

RED SOX STILL HOLD LEAGUE LEAD

WILLIAMS AND FOXX BANG OUT HOMERS FOR SOX TO TRIM ST. LOUIS WHILE YANKEES DOWN WHITE SOX

Cards, Cubs, and Cincy Reds Take Three National League Games Played

NEW YORK, May 10.—St. Louis Browns again outthit their opponents. But weak pitching in the clinches put Boston Red Sox in the win column yesterday with a 10-8 victory that enabled them to hold the lead in the American League race.

Big Theo Williams, Boston outfielder, drove in the winning runs with a long homer with two mates on in the 10th inning.

Joe Vosmik and Jimmy Foxx had opened the inning with successive singles off Ed Cole, the Browns' third relief pitcher, after the St. Louisans had overcome a four-run disadvantage to tie the score at 7-7 in the eighth. The Browns scored one in their half of the 10th.

Jimmy Foxx clouted a homer for Boston in the sixth, scoring two runs ahead of him.

In the only other game allowed by the weatherman New York Yankees put on a typical ninth-inning rally at the expense of their old jinx, "Lefty" Thornton Lee, to nip the White Sox 8-6 in the "rubber" tilt of the three-game baseball series at Chicago.

NEW YORK, May 10.—St. Louis Cardinals hammered Freddy Fitzsimmons to the showers in less than an inning and went on from there with an 18-hit attack to slaughter the Dodgers 13-1, and take undisputed possession of second place in the National Baseball League.

Chicago Cubs, after booting a four-run lead in the earlier frames, scored four times in the eighth inning to whip the Giants 11-7 in a weird ball game.

The Cubs used four pitchers and the Giants five before the loose contest ended. "Dizzy" Dean was "shooed" from the Cub bench by the umpires in the third for razzing their decisions.

A damaging home run attack by Cincinnati Reds spoiled Hugh Mulcahy's attempt to avenge himself of the baseball defeat they handed him Sunday, and the Phillies went down 8-4.

GILDED KNIGHT FOR PREAKNESS

BALTIMORE, May 10.—Wheatley's stable's Gilded Knight, an outstanding candidate for the $50,000 added Preakness Stakes next Saturday, scudded over a muddy track at Pimlico yesterday to win the $2,500-added survivor stakes by a length. He negotiated the 1-16 mile in 1:42. 3-5.

The colt's trainer, Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons will saddle for the Preakness along with William Woodward's Johnstown trailed right along behind its running mate, Sea Captain, untilockey Rupert Donoso sent him to the fore in the final dash for home. Gilded Knight paid $2.40 to win and $2.20 to place.

Sea Captain, ridden by Jockey Johnny Stout, who piloted Johnstown home in the Kentucky Derby last Saturday, barely outlasted Sun Lover to take second in a photo finish.

167 ENTERED FOR BRITISH AMATEUR OPEN

LONDON, May 10.—Six Americans and two Anglo-Americans were among 167 entries announced in the draw for the British Amateur Golf Championship to be played over the Royal Liverpool Golf Club course at Hoylake starting May 22.

The field was the smallest in 14 years.

Charles Yates, of Atlanta, the titleholder, was drawn in the third quarter. He plays Bruce Thompson of the Royal Liverpool club, in the first round.

Tennis star Ellsworth Vines, of San Gabriel, sawdrawn in the fourth quarter. He drew a bye in the first round and is to play E. N. Ratcliffe, of Hawarden, in the second round.

Richard Chapman, of Greenwich Country Club drawn in the third quarter, plays John Cowley of Rotherham in the first round.

Edward Phillips, of Aronimink, also in the third quarter, drew a first round bye and plays J. S. F. Morrison, Sunningdale, in the second round.

"Sunny Jim" Well Pleased With His Derby Winner

NEW YORK, May 10.—"This Johnstown," said Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons "may not be the greatest horse I've ever trained, but he has a chance to turn in the greatest three-year-old record of all time!"

The horse in question was William Woodward's big, good-looking bay colt, which won the Kentucky Derby Saturday by a sleeper jump and in the third fastest time in the 65-year history of the race before nearly 80,000 persons at Churchill Downs.

It was the first Derby ever run in two sections—the winner and the rest of the field. And, as a result, Johnstown was being ranked with War Admiral today, as he headed for the Preakness at Pimlico track next Saturday and new world's to conquer.

"I say that up to now he's not the greatest of all I've ever had," the grey little master mind of the turf pointed out, "because he's only run up to 1 1/4 mile. Just wait till he goes after the 1 1/2 mile in the Belmont, and against the other colts again in the Preakness. Then we'll find out."

"After all, I had some real nice horses. Gallant Fox was a good one. So was Granville, and you can't say Omaha was a plater. The Fox and Omaha won their derbies. But I will say that this colt is as good as they were, maybe better, after they had gone as far in their campaigning."

FURTHER TESTS TO COME

"But Johnstown is eligible for every three-year-old stake of importance, the Withers. It doesn't look now as though any three-year-old can beat him, so if he wins 'em all — well, as far as I can remember, no colt has ever done that; that is, win the triple crown and just about all the others you can name."

