NIAGARA FALLS, Jan. 26 — The famous view bridge of the Niagara Falls has been closed to traffic on account of many large ice cakes which have blocked it up. Both the American and Canadian sides are closed.

death of several prominent supporters of the party during the past year in different sections of New Brunswick.

In closing the afternoon's activities, Premier Dymally briefly reviewed the record of his government. He discussed matters of organization with the delegates, emphasizing its necessity to the party, as well as thanking those present for the vote of confidence they had given him.

Premier A. A. Dymally, in a statement issued last evening following the Liberal caucus, emphatically declared that there will be no general election this year. "You may say," he stated, "that an election in 1938 was never even remotely considered and was not heard of until the report appeared in sections of the press."

Nothing could be learned as to what transpired behind the doors of the meeting, which was held in the Parliament Buildings, other than the fact that legislative policies and other matters of importance were considered. "We had a very nice and friendly little meeting," the Premier said.

No Provincial Election In 1938 Is Official Word

Liberal Executive Meeting Here, Receives Announcement Through Prem. and Att.-Gen.

THERE IS NO REASON

This, Spikes Rumors That Dymally Government Would Go To People In 1938

Definitely spiking rumors current in the Province during the past two weeks, both Premier A. A. Dymally and Hon. J. B. McNair, K.C., Attorney-General yesterday afternoon denied that there will be a general election in New Brunswick this year. The statement, made to the Provincial Liberal Association executive in session here yesterday afternoon, bears out the statement of Hon. Mr. McNair made to The Daily Mail yesterday morning to the effect that he could see no reason for an election before 1940.

C. C. Avar, editor of The Sackville Tribune, announced, on behalf of the press committee, that rumors of an election in 1938 were set completely at rest during the afternoon's conference. "The present administration has no intention to appeal to the people," he added.

Hon. Mr. McNair, president of the New Brunswick Liberal Association, presided at the meeting, which was declared as being "particularly harmonious." More than 125 members were present, representing the various sections of the province. They gave brief verbal reports on conditions in their districts.

Change in Voting?

The matter of voting in New Brunswick came under considerable discussion by the delegates. Several present expressed themselves in favor of the Federal system in order to prevent spoiled ballots, multiple voting and other irregularities. A committee of members of the Legislature was appointed to consider more fully the advisability of making a change.

The meeting was unanimous in the adoption of resolutions expressing 100 per cent. confidence in both the Federal and Provincial governments, as well as regrets at the news of the

SON OF ITALIAN PREMIER FLIES TO SOUTH AMER.

(Special to The Daily Mail) RIO JANEIRO, Jan. 26—Bruno Mussolini arrived here today by plane after a non-stop 3,200 mile flight. It was stated that the son of the Italian dictator expressed his opinion that this was the fastest long-distance trip on record.

SUMMERSIDE PLAY WINNER OF DRAMA FESTIVAL AWARD

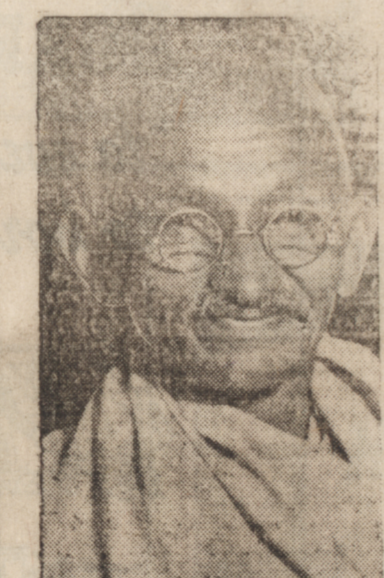

SAINT JOHN, Jan. 26—The play, "Vindication," presented by the Summerside Little Theatre Guild, was given the award for the best individual acting in the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Regional Drama Festival and to the Theatre Guild of St. John's production, "The Shadow of the Glen," by John M. Singe goes the honor of representing this region in the Dominion Festival in Winnipeg and Lieut-Governor MacLaren's challenge cup for the best play among the 13 presented in the regional festival.

The stage direction of the festival was capably managed by Percy N. Woodley and Dr. S. K. Wetmore, who were equal to the emergency of having the adjudicator continue his pronouncements by candlelight when the lights went out.

KING GEORGE VI REVIEWS CADETS AT CRANWELL

(Special to The Daily Mail) LONDON, Jan. 26—The King landed at Cranwell by plane today. Cranwell was the place where the King trained in the Air Force during the World War. He wore his aviation uniform and reviewed a fleet of sixty planes, and cadets.

Wing Commander Edward Fielden, Captain of the King's Flight, was the pilot of the Royal plane. The King's first flight as King was last Aug. 8.

Mr. Gandhi, though little has been heard recently about his non-co-operation program, is still a mighty force in India and politicians there both among the National Congress party and elsewhere pay him the tribute of strict attention to whatever he says though not necessarily agreeing with him as to policy.

YOUNGEST CAMP OUTFITTER IN THE PROVINCE

Sandy MacDonald, manager of Sandy's Diamond Guides, of Saint John, is in the city today to attend the annual meeting of the New Brunswick Guides' Association. Mr. MacDonald has the distinction of being the youngest camp outfitter in the province. He expects to leave on Friday for Boston and New York to attend the International Sportsmen's Show.

