BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR POTATO CROP IN THE PROVINCE

Indications Point To Large Production--Weather Favorable

"I never saw potatoes grow so fast as is the case this season," remarked a visitor from Carleton County who was in the city this week. He went on to say that while unfavorable weather delayed planting somewhat, yet the potato acreage in Carleton County is considerably larger than last year, and the prospect of a good market in South America has encouraged many farmers to go in heavily for seed stock. The weather during the latter part of June, and so far this month has been favorable, not only to the growth of potatoes, but for grain and root crops. There has been no lack of bright sunshine, varied with sufficient moisture. Conditions throughout Central New Brunswick, and in other sections of the province have thus far been favorable for an abundant crop yield.

Victoria County are also reporting extremely fine growing conditions for the potato industry. Growers attending the Field Day, held yesterday by the New Brunswick Potato Growers and Shippers Association reported that conditions so far point to a very favourable crop, despite the fact that a little fear is held of rot.

Too much moisture, without the necessary amount of sunshine is very apt to cause this condition, but it is believed by Victoria and Carleton County growers that no damage has been done as yet, and rather that the great amount of rain received so far is a boon to the industry.

Although the farmers of the upper section of the Saint John River valley do not go in as heavily for grains, and although this section of the province is regarded as the potato belt, grain farmers also state that the ideal growing conditions of the past few weeks has entirely over-balanced the delay caused by unsatisfactory planting weather. They do not fear any shortage of grain crops, as were held a short while ago, and are confident that the crop will be up to average this year.

Instruction Course Concludes Here Today

The course of instruction on forest insects which was given this week to representatives of lumbering and pulp and paper companies at the Entomological laboratory here was concluded this afternoon. About 25 men from all over the Maritimes attended the course, many important subjects being dealt with in the course of the lectures.

Field work was also carried out, those attending being taken to sections infested by the spruce sawfly and other injurious insects. This work is invaluable in the control of forest enemies of the insect world, an understanding of the danger and control being imparted to representatives from the different lumber districts.

COUNTY COUNCIL TO FORCE HAND OF CITY REGARDING RE-ADJUSTMENT OF JAIL COSTS IN THE COUNTY OF YORK

Existing Conditions Described As "Unfair" Will Meet Council

The existing system of taxation between the City of Fredericton and the County of York was "aired" by County Councilors at this morning's session of the regular July sitting, who contended that ratio of difference, particularly with regard to county jail costs, was unfair.

It was brought out by the special committee appointed to investigate the 'system' that the county pays two-thirds of the jail costs, although the number of 'prison days' for the county prisoners were two-thirds less than the number for city prisoners.

Dr. B. W. Robertson, Keswick Ridge, Chairman of the special committee, reported that efforts to arrange a meeting with the administration of justice committee of the City Council had failed. His investigation revealed that in 1907 a committee had been appointed by the county to discuss the matter at that time a re-adjustment was made and legislation was passed in that connection. He expressed the opinion that unless a meeting is arranged with the city council, the efforts to readjust the matter would be an uphill climb. In that connection, a motion was later carried that further efforts be made to arrange a conference between the two groups.

In his report, Dr. Robertson pointed out that the number of jail days for county prisoners totalled 1,308, while those of city prisoners numbered 4,672 days.

The councilors were generally agreed the situation as it now exists was unfair to taxpayers, and the proposed action to force the issue with the council was unanimously endorsed.

The matter introduced yesterday afternoon relative to the alleged wrong sale of a property in the parish of Southampton was again taken. The report of the special committee to search records of the history of the property was given by Councillor Manuel. The report was adopted and a motion carried that the matter be laid on the table for consideration at the January session.

Reports of the bonding committee and the committee on secretary-treasurer's account were submitted by Councillors Saunders and Manzer respectively.

Two or three names are mentioned in this connection with leadership but the general opinion expressed yesterday was that Hon. Fred C. Squires would be selected as the party leader.

FALLING OFF IN TOURIST TRAFFIC

Board of Trade Bureau Reports Slight Decrease

It was revealed today that the tourist traffic calling at the Board of Trade Information Bureau has not been so great this year as it was last, in the same period of time. This is no doubt due to the fact that many of the visitors passing through this year were here last, and through the fine service of the bureau are more familiarized with the province, and need not call this year.

The traffic, which has been rather sluggish for the past few weeks is gradually picking up, and all indications point out that for the summers average, as many visitors will be registered as last year, with the possibility that the number may be greater if the present pickup continues.

The greater percentage of parties registering so far have been fishing parties, who have been bound for the Restigouche, the Miramichi and the Tobique sporting countries. This year, the Restigouche seems to be the most popular fishing centre. The usual quota of tourists have been registered, who have no marked destination in mind, but are wandering at leisure through the province, enjoying the natural beauty of New Brunswick.

Oddities in the tourist traffic have been in the form of cars from far and unexpected places. Some time ago a car was registered from Cuba, but even this has been surpassed by the registration of one from the Island of Honolulu. This car passed through the city Monday afternoon stopping at the Bureau for information and registration.

Great interest is being shown in the Bureau by the general tourist traffic, as well as those from the province who are planning on visiting other parts of the continent. In this way it is seen that the Bureau does not have a selfish objective, but is bent on offering service and information concerning any part of Canada and the United States.

HEAVY DECREASE

The strawberry crop in the Saint John river valley district has shown a decrease of about 35 per cent compared with the crop production last year, according to prominent shippers in this section. The continued wet weather has been blamed for the falling off in production. The crop is about finished and it is believed that the last of the berries will disappear this week. Last year's season was a week longer, it was said.

The general quality of the current crop was not as high as the berries produced last season. This season's berries were considerably smaller. Unfavorable weather conditions was also said to have been the cause.

ANOTHER CHAPTER IN R.C.M.P. DRIVE UNFOLDED TODAY

Walter Grace Arraigned On Liquor Charge --Remanded

One more chapter in story of the R.C.M.P. liquor clean-up was disclosed this morning when Walter Grace appeared in court charged with selling liquor. It is alleged that the accused sold liquor in the City of Fredericton on June 26. Information was laid by Corporal L. P. Ryder, head of the Fredericton detachment R.C.M.P. while E. Allison MacKay represented the Crown in the case. Grace was remanded until tomorrow, Friday, July 9, on request of the prosecution, due to the fact that witness for the Crown could not be procured until then.

It was revealed to the press today that one more prosecution will be sought, by the detachment, the case being a hangover from the liquor raids some weeks ago. In the raid, a large quantity of liquor was found, and the charge to be laid will be worded as "keeping for sale."

Due to the widespread operations and the number of prosecutions so far secured, this seige has been the greatest in the history of the city. Corporal Ryder and his comparatively small force of three-men, has secured glowing results.

ANNUAL MEETING

Considerable business will be discussed by the maple sugar producers of the province when they convene in regular session at the Dominion Experimental Station here. The meeting will be featured by addresses by several prominent producers.
