

From Away Back

The Daily Mail is publishing this series of articles in story form, giving a picture of rural life in New Brunswick. The articles are from the pen of a very bright woman, who lives on a farm in York County. They contain much that is worth consideration.

(No. 2)

Still fresh and sweet are the memories of those Sunday evenings after church when the young people old enough to stray from their mothers' apron strings walked home in groups. The girls arm in arm and the young swains following closely behind. How young feminine hearts fluttered as a determined masculine step was heard approaching from the rear. A light touch on a maiden's shoulder and the request, "May I walk home with you?" possibly received the answer, "Certainly," and the two dropped quietly behind the crowd. Perchance the answer might be "No, thank you," then the discomfited youth rejoined his comrades amid their friendly jeers. An old song reads, "I'll never forget the first 'beau' behind the parlor door." Methinks another might be written telling of the fun we had when going home from church.

What girl ever does forget her first "beau"? "Scatterbrain Susan" will never forget the Sunday evenings when she sat out upon the porch entertaining her first "beau." (The term date, at that time, meant nothing more than a fruit purchased in packages). Two chairs were occupied, but do not think for a minute that both occupants weren't thrilled beyond words as they listened to the tinkle of a cow bell in a distant pasture and the trickle of water in a nearby brook. Shy good-nights were said before eleven o'clock and a happy boy and girl looked forward to the next meeting, perhaps at a house party the coming week.

We are very much inclined to doubt that modern courtships provide more real thrills than the old fashioned variety gave the young people of a generation ago.

—SUSAN.

C.G.I.T. Conference

On Friday evening a conference of C.G.I.T. leaders opened in St. Paul's United Church with delegates from Saint John, Chipman, Nashwaakasis, Blackville, Fredericton and Florenceville registering.

The delegates were welcomed by the president of the Fredericton Leaders' Council, Miss Marion Morrison. Miss Morrison then introduced Miss Marjorie Lawrence, Girls' Work Secretary for the Maritime Provinces, who led a discussion on the problems of leadership.

On Saturday morning the session opened at 9:30 with Miss Lawrence in charge of the devotional service. The subject for the evening was Bible Study. In the afternoon planning of programs was taken up. Folk dancing and singing games were taught by Miss Frances McLeellan.

At 5:30 a delicious supper was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Paul's Church. The tables were appropriately decorated with the C.G.I.T. per a short sing song was enjoyed.

The evening was spent in learning handicrafts taught by Miss Peggy Howe, Miss Pat Jenkins and Miss Roberta Duval.

On Sunday morning a morning watch was conducted by Miss Lawrence, afterwards the girls attended church.

On Sunday afternoon the concluding meeting was held at the home of Miss Myrtle Moffat. The subjects for the afternoon were group worship and prayer.

To close the Conference the Ladies' Council entertained the delegates at tea. The tea table was centred with blue and white spring flowers. Mrs. J. E. Baldwin presided. This concluded a very helpful and pleasant conference.

GREAT INCREASE IN T. B. COSTS IN PAST TEN YEARS

$13,000 Increase In The Past Year Over the Cost in 1927

Announced Today

Fredericton, Devon, and Marysville Are Not Included

An increase of $13,000 in the past year over 1927 towards the support of tuberculosis hospitals at East Saint John and River Glade, is noted in the report of assessments for the Municipality of York, which were given to the press this morning by Major J. S. Scott, county secretary-treasurer. The total assessment for this hospitalization for the last ten years, since its inception in 1927, has been $61,000. The assessment for 1927 was only $1,000, while it has reached the amount of $14,000 for 1937. The entire amount has to be met by 14 parishes in York County, since Marysville, Devon, and Fredericton are not included in this assessment.

Most of the counties of New Brunswick have evinced a desire to have the Provincial Government take over Tuberculosis hospitalization which is a tremendous drag on the various counties' finances. Warden Dr. B.W. Robertson, Bright, in his address at the last Warden's dinner, stated that the cost of hospitalization was so great that unless there is some relief to check the yearly increase in T. B. hospitalization costs, the expense will bankrupt the Municipality.

Assessments in the Municipality of York for the past ten years have been as follows:

1927, $1,000; 1928, $3,000; 1929, $4,000; 1930, $4,000; 1931, $4,500; 1932, $2,000; 1933, $4,500; 1934, $6,000; 1935, $8,000; 1936, $10,000; 1937, $14,000. Total, $61,000.