MAXIE SERIOUS IN PREPARATION FOR NOVA

GROSSINGER LAKE, N. Y., May 10.—The Merry Madcap has reformed. The Magnificent Screwball still is magnificent—but no longer a screwball.

After all these years, the fight racket has become grim, serious business to Max Baer, in training here for his last chance meeting with Lou Nova at New York's Yankee Stadium the evening of June 1.

To the casual visitor, Baer may seem the same happy, jovial, carefree individual the world knew five or six years ago, when he loved life, gaiety, excitement. He has lost none of his engaging, colorful personality.

But there is a significant determination behind his every move these days. Baer is all business. He realizes he can no longer afford to treat boxing lightly. He has reached the crossroads of his tempestuous career. This impending scuffle with Nova means sink or swim to him. A victory will qualify him for a chance to regain his lost heavyweight championship of the world. A defeat will just about eliminate him from further consideration as a serious contender for the title. There are no half way measures involved. It's all or nothing with Max now, and no one appreciates the fact more than the big boy himself.

For probably the first time in his hectic career, Baer is adhering religiously to a strict training program. He is up at 7 o'clock every morning and in bed by 10 o'clock at night. He opens his day's activities with a brisk five-mile jaunt in the morning over the hills surrounding this picturesque camp in the Catskills. He repairs to the gymnasium every afternoon at 2:45, except Monday, his day off, for a program embracing from four to six rounds of fast boxing and several rounds of bag punching, dope skipping and calisthenics. He eats twice daily, breakfast at 9 a.m. and dinner at 5 p.m.

He takes a two-hour nap around noon, and his leisure moments are usually spent lolling around the house, listening to the radio; writing letters, talking with visitors, or indulging in card games with his entourage. Occasionally in the evenings he goes for a long walk, and once or twice weekly drops into the movies in Liberty for the early evening show. Monday, his off day, he generally spends golfing.

One must take Sunny Jim's word for it. After all, "Mr. Fitz" has been training for 40 of his 66 years. Before that he rode a little. He's saddled three Derby winners for Woodward.

One must also take Sunny Jim's word for Johnstown's complete spread-eagling of the three-year-olds. It's not that the others, like Challe-don, which finished a farback second Saturday, are so bad. They just had the misfortune to come of age when something closely resembling one of racing's greats, came along.

Up to now, Johnstown has had four three-year-old outings and has won them by a total of something around 25 lengths. And when he cutran all the early speed El Chico could muster Saturday in the first 3-16 mile, just about breaking the little fellow's heart, he showed there just isn't any way of beating him if he is "right."

WOODSTOCK TEAM LEADS TOURNEY

Championship Not Decided at 1 A. M.

WOODSTOCK, May 10.—The New Brunswick and Northern Maine candlepin tournament for the J. E. Came trophy was still undecided as the tourney entered its closing stages early this morning. Play was continued into the early hours of the morning to avoid the teams having to stay over for another day, and the final round did not get under way until about 1 a.m.

Interest centred in the match between the two Woodstock teams. A win for No. 1 team will give them the trophy, while a victory for No. 2 will make a four-cornered tie between the two Woodstock teams, St. Stephen and the Houlton Elks. The Elks were favored to win the tournament until St. Stephen toppled them this evening in a surprise victory.

The game was bitterly fought until the last box and the big crowd howled themselves hoarse as the Charlotte County team, decisively outrolled in the first string, came back strong in the second and had a wide edge in the final one.

Another bitterly fought match was played in the afternoon when Woodstock No. 1 nosed out St. Stephen by five pins, after having been down 70 going away.

The result was in doubt until the last ball was thrown. The high total of 1,636, put on by the Houlton Elks Monday evening was not touched today, but the Elks came close against the Niles alleys team of Houlton when they amassed 1635. The only other teams to roll over 1350 today were Woodstock No. 1 with 1606, and Woodstock No. 2 with 1602.

The high single and high three total for the tournament to date was made this evening by Shannon, rolling in anchor position for Niles' Alleys, when he clipped off 150 and 383. He dropped to 98 in the third string, after having the alley record in his grasp. Hovey, rolling opposite him for the Elks club rolled 373.

DIXIE HANDICAP RUNNING TODAY

BALTIMORE, May 10.—Field of 16 sturdy campaigners topped by last year's winner, Pompoon, and including some of the best of the United States stake racers in the business, is named for today's $20,000 Dixie handicap at Pimlico—a curtain-raiser for Saturday's rich Preakness.

Meanwhile, the $50,000 Preakness shaped up as more of an acid test for the greatness of Johnstown, last Saturday's speedy Kentucky Derby winner. Trainers of Clencia, the filly who won gold and glory in the $50,000 Santa Anita Derby, announced she would be a sure starter in the race will go far toward settling the three-year-old champion.

Pompoon will be topweighted with 125 pounds as he attempts to win his second straight Dixie victory in its 35th renewal tomorrow. Last year he set a track record of 1:56 4-5 for the 1 3-16 mile from a stale gate start. Seabiscuit did the distance in 1:56 3-4 against War Admiral in their historic duel here last November, but from a walk-up start.

Pompoon will face such competitors as Marshall Field's Sir Damion, second in the Widener Handicap last winter and Townsend B. Martin's Cravat. Cravat will carry 120 pounds with Sir Damion down for 113.
