

Relative Of Queen Now Resides At Saint John

MONTREAL, May 15.—A second cousin of her Majesty Queen Elizabeth normally residing in Montreal is not expected to be in the huge throngs that will witness the Royal procession on May 16. He is Douglass Ian Gordon Bowes-Lyon, of 5270 Eighth Avenue, Rosemount. Mr. Bowes-Lyon is now working in Saint John, N. B., and is expected to be away at least during the whole of this summer.

Mr. Bowes-Lyon comes of a collateral branch of the family, being a grandson of the third son of the thirteenth Earl of Strathmore. Her Majesty's father being the fourteenth Earl. His father is Ernest Hubert Bowes-Lyon who served in the Black Watch, Royal Highlanders, during the war, and was educated at the Royal Military College, Sandhurst.

In 1905, the father married Mary Agnes, the daughter of James Hay-Smeaton. The elder son of Ernest Malcolm Bowes-Lyon, Hubert Ernest Malcolm Bowes-Lyon was born in 1907, and is now living in India. Douglas was born in 1912 and is now 26 years of age. Mrs. Bowes-Lyon died in 1914, and Douglas' father, now believed to be residing in Jersey, Channel Islands, married again.

On his mother's death Douglas came into the care of his maternal grandmother, who following the death of her husband in the war while serving in the Royal Fusiliers, came to Canada, and lived in Rosemount up to the time of her death two years ago. Mrs. Hay-Smeaton, who was known and esteemed throughout the whole Rosemount for her indefatigable community efforts, had three sons and a daughter, the latter, Miss Wilfred Smeaton now residing with Douglas at the Rosemount home.

Mr. Bowes-Lyon's uncles include John Hay-Smeaton, now living in Edinburgh, Scotland, Fred Hay-Smeaton, now living in Newfoundland and Harry Hay-Smeaton, an engineer employed locally. Another aunt of Bowes-Lyon is Mrs. George Weston of 5495 Thirteenth avenue, Rosemount.

Neighbors who have known Mr. Bowes-Lyon for the past few years speak highly of him, and regard him almost as a mechanical genius. He has installed a lathe for himself in his home and employs his spare time at the bench.

Doing the... World's Fair at New York

City police authorities recently organized a determined drive to put an end to begging at the Fair and it should be good news for every person who plans to visit the Fair during the summer. Mendicants were everywhere during the opening days, all with long tales of woe and misfortune. Actually it was a colossal racket, as there are municipal funds available for persons in need. In the words of Mayor LaGuardia: "The City appropriates millions of dollars for the unemployed and destitute and begging is wholly unnecessary."

Free displays are given regularly at the Lagoon of Nations and many visitors have pronounced them to be a highlight of the exposition. The "shows", which change once a week, consist of carefully planned and very spectacular displays of fireworks, each being an interpretation of some phase of life or activity. For example, this week's presentation has been an interpretation of the life cycle of three flowers, the blue morning glory, the yellow daffodil and the white night blooming cereus.

A burst of fireworks at the beginning represents "the magic wand of nature." Then comes the opening of the buds in spring, the gradual development of the blooms and finally the death of the flower in the summer heat, indicated by a blazing "field of flame." The display lasts for fifteen minutes. Without a knowledge of what is actually portrayed, however, it is still very striking.

Another offering of the Fair committee which is proving tremendously popular is the "baseball school," a week-end feature. Free "classes" are held on Saturday and Sunday in baseball, and any youngster is eligible to take part. Various of baseball's celebrities act as instructors, members of the big league outfits.

Byron M. Fisher

Tired, Worn-out Nervous Woman Feels Like a Million Now

New Discovery Gives Her Pep, Vim, Vitality

Try Her Secret. Feel Strong, Peppy Younger—Or Don't Pay a Cent

"I was so rundown, tired out, I couldn't do my housework. So nervous I couldn't sleep. No medicines helped me until I tried Ostrex. Then I felt fine. I work in office all day; then do housework at night. Those awful headaches have ended too. It has been a year since I took Ostrex and I still feel great."—Mrs. Frank Dishman, 6802 Wimsor Road, Kansas City, Mo.

