THE LABOR COUNCIL

Addressed by Rev. J. A.
Linton

The regular meeting of the Fredericton Labor Council met last evening in the Orange Hall with the President in the chair. After the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting and general business, the President then introduced Rev. John Linton of the George Street Baptist Church as speaker for the evening. Tracing the history of labor from 1830 in England to the present day, the speaker in detail explained how that children eight years and older with women worked in mines on account of narrow passages underground very long hours and under adverse conditions; of how Lord Shaftsbury introduced social legislation in England after attempted efforts and with the increase of men came the machinery, and craft unions taking place in all England. During the depression Co-Operative movements occupied about half the trade and were very unkind to labour. Still later came the Federated Industrial Unions 78 in number which occupy two-fifths of all the Unions in England. Touching on the closed shops in North America, the W.P.A. in U.S., and several other organizations, the speaker then urged proper representation in Parliament for the labor man where he could be protected by laws and have no dictatorship over his head as in other countries.

A very hearty vote of thanks was then given the speaker for his eloquent address, and then he received an Honorary Membership Card and invited to attend all meetings. General discussion then took place re the unemployed and relief matters and the abuse of the non-resident tax in this city. The meeting then adjourned till Dec. 3rd, and the executive to meet on Monday evening next.

MOON

A million lovers plight their troth,
Calling on her to bless each oath.

She does not shine more bright because
They will be faithful to her laws.

She does not hide her head and weep
For brave-made vows they will not keep.

She ever looks austere and cold,
I think the moon is growing old.

A month ago, Viscount Cecil indicated to the first British Congress of the International Peace Campaign he would soon resign active direction of the pacifist movement to a younger person but would continue, as long as his health permitted, to function as president both of the International Peace Campaign and its British section. Viscount Cecil is head of the British League of Nations Union.

Viscount Cecil is the fifth Englishman to win the peace prize since then. Sir William Randal Cremer won it in 1903; Sir Austen Chamberlain jointly with Charles Gattes Daves of the United States in 1925; Norman Angell in 1933; and Arthur Henderson in 1934.

NEW BRUNSWICK
BOND ISSUE IS O'ER SUBSCRIBED

$6,500,000 Debentures
Quickly Grabbed Up
Result Gratifying

General gratification is expressed not only in Provincial Government circles, but by citizens generally over the fact that the New Brunswick debenture issue offered on Monday last has been over-subscribed. Speaking of the matter last evening Premier Dymally said:

"I am pleased and gratified to announce that word reached me this evening from the syndicate managers in Montreal, that the $6,500,000 Province of New Brunswick Debenture issue, offered to the public on Monday has been over-subscribed."

"The issue was in two maturities—three per cent Debentures maturing November 15th, 1940, and four per cent Debentures maturing November 15th, 1937. Of these maturing the public took $2,000,000 of the 1940 series and $4,500,000 of the 1937."

"It is interesting to observe that the market absorbed $4,500,000 of the longer term Debentures and that this issue is callable by the Government after eight years, a new departure in Provincial Government financing and one which becomes a definite fixture in our fiscal policy."

As set forth in a recent announcement the purpose of the issue was to take care of the obligations incurred during the fiscal year ended October 31st, 1937, including slightly more than $5,000,000 for roadsurfacing and permanent roads, $300,000 to retire a maturity falling due January 1st next unemployment assistance projects, floating debt and a minor capital outlay in connection with the Provincial Building at Saint John.

"The successful completion of the transaction gives me extreme pleasure and should be a source of general satisfaction to the people of this province," the Premier observed. "It demonstrates that the public generally throughout Canada has faith in N. B. and in the soundness of the progressive policies that have been instituted to promote expansion and development. It refutes more effectively than any mere words the idle criticism which has been heard in some quarters in the province and the derogatory attitude of a certain financial paper in Toronto, whose purposes and motive I do not pretend to understand."

We have been endeavoring to lift this province from its lethargy, to revive industry and commerce and to promote the well-being of our people have faith in New Brunswick. We have faith in our citizens. And we feel confident that they in turn have appreciation for the success that has been achieved.

"Let us move forward with confidence in the firm conviction that this Province has a bright future. We must work in co-operation and the harder we work and the closer we co-operate the more quickly will we reap the benefits from our efforts."

The managers of the syndicate that marketed the issue were the Dominion Securities Corporation Ltd., and Bell, Gouinlock & Co. Ltd.

Hon. C. T. Richard expressed keen satisfaction over the confidence expressed by investors in Canada in the soundness and integrity of the Province and its institutions.

"There is no Province in Canada and there are few States in the world," said Hon. Mr. Richard, "so fundamentally sound as the Province of New Brunswick. We are determined to move forward and the attitude of the public in oversubscribing this issue indicates in no uncertain manner that we have their approval."
