Benes' Nephew Sees Gloomy World Future

MONTREAL, April 19—Shortly, very shortly,—Hitler and Mussolini will attack France and Britain. There will be a dreadful war in Europe from which Russia may keep clear until the other countries are exhausted and she can "inherit the earth."

This is the gloomy picture of the future at its gloomiest which was painted by Bohus Benes, nephew of Dr. Eduard Benes, President of Czechoslovakia at the time of the Munich crisis. Mr. Benes had come to Montreal to address a meeting of his country in the Bonsecours Market. He was interviewed at the home of Dr. Frantisek Pavlasek, Consul-General of his country.

Mr. Benes has been for 19 years in the diplomatic service of his country. He was in Montreal for more than a year when the first Czechoslovakian consulate was opened here in 1919. He was secretary to his uncle during the period of crisis and flew to London with him on October 22 of last year. He is acting as secretary to Dr. Benes in his present tour of the United States.

U. S. ACTION IMPORTANT

The alternative of the "gloomiest" view of the future, presented above depends upon the action of the United States in the event of world war, according to Mr. Benes. If the United States joins in the war on the side of the democracies, then Soviet Russia will also come in right away. Otherwise, he feels, Russia will stay out, offended because she was left out of the Munich discussion, and because her own Communist interests will be best served by fostering revolution among the war-exhausted peoples of Europe.

"For the Democracies' present 'Stop Hitler' drive Mr. Benes has no praise whatever.

"You cannot 'stop Hitler,'" he said. "You can either accept his domination or else you must be prepared to smash him.

"What good is stopping him going to do when it leaves the Nazi ideology intact, when we know that treaties and agreements mean nothing at all to him."

"It merely means that when it suits him, he will once more advance before the other nations can do anything."

PLEDGES DOUBTED

Mr. Benes declared that there is a profound conviction in eastern Europe that no nation's pledges are any good nowadays.

"Can you imagine any other reason why Greece and Rumania would not have leaped at the chance of British and French guarantees of their frontiers? They feel that the western Democracies are just playing for time to rearm and that they will be the sacrifice."

The answer to the whole situation, in his view is the eventual constitution of a United States of Europe with an international armed force to keep order.

"But in the meantime there will be terrible war and terrible revolutions," he said.

Both Czechs and Slovaks,—there are 3,000,000 of them aboard—will work for the re-establishment of their republic. They will meet in Chicago in a few days and it is probably that Dr. Benes will accept the leadership of their united forces.

Mr. Chamberlain said last year: "If the Anglo-Italian agreement fails I will eat my hat." One Hamburg steak coming up.

Blue Snow!

Mr. Picobac had brought his big iron snow shovel into the kitchen to grease it with pork fat, and fill his pipe with prime, ripe, mellow sunny southern Ontario Burley before he put on his mitts.

"Blue snow," announced he. "Blue snow."

"What do you mean, 'blue snow'?" demanded Mrs. Picobac.

"Wet. Sticks to the shovel."

"You get your galoshes on and get that walk cleared," said Mrs. Picobac.

"Whistle while you work," sang Mr. Picobac, searching for a match. "A greased shovel, a pipeful of Picobac and a guarantee of a mild . . . cool . . . sweet smoke and then, mother, you watch the blue snow fly."

"It DOES taste good in a pipe!"

NEWS BROADCASTS CAUSED SUICIDES

LONDON, April 19—Three persons have committed suicide in London within five days, after listening to broadcasts on the European situation, according to verdicts at coroners' inquests. One coroner commented:

"New is not always happily expressed over the wireless. People with nervous dispositions are liable to be tremendously affected by it."

LONDON PAPER ISSUES SPECIAL CANADA EDITION

LONDON, April 19.—The Financial News (Independent) issued a special Canadian and United States supplement which Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner, in a foreword called "not merely an inspiring picture of the fourth trading nation of the world (Canada) but also a criterion by which its future may be judged."

The newspaper issued the supplement as a forerunner of the visit of The King and Queen to the two North American countries. Joseph P. Kennedy, United States Ambassador, wrote a foreword for the American section.

Mr. Massey said: "If one studies the opportunities and achievements of today in relation to the possibilities of tomorrow Canada can inspire great confidence by her rich endowments and her splendid records of contemporary progress."

MANION AND BUCK EXCHANGE LONG LETTERS

OTTAWA, April 19.—Whether the Communist Party of Canada seeks to attain its ends by revolutionary or democratic means has been the subject of an exchange of lengthy letters between Hon. R. J. Manion and Tim Buck, Dominion Secretary of the Communist Party.

The letters—copies of which went to all Members of Parliament—were prompted by Dr. Manion's support in the House of Commons of a proposal by Wilfrid Lacroix (Lib., Quebec-Montmorency) to bar the Communist party from use of the mails.

Mr. Buck at once wrote the Conservative leader inviting an examination of Communist speeches and constitution to show the Communist Party held that "Socialism will be achieved only by means of the expressed democratic will of the majority of the Canadian people."

Dr. Manion replied that he had no knowledge that the Communist Party of Canada had disassociated itself from the Communism of Russia, which was based on a theory of force, or from the Communism of Marx or Engels.

Takes Squirrel For Walk On Leash Daily

BARY, Ind., April 19.—A member of the Joseph Glody's family every fair-weather day hooks a leash onto their pet squirrel and takes it for a walk.

Glody captured the creature last fall during a hunting trip. Observing a hawk carrying something in its mouth, he shot at it, scaring it into dropping its burden. Glody found its prey was two baby squirrels, one of them killed in the fall.

He took the other one home where Mrs. Glody fed it with an eye dropper. Now it eats nuts, apples and drinks milk from a bottle.

It makes itself right at home—so much, in fact, they named it "Monkey" because it gets into continual trouble. It likes to play with family members but avoids all strangers.

THE WAR OF WORDS (Halifax Herald)

To listen-in at the radio these days is to be literally overwhelmed by the unending torrents of propaganda—and abuse of the democracies—that come pouring out of dictator-countries.

Every word of it censored from within . . . every word of it approved by dictator-government.

And one often wonders if the peoples of countries like Germany and Italy actually realize what their rulers are sending broadcast to the world in their name.
