

LAST GAME MARITIME SEMI-FINALS TONIGHT

MONCTON MAROONS HOST TO THE FAST SUMMERSIDE SEXTET WHO DEFEATED THEM IN FIRST TILT ON WEDNESDAY

Jamesmen Go Into Game One Goal Down In the Total Goal Series; Are Confident Of Victory on Home Ice

MONCTON, N.B., March 11—Although one goal down in their inter-provincial series with the Summerside Crystals, Moncton Maroons expressed confidence last night that they could overcome the margin on home ice tonight and anticipate proceeding along the Maritime hockey trail against the winner of the New Glasgow-Glace Bay series. Maroons were not much perturbed about their 3 to 2 loss in Summerside Wednesday night and laid the defeat to a fire-some trip to the island centre and soft ice for the second and third periods. Maroons did not arrive back in Moncton today until 4.30 instead of at the scheduled 1.50 time. Ice conditions in the Strait going and coming made it difficult for the ferry to proceed with any degree of speed.

Clarence Bastarache, hard-bumping and smooth-working rearguard, injured in the last Saint John game, will be back in the lineup tonight. Coach James announced last evening, thereby allowing Charlie Phillips to return to his correct right defence post.

"Dud" White, big rearguard, who sustained an injury to his chin in the last Edmundston game here, and Eddie Powers will be missing from the Maroon lineup Coach James said.

Bastarache will replace White on defence while Reese Dickie will look after the relief roles. George Harris, goalie, now fully recovered from a shoulder injury, will wear the big pads with Phillips and Bastarache forming the barrier while George Appleby will centre for Captain Babe LeBlanc and George Bell and Len LeBlanc in the middle slot between Hal Ingram and "Flea" Chapman.

FOREIGN LEGION TURNS OUT A BOXER

The famed French Foreign Legion which glories in the fighting record of its mysterious hard-skinned volunteers, finally has turned out to a prize fighter worthy of that outfit.

Francis Jacques, 23 years old, recently discharged from the legion after his five years enlistment had expired, laid aside his sergeant's stripes, but went on fighting. Jacques is his Legion "nom de guerre," but his family name is Dormet.

WINS IN FIRST ROUND

In his first ring appearance in Paris as a professional, Jacques laid low a Basque heavyweight of much experience, Celay, in one round. Jacques reached out a hairy left once or twice, seemingly just jabbing to get his range, but the jabs carried so much power the Basque's knees began to bow and he went down four times before being counted out.

A native Parisian, Jacques was studying law in Paris when his spirit of adventure conquered his desire for learning, and he ran away from home. Enlisting in the legion, he was sent to Sidi Bel Abbes, the legion's home camp, and from there, for five years, was sent wherever there was any fighting to do for France.

He fought the Moors in the cold heights of the Atlas mountains, and he fought the Blue Touaregs and the dust-brown Bedouins of the Sahara in their native sands, hundreds of miles from food and water. The legion carried on its backs, in those campaigns, all the food, water, ammunition and clothing it would need to get there, fight and come back.

New York's indoor track and field season will come to an end March 12 with the N. Y. Knights of Columbus meet.

SACKVILLE, March 11—The Mount Allison University basketball squad left at noon yesterday for Fredericton where they will meet the University of New Brunswick tonight in the final game for the New Brunswick intercollegiate basketball crown. The Garnet and Gold squad will enter the final game with a 12-point lead over the Hillmen because of their 34-22 victory in the first game of the series played in the university gymnasium here. The winner of the series will meet the Nova Scotia champs for the Maritime intercollegiate title.

Blind Golfer Shoots 79 On Par 75 Course

A blind golfer, Capt. Gerald Lowry, recently scored 79 at the Mersea Island golf course in England. The length of the course is 6,352 yards and par is 75. Lowry's valet placed the ball, told him where to stand and the distance of the ball from each green. Capt. Lowry, English sportsman, is said to be the first man who lost his sight as a result of the enemy fire in the world war.

Edgar Bergen and not Charlie McCarthy monopolized the spotlight at the birthday surprise party for the NBC ventriloquist at his Beverly Hills home recently. The biggest laugh at the festivities was supplied by Dorothy Lamour, who brought an ornate birthday cake which Bergen had to saw for guests demanding souvenirs. It was a round piece of wood covered with a handsome coat of icing.

Johnny Gottselig and Paul Thompson Battle For National Honors

One of the most remarkable pieces of rivalry in the all-time history, or any other sport, a friendly but keen rivalry, developed this season in the ranks of the Chicago Black Hawks, and is still in full swing.

Paul Thompson and Johnny Gottselig are the rivals. Two of the veterans of the National league, both still going strong and rating among the higher-class wingmen, they are fighting it out to see not only which will get more goals on the season, but which will wind up the year with a life-time lead on goal-getting in the National league.

