It was stated that the roads in the province, generally, are in first class condition, offering remarkable wheeling for the season of the year. Al though some of the gravel roads were roughened and rutted to a considerwhile extent by the heavy traffic during the soft spell, they are yet in better condition than is usual for the winter months.

As to the paved highways they are in perfect condition, it was stated. Although the removal of the snow by the heavy warm rains will make greater frost penetration, Mr. Croasdate stated that there is nothing to fear for their condition as careful drainage was used in the construction of the road to take care of such dif-Aculties.
