EXPORTATION OF SEED POTATOES PROVIDES THE BEST OPPORTUNITY FOR DEVELOPMENT OF MARKET IN THE SOUTH AMERICAN REPUBLIC, SAYS N. B. MARKETING HEAD

NOT IDENTIFIED

Officials of "J" Division, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, stated that no definite information has been received here today regarding the identity of the two men arrested at Levis, Quebec, last night. The pair answer the descriptions of the two Wright brothers, who have been the object of an extensive search for the past several days. Jonas Wright, who with his brothers escaped from the Hampton jail, was captured at Edmundston early this week.

The men arrested in the Quebec centre are believed to be the Wright brothers but positive identification cannot be established until the arrival of a Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer from the province.

Business Firms Present Attractive Decorations

One of the finest decorated windows here in connection with the Coronation celebration was that of Scovills, Limited. The display was placed on a background of Royal blue brightly decorated with flags, emblems and banners.

Beatty Washers Ltd. had a window very appropriate to the occasion. On a background of Coronation banners and Union Jacks, stands a squad of Grenadier Guards and Heralds. A list of British colonies is placed conspicuously, emphasizing the fact that the company is a world wide organization.

One of the most original windows in the city was that of the City Cash and Carry Cleaners. On the floor of the window was a map of the world, with the British colonies in deep red. Hand carved wooden statues of Canadian farmers, African miners and tubed Hindus and other typical British citizens stood in their proper country, while the British Navy, and Merchant Marine ply the blue seas between. The background is decorated with greens and patriotic colors.

BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED

One of the most attractively decorated residences in the city yesterday was that of the Right Honourable, the Countess of Ashburnham. The house was beautifully decorated with bunting and flags, while a cleverly arranged lighting scheme provided a brilliant setting for the decorations.

G. C. Cunningham Re- turns From Trip to S. A. Countries

MADE SURVEY

New Brunswick's opportunity for the establishment of a potato market in Argentina lies in providing seed potatoes, according to the statement issued today by G. C. Cunningham, marketing representative of the New Brunswick Department of Agriculture, who recently returned from an extensive trip through South American countries. During his visit, the official made a complete survey of market conditions in the various republics in the southern continent particularly with their relation to the importation of New Brunswick potatoes.

Commenting on the possibilities of seed potatoes being shipped from this province, Mr. Cunningham said: "Potatoes from Holland are not favored for seed, only insofar as they are cheap. Seed imported from Denmark, England, Estonia, Poland, and the United States is giving reasonably good results. It is, however, the universal opinion that our New Brunswick Green Mountains, imported and distributed by the Argentine Government, are most reliable and well adapted to their conditions. These were very widely distributed in every potato growing district and also placed in the hands of thousands of farmers. The distribution of our seed in Argentina last year was undoubtedly the largest and most complete seed demonstration ever conducted. It is difficult to conceive of any other form of advertising which would have accomplished so much."

He expressed the opinion that the situation may not be radically changed, depending on the amount and quality of the seed imported for planting the next crop. If, during the coming season, Mr. Cunningham pointed out, they import sufficient new seed together with the crop from last season's importation, to plant their entire acreage, they may expect a normal crop. However, if not, they may anticipate another crop failure in 1938, Mr. Cunningham predicted.

Continuing his observations made on the recent trip, the marketing official said: "Personal observations convinced me that the cause of the potato crop failure last year in Argentina and Uruguay was diseased seed. My conviction was only partially accepted in Argentina, but nevertheless accepted to the point where the Argentine Government and dealers imported approximately 50,000 barrels of our seed. Dealers also imported smaller amounts at lower prices from various other countries. The imported seed did not exceed 4 per cent. of their total seed requirement. Approximately 95 per cent. of their crop was again planted with their own degenerated stock, resulting in a virtual crop failure during the present season and consequently the necessity of not only importing seed but also potatoes for immediate consumption. It is highly probable that the Government, dealers and growers, having learned the great value of good seed, will make an effort to import a greater proportion of seed and less table stock."

Concluding his report, which is being submitted to all potato growers in the province, Mr. Cunningham said: "In order that we may develop this market to the greatest extent possible, we must give service. We must give just a little more for the other fellow's money than he expected. In fact, the quality and usefulness of our seed in the end will probably outbalance the price factor, but not in the early stages of developing the markets."