On the night of January 9, at Chicago, Gottselig scored the goal which enabled Hawks to beat Maroons 1-0. In addition, it created a tie for all-time scoring honors between Thompson and Gottselig. Each had, at that point, scored 133 goals in National league campaigns. The following Tuesday, Gottselig scored again, also the lone goal of a one-all tie between Hawks and Americans and that put the Russian-born stick wizard one up on his straight-shooting rival from the Canadian prairies.

Thompson came into the National league a couple of seasons prior to the debut of Gottselig. Thompson joined the Rangers, being one of that team's "originals" in 1926-27. Gottselig joined up with Black Hawks in 1928. Both came from the Canadian west, though Gottselig first saw the light of day in Russia, from which country his parents sailed for Canada when he was only a few weeks old. Gottselig was a sensation almost from the start. His clever stick-handling, his swerving, tricky style attracted attention from the beginning and in his second season, 1929-30, he hit his scoring peak, with 21 goals. The next year, he had 20, and since then he has gone along at a steady rate. At the beginning of the present season, he had compiled 128 in all.

Thompson, less spectacular than Gottselig, but a rugged, conscientious player rated one of the most accurate shots of all time in hockey, scored 20 goals in one season, which was his top. He was traded to Chicago prior to the opening of the 1931-32 season, and has been going along steadily ever since. At the beginning of the present season, his all-time N. H. L. goal total was 126. So with only two goals between them as an all-time

ST. JOHN PONTIACS LIFTED N. B. JUNIOR HOCKEY CROWN AT PORT CITY LAST NIGHT BY 7-3 DEFEAT OVER HUB SEXTET

Wild Game Sees Riot In Third Period as Spectators Break Into Riot; Indians Won The Game In The Last Stanza

SAINT JOHN, March 11—In a wild finish which produced four goals and a free-for-all riot among players and spectators, all in the last three minutes of play, the Saint John Pontiacs defeated Moncton Hawks 7-3 at the Forum last night to win the New Brunswick junior hockey title by a series score of 11-6. The Pontiacs defeated Hawks 4-3 in the opener of the total-goal series here on Monday.

The teams battled through a scoreless first period, ended the second period in a 2-2 tie and were deadlocked 3-3 at the 17 minute mark in the third when leftwinger Osborne put the Pontiacs one up on a solo rush. Fifteen seconds later McCormick scored on a pass from Garey and before another minute had passed the same two reversed the combination for the third goal in 50 seconds.

The mad pace set tempers flaring and Stanley and Carpenter tangled as they came together in the Hawks' end of the rink. McFarlane, who was serving a major penalty with Osborne for fighting a few minutes before, flew out of the box to assist his teammate, Agnew, who had been pinned to the ice by Murphy. That brought swarms of the 1,500 angered fans to the ice and as they closed in the referees were helpless until the police quieted the riot. Referee Jack Carroll was mauled but uninjured.

When the smoke had cleared majors were handed out to Stanley and Murphy of the Pontiacs and Carpenter of the Hawks. With both teams playing two men short, Garey scored 25 seconds before the end of game.

FARR FAVORED TO TAKE BAER

Farr Makes First Start Under Gould; Baer's First Since May

NEW YORK, March 11—The parade of heavyweights will continue across the boards at Madison Square Garden tonight with Max Baer, former champion and Tommy Farr, holder of the British Empire title, the principals in the 15-round main event.

Farr is a 5 to 7 betting choice notwithstanding he has dropped both his starts here. Most fight men pick him because he beat Baer in London last April and because he has been fighting more regularly than the Californian. It will be Baer's first ring appearance since he knocked out Box Flood in nine rounds in May.

Promoter Mike Jacobs yesterday predicted a crowd of 17,000 customers and a gross gate of approximately $75,000.

Farr, making his first start under the managerial wing of little Joe Gould who piloted Braddock to the title, probably will adopt different tactics than in his title bout with Joe Louis and his later meeting with Braddock.

The Welshman has altered his style to add a more effective attack. In his workouts at Summit he has displayed a punching power conspicuously lacking in previous bouts.

① "There is a magic phrase that stops arguments, ends ill feeling, creates goodwill and turns enemies into friends. Here it is: 'I don't blame you one bit for feeling as you do. If I were you, I should undoubtedly feel just the same!'"

② "An answer like that will soften the bitterest critic. There is only one condition. You must be sincere when you say it. And you should be—because it is perfectly true. You really would feel that way if you were the other person. You couldn't help yourself. Heredity and environment would dictate your feelings."

③ "So try to understand the other person. Try to be sympathetic. Three-fourths of the people you meet are thirsting for sympathy. Give it to them. Give it to all of them—even to the most bigoted, unreasoning and antagonistic among them. 'Love your enemies!'"

④ "What a pleasant place this old world will become when we all learn that simple lesson!"

"So remember, put yourself in the other person's place... show sympathy and understanding—and watch the magic work!"
