleasant looking by day, but at night they often fade into a background of shadow that robs them of their natural beauty and charm. Moreover, frequently they are useless for reading, sewing or studying, because no original provision was made for lighting them.

The modern trend in architecture, which carefully conserves space, and permits none to be wasted, lights these alcoves and window seats from above. In many cases, particularly in the newer houses, a panel of glass with a light above it is built into the ceiling, directly overhead. This panel may contain either clear or colored light, or a combination of both. The decorative effect is completed by placing statuettes or other ornaments on wall pedestals at either side of a picture.

Sometimes a desk is placed alongside the alcove or window seat, and the overhead lighting panel is called upon to provide illumination for it. This practice is frowned upon by lighting specialists, who point out that lighted ceiling panels rarely provide sufficient light for such purposes. Every desk, they claim, should have its own lamp, preferably one of the Better Sight type, approved by the Illuminating Engineering Society, in order that whoever is seated at it may have ample local light by which to see clearly and without eyestrain.

It should be understood, too, that regardless of what the room may offer in the way of built-in or installed lighting panels, every chair used for reading or other eye work should have its own lamp, else the purpose of the scheme, which is control and flexibility, will be defeated. Ornamental fixtures are designed largely for decoration, and should never be permitted to displace the table or floor lamps needed for lighting convenience and ease of seeing.