"The service which we can give, consists of:

"(1) Planting and producing certified seed instead of table stock. Producing seed potatoes does not need to cost more than producing table stock.

"(2) Planting the crop early, so as to have it mature early and sufficiently seasoned to stand shipment during early October. If possible it should be fully mature by the middle of September.

"(3) Producing the variety Green Mountain and probably, to a lesser extent, Katahdins and Chippewas. The last two varieties, while giving results this year, may or may not be in strong demand next fall.

"(4) Producing stock of the highest possible quality.

"(5) Grading properly and handling the product so as to cause the least possible loss to yourselves and to the farmers in South America who buy your seed. Please remember that you are producing seed for and selling to fellow farmers, even though they are many thousands of miles away in South America. Your watchword must be earliness, inherent quality and grade."

VISIT POSTPONED

W. G. Clark, M.P., received a telegram this morning from Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of transport, advising him of Hon. Mr. Howe's inability to visit Fredericton at the present time. The message explained that owing to a cabinet meeting in the Dominion capital, the minister would be unable to visit here until a later date. The minister of transport was to meet members of the Fredericton Board of Trade to discuss matters relative to the proposed trans-Canada air route.

CREDIT UNIONS FORMED AT ST. JOHN, MONCTON

Announcements Made in Current Issue of Royal Gazette RAPID GROWTH

Evidencing the continual growth of adult education in the province of New Brunswick, the current issue of the Royal Gazette contains the announcements of the establishment of three more credit unions in the province. Two of the unions were organized in Saint John and one in Moncton.

One of the Saint John unions was organized as the "Pender Credit Union Society, Limited," while the other will be known as the Saint John Postal Credit Union Society, Limited. The Moncton organization will be known as the "Intercolonial Credit Union Society, Limited."

S. Wilfred Keohan, registrar of the Credit Union Societies Act, has been actively engaged in promoting organization work during the past winter and was successful in bringing about the establishment of several new groups.

The co-operative credit union movement is an important phase of adult educational work and is becoming increasingly popular in the province. Many groups and societies are taking an active interest in this work and it is expected that there will be a substantial increase in the number of unions in the province before the expiration of the present year.

The object of the credit union scheme is for the economic advantage of its members. It enables the members to systematically save their money and at the same time make loans available. The entire program is the result of the adult education movement.

FORMER CITIZEN OF FREDERICTON PASSES IN WEST

Death Willard Kitchen Deeply Mourned by Friends Here

One of Fredericton's former business men and a leading New Brunswick contractor of past years, Willard Kitchen, died yesterday at Vancouver after a short illness. Word of his death was received yesterday by his brother Hamilton G. Kitchen and was learned with regret by his many old friends of former years.

The late Mr. Kitchen, who was 73 years of age, removed from here to Vancouver about 25 years ago and has resided in that city ever since. He has visited Fredericton at different times and always received a hearty welcome from his many friends here.

For many years Mr. Kitchen was engaged as a railway contractor and built railroads in the Maritime provinces and in the west, as well as several parts of the Transcontinental system.

Mr. Kitchen lived for several years in Charlottetown, P.E.I., while building a railroad from that place to coastal Summerside. Other undertakings in which he was connected included the construction of the Murray Harbor branch line, the government dock at Halifax and a section of the National Transcontinental Railway between Quebec City and Moncton.

He became a director of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway shortly after going to the Coast and held that position until his retirement in 1928.

Surviving Mr. Kitchen are his wife and three daughters: Misses Agnes and Hazel residing at home, and Mrs. William Jardine, wife of the former Fredericton bank manager who also resides in Vancouver. Mrs. Kitchen was formerly Miss Mary MacPherson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John MacPherson of this city. Mayor G. Willard Kitchen, C. Albert Kitchen and G. Walter Kitchen are nephews of the deceased.

Interment will be made in Vancouver.

LAID TO REST

A large number of relatives and friends were in attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Beatrice B. Simmons, wife of Bruce L. Simmons, which took place this morning. Requiem high mass was sung in St. Dunstan's Church and interment was made at The Hermitage. The pall-bearers were James A. Hughes, Fred Logue, Earle Dooan, Ernest Dobbles, Joseph Owens, and Walter McGinn.