Ostrex is different, unique. It's a special tonic for men and women of 30, 40 and 50 who are rundown, always tired, exhausted, nervous or who feel old. Contains six general body invigorators. Also a safe, remarkable new STIMULANT or "bracer" often needed by tired, peopless folks of 30, 40 or 50. Ostrex was first tested by 50 New York doctors, then tried in medical clinic where it beat their usual tonic.

Get package Ostrex Tablets today. If not delighted with quick new vim, strength, better nerves and pep that makes you feel younger, maker refunds its low price. You don't risk a penny. Get Ostrex today. At

"BEAU BRUMMEL" IS UNEARTHED IN MURDER CASE

PHILADELPHIA, May 15. — Two more bodies of suspected victims of an eastern states insurance-murder ring were ordered exhumed Saturday following swift court moves which investigators said had etched in sharper outline the roles 13 prisoners played in a slay-for-pay racket.

The bodies were those of Abraham Sherman and Antonio Giacobbe. Their widows are among 24 persons held as members, customers and "dupes" of the ring which police say may have plotted more than 100 deaths by poison, drowning and faked accidents in the last 10 years.

Woman Charged

Giacobbe's widow, Mrs. Millie Giacobbe was one of 13 of the prisoners herded before police judges yesterday and held for trial, the grand jury, further hearing or extradition. Many had been arraigned previously, but were called up again on additional charges. Mrs. Giacobbe was charged with murder.

Her arraignment and the subsequent order for exhumation of her husband's body brought prominently to the fore the name of a man known to police as a practitioner of witchcraft and called the ring's "Beau Brummel." He is Paul Petrillo, charged with murder and with being an accessory to murder. Police Captain James Kelly said Mrs. Giacobbe had accused Petrillo in a statement of slowly poisoning her husband after making love to her.

"Petrillo told her that he would get rid of her husband and his wife, and then they could marry," Kelly said. "Paul took out insurance on Giacobbe's life, naming himself beneficiary and describing himself as Giacobbe's nephew."

Another investigator said detectives were checking on nine poison murders in New York City, Brooklyn, and Jersey City to determine whether Petrillo possibly was linked with them. The investigator declared Petrillo was known to have held, as beneficiary, at least 60 insurance policies on the lives of persons either murdered or marked for murder. In each case, the investigator said, Petrillo described himself as a "nephew."

that happen to be in town performing the duties. The first Saturday the classes were open, there were over 500 cheering sandlotter in the "school."

A question which may have frequently been asked about this nation or that is: "What motive can that little country have in spending money for a pavilion in the New York Fair?" At least one answer was given by Munir Ertegun, Turkish Ambassador to the United States, on the opening of his building recently. He said: "One may ask how Turkey could spare these means at a moment when a crazy race for armaments is going on and every nation is spending all its spare dollars on arms. We did it because we only arm for safe guarding peace and because we consider all efforts tending to create international goodwill a more effective defence of peace than the most formidable weapon."

The "Folks Festival" presented on a large stage in the Court of Peace was one of the greatest displays of the folk dances of various nations ever produced. It was sponsored by a New York newspaper. Young men and women from 32 nations — older men and women, too, in some cases — portrayed their native dances in the costumes of their respective countries. The music of the nations taking part was displayed in accompaniment to the dancing, of course. Approximately 6000 dancers and artists participated in the event, which was watched by a crowd estimated as close to the hundred thousand mark.

And here's today's humor note. Hiram Sherman, an actor in the Globe Theatre at the Merrie England Village, became so excited when he heard the presentation of "Midsummer Night's Dream" had made a hit with the critics, that he forgot to wash off his make-up and rode home in the subway as "Bottom" from Shakespeare's famous comedy.

We suspended our "world tour" today to avoid monotony, but we'll be wandering over Europe with you again before very long.

Note — Anyone, desiring to ask questions concerning the Fair, to make suggestions or offer comments on this column, will please address D. W. Griffiths, Director, New Brunswick Bureau of Information, The New Brunswick Exhibit, Canada Pavilion, The World's Fair, New York.

WINNING CONTRACT

By the Four Aces

(David Bruce Burnstone, Merwin D. Maier, Oswald Jacoby, Howard Schenken, world's leading team of four, inventors of the system that has beaten every other system in existence.)

