

'GOLD IN THE HILLS' WELL RECEIVED AT OPERA HOUSE

At the request of many who had not had the opportunity of seeing the play at its first representation in December, "Gold in the Hills," a melodrama of the early Nineties was repeated last night in the Opera House and scored a splendid dramatic success. The play was, last evening, sponsored by the York-Sunbury Historical Society and a fair attendance was present which made up in its enthusiastic reception of the players for the lack of a capacity house.

The players all received praise for their splendid acting and the specialties were excellent. Due to the absence, through illness, of Herbert Belding, who carried the leading male role in the previous presentation, the lead last evening was taken by Neil Gantner who portrayed the part exceptionally well. John Ferris as the villain in his usual clever style managed to make himself pretty hateful on the stage.

Norma Linton as Nellie, Jack's sweetheart, took the part in a charming manner.

The specialties were amusing and cleverly put on. Miss Marcelle Gorham in the bowery scene rendered several enjoyable violin numbers.

The programme is as follows: Lizzie Jones, housekeeper, Mary Neville; Barbara Stanley (Nell's young sister) Marion Hubbard; Hiram Stanley, an honest farmer, David McFarlane; Nell Stanley, his daughter, Norma Linton; John Dalton, a son of the soil, Neil Gantner; Richard Murgatroyd, from the city, John Ferris; Sam Slade, his shadow, Bill Springfield; Jenkins, a constable, Bill Logie; Big Mike Slattery, a dance hall prop, James Mallory; Pete the Rat, John McKnight; Bill the Dip, Douglas Breen; Slick Steve, Fred Dibblee; Little Pauline, Pauline Grass; The Professor, Norman Smith; Mamie, nunciation of words and mispronunciation of the vowel 'u' and of the short 'a' where we use the broad 'a', but now the Canadian speech is going on the American side rather than the English side, and this makes a difficulty where candidates in our examinations are reciting great English verse or prose.

Canadian Speech

"But you ask me if you speak correct English and I tell you that you do not," he said. "I'm not complaining but personally I do think it a pity; English is such a beautiful language—this English of Shakespeare, Milton and a hundred others."

"Undoubtedly today the language is being corrupted in a great many ways, and while I don't like to speak with disrespect about any country, the Americans among themselves have corrupted the English language. In fact, it is not the English language that is being spoken in America today. It is the American."

"But," the suggestion was made, "do not the American films now go in for English accents?"

"Do they?" he asked. "I think perhaps not. I met an American lady while I was travelling recently who taught what she believed to be correct English and who asked me to correct her if she made a mistake. I told her it would be embarrassing as she spoke quite differently from correct English. She said, 'Aw, Aw as bawd as thot?' instead of plain 'Am I as bad as that?'"

King George V, he said, spoke beautiful English.

N. B. Exhibits

logs for the erection of a woodland cabin; boughs, rocks, evergreens and other material calculated to impart the atmosphere of a New Brunswick woodland scene; and tanks of live fish native to this Province. A third car, to go forward one week from today, will contain thousands of pieces of attractive literature and maps for distribution among persons interested in the vacationing opportunities, the game trails and the angling streams of New Brunswick.

A second corps of guides will proceed to Boston by boat on Jan. 29. This party will be under the personal supervision of D. W. Griffiths, director of the New Brunswick Government Bureau of Information and Tourist Travel, under whose direction the exhibit is being conducted.

"The sharp rise in the total number of inquiries received and answered by the Bureau in the past year—37,129 in 1936 as compared to 28,641 in 1935—is certainly indicative of the trend," stated Mr. Griffiths today. "Personally, I am confident that the campaign of Sportsmen's Shows will be productive of the proper kind of results and, in anticipation, the Bureau of Information here in Fredericton is aligning itself to handle the largest volume of inquiry correspondence since its organization ten years ago. Toward this volume of business I regard the Sportsmen's Shows as a large contributing factor."

The campaign as now planned includes participation in the following events:

New England Sportsmen's and Boat Show, Mechanics Hall, Boston, Jan. 30 to Feb. 6.

National Sportsmen's and Boat Show, Grand Central Palace, New York City, Feb. 18 to 27.

Connecticut Sportsmen's and Boat Show, State Armory, Hartford, Conn., March 6 to 13.

Follow This Plan for Better CONTROL of COLDS

For Fewer Colds...
Vicks Va-tro-nol helps Prevent many Colds

At the first warning nasal irritation, snifle or sneeze, use Vicks Va-tro-nol—just a few drops up each nostril. Va-tro-nol is especially designed for the nose and upper throat—where most colds start. It stimulates Nature's own functions—in the nose—to help prevent colds, and to throw off head colds in their early stages. Used in time, Va-tro-nol helps avoid many colds.

For Shorter Colds...
Vicks VapoRub helps End a Cold Sooner

If a cold has developed, rub Vicks VapoRub on throat and chest at bedtime. VapoRub acts direct—two ways at once: (1) By stimulation through the skin like a poultice or plaster; (2) By inhalation of its medicated vapors direct to inflamed air-passages. Through the night, this combined vapor-poultice action loosens phlegm, soothes irritation, helps break congestion.

Follow Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds

A helpful guide to fewer colds and shorter colds. Developed by Vicks Chemists and Medical Staff; tested in extensive clinics by practicing physicians—further proved in everyday home use by millions. The Plan is fully explained in each Vicks package.
