TOBACCO

is naturally GOOD!

Good tobacco is mellow and fragrant by Nature, but some tobaccos are naturally better than others.

None but the choicest of tobaccos are used in the manufacture of Winchester Cigarettes, and these are blended right, through a knowledge of cigarette manufacture which has come after many years of experience.

There is something in knowing how to make cigarettes.

which involve no criminal action, to lawyers," he said.

Three Claimed To Be Acting

Acting Chief Constable Guthrie said he had ordered an investigation to find out if any of three lawyers claiming to represent an injured woman had been authorized to act on her behalf.

Not one of them had approached her, we found out," said the Acting Chief.

"Only when someone involved is charged can we refuse to release accident reports," Inspector Dunn said. "These lawyers—we know them all, there are only a few—get their information from the hospitals. The day after the accident occurs, and sometimes when the injured person is still in hospital, these men call up asking for a copy or permission to see the report."

Lawyer Profits Most

He explained that after viewing the report, the lawyers ascertained the financial status of those injured. If they believed the victims could pay for "court action" they would be approached. Invariably, he said, the biggest part of an insurance company settlement went into the pocket of the lawyer in such cases.

Colonel Kirkpatrick revealed that the insurance companies were partly responsible for starting the move to smash the "racket."

TRANSPORT

and the amendment moved by Opposition Leader Bennett indicating a want of confidence in the government. It is expected the debate will end with a vote tomorrow. The main estimates were tabled by Finance Minister Dunning last Thursday.

How soon the transport measure will be debated is not known and until it is brought up in the House details will not be available. Mr. Howe said yesterday it differed considerably from last year's bill but he would not indicate in what details the differences existed.

When the transport commission bill was reported back in the Senate after consideration by committee last year, and after numerous interested parties had been heard on it, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader in that chamber, described it as "the most friendless bill I have ever seen come before Parliament."

Regulation and control proposed to be exercised over shipping was amended in committee to be restricted to inland waters and excluded the Maritime Provinces and all coastwise shipping. Western members opposed the idea of licensing and controlling rates for shipping on the Great Lakes, and others indicated that motor highway control within jurisdiction of federal authorities covered would be limited to about 1.8 per cent of all highway traffic.

On third reading the bill was defeated by a vote of 30 to 18.

As Mr. Picobac turned in to ask for his mail, he found Herb, tobacco grower by instinct and hired man to the highest bidder, seated on the end of the post office steps. "Hello, Herb," cried Mr. Picobac genially. "What are you sittin' here for? You're not out of a job, I hope."

"This is the first time I sat down for weeks," Herb spoke up. "A hired man ain't supposed to sit down."

Mr. Picobac nodded cheerfully. "A good man like you just naturally don't get a chance to do much sittin', Herb," he said. "A tobacco man is always a busy man."

"Only chance I ever get to sit is when I come to town," said Herb. "I'm waitin' for the bus, that's all."

"Well, Herb, I don't mind telling you I enjoy sitting down once in a while myself," confessed Mr. Picobac mopping his brow. "It seems to rest your hands and face. Your bus ain't due for a while yet. Let's you and me load our pipes from my new seal-tight Picobac pouch and sit down to a mild . . . cool . . . sweet smoke."
