The Stanley Fair Opens on Tuesday — Is Best Yet

The Stanley Fair which opens on Tuesday next promises to be the best yet. This fair which is pronounced to be the best country fair in New Brunswick will put on its 79th Exhibition next week. It was first established in 1858 and has not missed a year since that date. From year to year the plant has increased and the management has kept abreast of the times.

The management of the Stanley Exhibition have the right idea of exhibitions. They feature the agricultural and homecrafts into the show rather than make any big splurge about the midway. The livestock exhibit and boys and girls work are among the excellent features of the Stanley Exhibition.

This year however the attractions on the midway are excellent. The management have booked some of the best acts to be seen in the Maritime this year. These include Marie's Animal Circus with performing dogs, goats, monkeys and bears, also Swiggle and Swiggle in their acrobatic and comedy juggling act. Don Messer and his new Brunswick Lumberjacks and Joe LeBlanc announcing will be on hand in the Aberdeen Agricultural Hall.

There is no need to elaborate very much on the Stanley Fair as this has been a by-word with Fredericton and York County people for over three quarters of a century. This year with improvements in all departments, with its agricultural and industrial features, its exciting hauling matches. With the calf, swine, poultry and garden clubs which are of special interest to the boys and girls with the band concert and dancing entertainment each evening and with its splendid prize list the fair is especially attractive. The Fair this year is under the control of a strong managing committee, with Councillor T. Allan Best, Secretary.

Ballade of Futility

Telepathy means naught to me,
And talks on radio I abhor;
I warm up, not the least degree,
When listening to archaic lore;
Theology I hold a bore;
Crime mysteries have lost their spell—
I'm bogged down by this kitchen
chore!—
Why don't my jellies ever jell?

I don't care if Spain's cut in three,
Or if from Moscow Russians soar;
It matters not how speedily,
A White Hope slams Joe Louis' door;

I never know a baseball score,
Nor who at tennis will excel;
But here's the thing I worry o'er:
Why don't my jellies ever jell?

I care not what new Ecstasy
That quaint Herr Hitler has in store
It please me affinity
Of man and woman to ignore;
Where Adam hid the apple core,
Or whether that yarn's just a sell
Disturbs me not. But still I roar:
Why don't my jellies ever jell?

Envoi

Friend, puzzles have been solved before,
And Time doth many yarns re-tell.
But this thing gets me more and more
Why don't my jellies ever jell?
—Merely Mollie.