CUE-BID INVITES SLAM

South, Dealer

Oswald Jacoby		North		East
♠	Q J 10	♠	7 3 2	♠	8 6 5 4 3
♥	A K J 3 2	♥	Q 10	♥	Q 10 7
♦	J 8 6 4	♦		♦
♣	6 4	♣		♣
♠	K J 10 8	♠		♠
♥	9 7 2	♥		♥
♦	9	♦		♦
♣	5 2	♣		♣

Howard Schenken

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♣	1♠	3♦	Pass
2♠	Pass	5♦	Pass
6♦	Pass	Pass	Pass

There was nothing to the play of the above hand, taken from a qualifying round of the recent Vanderbilt Cup tournament. The bidding is interesting from the standpoint that it represents one of those Slams which usually are difficult to bid due to the fact that the opening bidder is so weak in trumps. However, in spite of this weakness, Mr. Schenken's opening diamond bid was very sound, and after Mr. Jacoby's jump raise, he felt strong enough to invite the Slam, which he bid by means of the control-showing bid in spades—the suit bid by his opponent.

Mr. Jacoby's second jump to five diamonds confirmed the fact that he was very strong in that suit, and furthermore indicated that he wanted his partner to bid six if possible. If Mr. Jacoby had wanted to sign off, he would merely have bid four diamonds. Accordingly, Mr. Schenken now realized that there was little likelihood of losing a diamond trick and hence contracted for the Slam, which was of course a laydown.

As a matter of fact, Mr. Schenken could have made seven if he had cared to play West for both the Queen and ten of clubs. However, since the match was total points, he used a safety play to guard against any possibility of losing two club tricks, first playing the Ace of clubs and then leading a small one toward dummy.

You were David Bruce Burnstone's partner on Saturday, both sides vulnerable and you held:

♠ A K x x x
♥ A x x
♦ K x x
♣ K x x

The bidding:

You	Jacoby	Burnstone	Maier
1♠	Dbl.	Redbl.	2♥
(?)

ANSWER: Your correct bid is to pass. Your partner's redouble has shown strength and also indicated that he will take action if you pass the two-heart bid around to him. He will either double two hearts or make some other bid.

Score 100% for pass, 60% for two spades, 50% for three spades, 40% for any other bid.

Question No. 133

Oswald Jacoby is your partner. You are the dealer and hold:

♠ A J x
♥ K Q J x x
♦ A x x
♣ x x

The bidding:

You	Schenken	Jacoby	Maier
1♥	Pass	2♥	Pass
(?)

What do you bid? (Answer tomorrow.)

The Four Aces will be pleased to answer letters from readers if a stamped (3c), self-addressed envelope is enclosed with each communication addressed to The Four Aces, c/o The Daily Mail.

If you desire the pocket outline of The Four Aces system of Contract Bridge, send with your request to The Four Aces, c/o The Daily Mail a stamped (3c), self-addressed large size envelope and you will receive an outline without any charge.

Have you smoked a Turret lately?

● To a Turret smoker, no other cigarette ever gives quite the same pleasure, because Turret's original and unique blend of fine Virginia tobaccos has a distinctive, appealing taste unmatched by any other cigarette. Even the Turret package is better—it has a handy calendar on the back to keep you up-to-date.

For roll-your-owners we suggest Turret Fine Cut

SWEET CAPORAL CIGARETTES

"What would tempt you to stay?"
"Try me with a Sweet Cap—"

"The purest form in which tobacco can be smoked."

MORE for your DOLLAR

Is What We Try To Give Our Customers Who Want The Best In Job Printing And Office Supplies

Phone 67

Have You Ordered Any Stationery From Us Yet?

If Not You Will Be Surprised at Our Reasonable Rates on Job Printing

Phone 612

Capital Printing & Publishing Co.

FREDERICTON, N. B.

Quick relief

FROM COLDS • HEADACHES • HEARTBURN • UPSET STOMACH • MUSCULAR ACHES AND PAINS • AND MORNING AFTER

If you feel miserable from one of those everyday complaints caused by too much gastric acid—be wise, alkalize with Alka-Seltzer.

Alka-Seltzer is the modern way. One or two tablets in a glass of water makes a refreshing, sparkling solution praised by millions for its pleasant taste and speedy relief. Convenient to take anytime because it has no laxative after-effects.

Two sizes, 30c and 60c, at all drug stores, and by the glass at soda fountains.

Be wise Alkalize with Alka-Seltzer

Effervescent Analgesic Alkalinizing Tablets