FURTHER

Major Walter F. Blair, of this city, officer commanding the 104th Battery of the 12th Field Brigade, which is firing the salute, will command the firing party. The party will consist of 26 of all ranks, including Battery Sergeant Major G. E. Kitchen of this city, and in addition to Lieutenant G. E. Chalmers of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, who will be the medical officer.

Band Disorganized

In former years the band for the ceremonies was supplied by the York Regiment, later termed the Band of the 1st Company, Carleton and York Regiment. This organization now ceases to exist as a military organization.

Aides-de-Camp to the Lieutenant-Governor will be Major T. C. Barker, official secretary to His Honor and officer commanding the 90th Field Battery (Howitzer); Major C. A. Williams, E.D., officer commanding 'A' Company, Carleton and York Regiment; Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon G. K. Holder, officer commanding the Saint John Fusiliers, and Major W. G. Jones, officer commanding the U. N.B. Contingent, C.O.T.C.

The band of the Fusiliers which will arrive here Thursday morning, will be made up of twenty-six pieces. Final preparations are being carried out for the opening this week. E. Allison MacKay, clerk of the legislature, was at his desk this morning.

TO ARRIVE TONIGHT

Premier A. A. Dymally is expected to arrive in the city this evening. The other cabinet ministers are expected to arrive tomorrow.

FIRES

The Fredericton fire department was called this morning by still alarm to attend two chimney fires at the residences of Charles Hall, York Street, and Miss K. Wall, York Street, and a roof fire at the residence of Donald Moore, O'Dell Avenue. Damage was slight.

Corporate State Of Guilds, New Constitution

BUCHAREST, Feb. 21—King Carol, has proclaimed a new constitution for Rumania creating a corporative state of guilds.

The exact text of the constitution was not made available to the public and the definite nature of the new form of government it set up was not known.

In a proclamation announcing the new constitution, King Carol merely said it provided for a Parliament to be composed of guilds of farmers, workers and intellectuals.

The constitution granted equal rights to minorities, made changes in the jurisdiction and administration of the government and provided drastic laws against corruption.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Period Ending February 20, 1938

Wednesday last saw the fifth, and last, regular session of the District Scout Training Course. This was held as were the four previous sessions, at St. Dunstan's Hall. The attendance has kept up well, during these indoor sessions. At Wednesday's session, District Scoutmaster Fred Barnes talked on The Group System, while we talked on The Scout Promise and Duty to God. A good sing-song ended the evening.

Durham Wolf Cub Pack held its second meeting, at the new Scout Lodge, on Saturday. Two Sixes have been organized: Brown and Red.

We have received the following excellent report, from Tracy Station: "On Wednesday evening, Feb. 9, we held an Investiture, when 12 boys became Tenderfoot Scouts. Several other boys have passed the tests, but were unable to get their necessary uniforms for that night."

"On Monday, Feb. 14, we held an Amateur Hour and Dance, and cleared the sum of nearly $30. We are buying a flag for our hall, uniforms for boys who have no way to earn money and other items which we need. We also are planning on registering soon."

"On the evening of the Investiture, the Committee and many parents were present, and I am sure it was an eventful evening in the minds of the boys."

"At the Dance and Amateur Hour of Monday, the Scouts were assigned tasks to do, which they carried out, and were certainly a proud bunch of boys in their new uniforms. There is an abundance of co-operation and interest in the Community in connection with the Troop, and the Scouts certainly have improved in many ways, since they were 'just boys.'"

Such a report seems a fitting prelude to February 22nd, which is the birthday of our Chief Scout and Chief Guide. It is, of course, also the birthday anniversary of George Washington; but we venture to say, with no wish nor intent to belittle that great statesman's name, that the names of Lord and Lady Baden-Powell must in the long run, vie in history with the name of the great British-American leader. For one thing, George did not live to enjoy the fruits of his labours, to anything like the same extent as have our Chiefs, to further our Movement; and while, in the one case, statesmanship led to separation, Lord and Lady Baden-Powell have worked unceasingly, for close on thirty years, to unite all nations of the world into one broad international band of brotherhood. It has been given to few, as to the Chief, to live to see the growth of what he founded, thirty-one years ago; and it out that such actions might in the future padlock the ballot box, and asserted that the way of revolution is the padlock way. People who are legally coerced are in peril of dictatorship. "That," he said "is the very essence of dictatorship."