EXPLOSION IN MUNITION PLANT, SEVERAL KILLED

(Special to The Daily Mail) PARIS, Jan. 26—An explosion in a munitions plant laboratory near Paris caused the death of several of its employees. The plant had been seized in a raid some time ago when a rebel organization planned the overthrow of the Government. At the time of the explosion the men were busy experimenting.

THREE NEW BILLS IN PUBLIC EYE

(Special to The Daily Mail) OTTAWA, Jan. 26—Attention during the coming session of the House of Commons which is opening tomorrow, will be centered particularly on three bills, the unemployment insurance bill, the Trade and Commerce Agreement with the United States, and the Canadian radio industry inquiry, which has been ordered by Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance.

Hon. H. F. G. Bridges, Campbellton, speaker of the New Brunswick Legislature, and Philbert LeBlanc, M. L. A., Maple Green, arrived in this city today.

Hon. J. B. McNair Struck Back at the Unfair Charges

No One Questions Right of Labor to Organize In This Province, Says Attorney-General

IF IN DOUBT WOULD LEGISLATE

Believes Workers Can Join Any Union They Choose to Promote Their Interests

Hon. J. B. McNair levelled a barrage at accusations lately made against the Provincial government, that a challenge had been issued to Labour, in a fiery speech at the banquet held in Castle Hall in this city last evening in honour of the assembled delegates of the Farmers' and Dairymen's Association by the City of Fredericton, the Board of Trade, and the Fredericton Exhibition Ltd. The attorney-general of the province won the enthused applause of the assembly of over 250 guests as he branded, through pointed inferences, certain organizations as foreign elements with no thought of co-operation with the government and as attempting to set up a state within a state. Close co-operation for the good of the province of New Brunswick was the watchword of the banquet as successive speakers, dealt upon the topic as being the object of utmost necessity if the industries of the province are to advance. Hon. A. C. Taylor, minister of agriculture, in his address, declared his confidence in the agricultural future for this province. He reviewed the work of the department, which he represents, for the good of the farmers and announced a new program in the production of better grade horses in this province by loans to the farmers for the purchase of thoroughbred stallions.

Mr. McNair struck back at charges from certain quarters that the right of labor in this province to organize was being challenged in a recent controversy—the Minto strike. Mr. McNair continued:

"If that propaganda is sincere, then it is blind; if insincere, then it is purely malicious. So far as I know, no one in that dispute questioned the right of free association—certainly not I," he told delegates of the New Brunswick Farmers' and Dairymen's Association and others at a civic dinner in Castle Hall in honor of the practical agriculturists of the province who are here in 62nd annual convention.

"I will go farther and assert that if there exists any doubt under our law as to the right of our men and women to join together in a union of their choice to promote their lawful interest, I personally would welcome legislation to remove that doubt," he declared.

Hon. Mr. McNair's speech was as follows:

I wish to acknowledge the debt I owe to our hosts for the privilege of being here tonight as well as the debt the people of Fredericton owe to them for arranging this splendid dinner meeting for the entertainment of the visiting Association. Their efforts have well maintained our city's reputation for hospitality.

Meetings such as this have a real value. They enable those taking part to become better acquainted, more interested in each other and more sympathetic one to the other. The majority of those present follow the agricultural industry; some of us do not. Yet in spite of our difference in vocations we have a common interest in certain essential things. We are all citizens of New Brunswick concerned with the advancement of our Province and the welfare of her people.

I sometimes think we tend to magnify our differences, social, religious, political and otherwise. If we are to succeed as a Province under a system of free Government, we must strive to develop a disposition for understanding and sympathy. Without the spirit of co-operation democracy cannot flourish.

Now there are two kinds of co-operation, one voluntary, the other compulsory. The first is the ideal; but in any form of organized society, human nature being what it is, some degree of compulsion is necessary.

Voluntary co-operation depends upon the will of the individuals concerned, assisted sometimes by the State. Many illustrations of co-operative effort can be found in the field of agriculture and will readily occur to you.

Compulsory co-operation depends upon the will and actions of governments and their agencies; the lengths

OPENING OF FEDERAL HOUSE WILL SEE USUAL PAGEANTRY

Colorful Scene Will be Enacted at Can. Capital

OTTAWA, Jan. 26—When Parliament opens next Thursday usual pageantry with which this ceremony is surrounded will be enacted. Horse, foot and artillery will be present, not in large numbers, but sufficient to contribute a touch of the picturesque to the affair.

Three officers and 15 other ranks of the 4th Princess Louise's Dragoon Guards will comprise the cavalry escort to the Governor-General and Lady Tweedsmuir; and orders issued today require them to report at Government House at 2 p.m. on Jan. 27. Their duty is to accompany the Governor-General from Rideau Hall to the Parliament Buildings and back.

A 19-gun salute is customarily fired when the Governor-General arrives in Parliament Square. For this purpose a battery of the Royal Canadian Artillery will be posted north of the east block. The salute is repeated when he leaves the buildings.

The Governor-General's Footguards will detail three officers and 100 other ranks, with band and regimental color as a guard of honor. This detachment will be drawn up in front of the central entrance "and will," according to the orders, "receive His Excellency with a royal salute."

When the Governor-General enters the buildings, he becomes the principal figure of a stately procession headed by his honorary aides-de-camp. The column moves "with measured tread and slow" along the Hall of Fame, and down the rear corridor to the chambers of the Speaker of the Senate. From there, a few minutes after, His Excellency is escorted to the Senate Chamber itself where the ceremony of "the opening" formally takes place.
