Univ. Students' Council F. A. Good New President Establishes Precedent—No Budget Slashes Historical Society

Establishing what is believed to be a precedent at the University of New Brunswick, the Students' Representative Council, meeting in budget session last night, passed all proposed individual organization budgets with no reductions whatsoever. Again breaking precedent, the Council voted to raise the ladies' levy to approximate that paid by the men. The former will pay $10 each for the support of extra-curricular activities during the spring term, while the men will pay $11. President R. J. McInnis, of Quebec City, occupied the chair.

Total expenditure for the term will be $3,719.18, it was decided. Although no reductions were made, the budget of the Social Committee, headed by John Ferris, Cumberland, Eng., and that of track and field manager, came under the fire of Council members.

The following grants were made: Brunswickian, $290; Amateur Athletic Association, $40.20; Students' Representative Council, $130; boxing, $239.50; Social Committee, $260; ladies' basketball, $306.50; men's basketball, $758.50; levy collection, $20; National Federation of Canadian University Students, $25; ladies' debating, $105.75; men's debating, $149.95; hockey, $995; inter-class hockey, $75, and track and field, $263.75.

With the annual Senate grant of 500, and a $600 bank balance, amount to be collected in levies is $2,707. These totalled and the sum subtracted from the total expenditure of $3,719.18, leaves a balance of safety of $88.72.

memoranda which may have a bearing on the matter the Commission is inquiring into.

Questioned about the documents, Mr. Jones stated that they contain the personal thoughts and opinions of the great statesman. "They may or may not have a direct bearing," he stated, "but we want to find out."

By having employed Dr. Bailey to secure the information much time will be saved Mr. Jones for the actual preparation of the brief.

Questioned this morning after it had been rumored that Joseph W. Sears, registrar of the University of New Brunswick, who is compiling financial statistics, is being employed directly by the Commission and not by the government of this province, Mr. Sears would make no comment and could offer no information on the matter.

TO ATTEND MEETING

L. H. Parks, supervisor of fisheries for the eight inland counties of New Brunswick, will leave for Halifax on Monday where he will attend a meeting of supervisors of the Eastern Fisheries Division which opens there on Tuesday, Jan. 25.

Progress at Devon
Span one at Devon is completed and the falsework all removed. On span two the floor system is finished and the trusses are now being erected. A start has been made on the floor system of number three, and piling is now being driven for number four span.

The thick ice on the river is an important factor in the rapid progress that has been made of late. It was stated. It has made possible the moving of a large amount of heavy machinery out onto the river near the site of the work. The date of the completion of the bridge depends to a great extent on the weather, it was learned.

A Cutting Message

(By H. M. Paint)
"Is this a dagger that I see before me?"—Macbeth.

In Nippon all agree how courteous Watanabe

Gave Eden an ancestral sword, a treasure from his family hoard With breath inhaled in a sharp hiss He said, "Give Anthony San, this My message from a sunnier clime My thought for Cherry Blossom time."

When Statesman in the public eye Have steered the ship of state aground And left it perched high and dry Japanese off hint it would be sound To eliminate further indecision By an abdominal incision.

Which in Japan is symbolic Of a form of politicians' colic For when then policies miscarry They are asked to commit "hari kari" Two transverse cuts with a sharp sword Saves budgetting for their bed and board.

So Watanabe's message means "I think that you have spilled the beans"

I send you this ancestral sword A present I can well afford A gift from our sunnier clime My thought for "Cherry Blossom time."

ANNUAL MEETING ST. PAUL'S CHURCH HELD LAST NIGHT

Elect Trustees—Cane Presented to Samuel H. McFarlane

Saint Paul's congregation met in annual meeting last evening in the Fraser Memorial Hall under the chairmanship of the Moderator, Rev. George Telford. During the devotional period, with which the meeting opened a memorial service was held for those who had passed away during the year. Congregational statistics showed an increase of membership during the year, bringing the number of communicants to six hundred and fifteen. There were sixteen deaths and fourteen baptisms in the year.

Before proceeding to the consideration of the financial statements, the moderator informed the congregation that one of the members of session in a few weeks' time would celebrate his jubilee as an elder in St. Paul's Church: Samuel H. McFarlane, ordained to the eldership in February, 1888 while a young man, had given fifty years of zealous, competent service to the congregation as elder, Sunday school teacher, trustee, Sunday school superintendent and clerk of session. As a token of gratitude and esteem the moderator presented Mr. McFarlane with an engraved ebony cane.

Elect Trustees
Trustees for the vacancies caused by retirement were then elected. It was agreed to increase the number of trustees to that permitted by the Model Trust Deed of the United Church of Canada. The election resulted in Luke S. Morrison, W. M. Todd, F. E. MacDiarmid, Duncan MacDougall and L. J. Simpson being appointed for three years; W. J. Scott for two years, and Ernest Bell for one year.

The financial statements for the year showed a vast amount of earnest and successful work done in the congregation. Every account showed all obligations met and a satisfactory balance on the credit side. The total sum raised amounted to $12,077.76.

Dr. A. S. MacFarlane and E. M. Taylor were reappointed auditors. It was unanimously agreed that the minister's salary, voluntarily reduced during the years of stringency, should be restored to its former level.

Congratulatory messages were sent to the family of Mrs. Rossborough, oldest member of the congregation, on attaining her 97th birthday, and to Mrs. Calder, who has passed into her 99th year of life.

Sunlight or Moonlight Now Come Into Living Room At Flick of Switch

By Jean Prentice

A fresh note of modernism is injected into this Chinese Chippendale living room through the installation of a concealed lighting unit recessed behind the curtains. The effect produced is that of warm sunlight streaming through the window.

THERE seems to be simply no limit to the ingenuity of these lighting people nowadays. A press of a button, and they give you day-light, sunlight, or moonlight at any hour of the day or evening—right in your own living room. And it's almost laughably simple!

Lighting panels built into hidden places produce the effect. They are often used over the latest kitchen sinks, although in such cases, ordinary colorless bulbs are employed. Recently this type of lighting has become quite popular in living rooms, particularly where there is a bay window.

Easily Installed
The lighting unit itself consists of a metal box, approximately thirty inches long, six inches wide, and seven inches high. It contains three 40- or 60-watt bulbs, depending upon whether you have light or dark shades. The amount and color of light desired also determines the number of bulbs. Flashed opal glass is used at the bottom of the unit to diffuse and soften the light.

There are two ways of installing your home such a unit, which is a regulation fixture, obtainable at many electrical stores. When built into a new house, it is recessed into the ceiling, adjacent to the window. In a house that has been already built, two polished metal reflectors containing 60-watt lamps can be mounted between the over-drapes and the glass curtains. These reflectors are also standard equipment, easily installed by your electrical contractor.

Choice of Colors
Where there is no space between the draperies and curtains, a row of small 10-watt bulbs or several lumiline lamps may be mounted behind the valance or curtain cornice. The wiring can be so arranged that a choice of colored light is simply a matter of which switch is pressed.

In these modern times, there's no need to permit the original architectural limitations of a room to stand in the way of modernity. And you'll find that the modest investment yields ample dividends in the added enjoyment you derive from the light.