Broadcast Sermon

For his first sermon to be broadcast over CFNB from the pulpit of the Brunswick Street Baptist Church, Rev. C. Harry Atkinson yesterday morning took as his subject "New Eyes for Old Things". In the course of his remarks he pointed out that "great things in life are achieved by those who can see into the heart of the commonplace. Things we find dull and drab, are to others the material for immortal literature, great music, and stirring drama." Quoting from Thompson he emphasized the fact "tis ye, 'tis your estranged faces miss the many splendored thing."

"Christ," said Mr. Atkinson, "has the happy fashion of giving us spirit-gifted eyes with which to see into the heart of life. For Saint Paul, 'Behold all things are become new; and the early disciples left off fussing about fish nets, their religious prejudices, their getting on in life, and their safety, and saw life as a great adventure in self-forgetful service. For us the old familiar things of our homes become new when we see them through the new eyes given us by Christ. Our own personal powers and possibilities are seen in a new light. Religion instead of being a restrictive thing, dealing with morbid aspects of life, becomes in Christ a liberating, energy-releasing experience."

Old Becomes New

The old story of the Gospel when looks as if we may have him with us, for many more years yet, if his strong voice and appearance at the Coronation last year, are any criterion of his reserves of strength.

To bring this world-wide anniversary nearer home, lately, Chief Executive Commissioner John A. Stiles, writing us from Ottawa, said: "By the way, while our census figures are not all in, I believe our membership is now (in Canada) approximately 88,000, with more than 7,000 leaders." Still nearer home, Springhill, Burt's Corner, Lincoln, Victoria Mills, Durham and Tracy are doing their share towards bettering those Dominion-wide figures, since Mr. Stiles wrote. But this does not mean that we must rest content. So long as we are members of a Movement, which is built on Loyalty to God and the King, and on helping other people at all times, it must be our duty and purpose to further this movement with all sincerity, more than ever convinced as we are, that such a Movement alone can bring about the true Brotherhood of Man. And to help us to do this, we still have with us, B-P of Gilwell.

approached from this angle becomes new. Prayer for Jesus was enriching and ennobling. It gave him poise and patient courage for life's struggle. Through it he tapped resources of energy which made him strong and creative. In conclusion Mr. Atkinson emphasized the importance of applying the teaching of Christ in actual life. Through this we get new insights which enrich old words and put new and vital content into religious theory.

K. P.'s Were Guests

At the evening service the Knights of Pythias were the special guests. For this occasion the sermon dealt with "Friendship—Life's Finest Fact." Great literature deals with this fact, said Mr. Atkinson. The Bible is woven together by its friendships, and life itself moves forward in the comradeship of men of goodwill and Christ-like intelligence. Friendship is the climate in which human life blossoms forth and bears its richest fruitage.

Other Churches

At St. Paul's Church Rev. George Telford conducted the morning service using as his subject "The Church States Her Doctrine." A boys' service conducted by Rev. Robert H. Scott, was held in the evening. The speakers were Robert Watson, Lyndens Peables and Rev. George Telford. The scripture was read by Cedric McDiarmid.

Rev. John Linton spoke in the morning on "What Jesus Tells Us About Ourselves" and in the evening on the three great experiences in the life of Moses—the Burning Bush, the Mount of Law, and the Mount of Death.

Guest Speaker

Owing to the absence yesterday of Rev. W. A. Burge, a guest speaker, Rev. A. G. Pentz of Aylesford, Annapolis Valley, N. S., conducted the services, not only in Gibson Memorial Church, Devon, but also at Nashwaakasis and Kingsclear. The sermons of the visiting pastor were much enjoyed by the large congregations which assembled to hear him speak. He remained in this city overnight to attend the monthly meeting today of the Fredericton, Devon and Marysville Ministerial Association.

Rev. Dr. George E. Ross conducted the morning and evening services at St. Andrew's Church, which were largely attended. The twenty-third psalm was used as the subject in the morning and "Seeking The Divine Good" was the subject in the evening.

Anniversary Service

At the 65th anniversary service of the Marysville United Church of Canada, Rev. D. R. Chown conducted the morning service. Mrs. Charles Shanks gave a very delightful solo. The afternoon service was under the auspices of the Wilmot Brotherhood, Rowley Manzer was in the chair. Rev. J. S. Gregg delivered the address in the absence of Dr. Bartlett. Thomas D. Everett conducted the evening service. Miss Kathleen Horwood and Charles Johnston rendered vocal solos.
