U.N.B. Student Has Narrow Escape

Gordon S. Myers Missed Footing In Jumping Train

Leg Fractured

Attempting to Get a "Lift" on Shunting C. P. R. Train

An attempt of a U. N. B. student to get a "lift" on a shunting train this morning resulted in a near fatality, when Gordon S. Myers, second year Arts student at the University of New Brunswick was injured as he missed his footing and taken to the Victoria Public Hospital with a fractured leg.

Myers, who is the son of Warren P. Myers, Sussex, attempted to hop the Min's mixed train which was shunting cars above the Union Station. The manager of the McCall Frontenac Oil Station, and the only witness to the accident, stated that Myers ran alongside the train and attempted to get on the front steps of a passenger coach. He missed the rail and as the train passed, he attempted to get on the rear end of the coach. Due to the deep snow his footing missed and he was hurled partly between the coach and the Kahoon and dragged for about 15 feet before he was thrown clear.

Although early reports stated that Myers' leg was run over by the train and nearly amputated it was reported from the hospital that amputation will not be necessary. A small bone in the leg was fractured, his physician reported, but his condition is not serious.

The train was immediately stopped by the train crew and Myers was placed on the back of the train by the trainman, V. Thornton, and taken to the station. From there he was rushed to Victoria Public Hospital in the car of Harry McLean, mail driver. The conductor of the train was Arthur Barton, while engineer was Jack Swift.

HOME, SCHOOL BODY MEETS IN SMYTHE SCHOOL

Mrs. A. R. Menzies Gives Report on National Convention

The monthly meeting of the Smythe Street Home and School Association was held in the school with the President, Mrs. Frank Barton presiding and a good attendance of parents and teachers on hand.

After routine business discussion of Education Week was heard and appreciation was expressed to the local Teachers' Association for their efforts to promote Education Week in the city of Fredericton and to arouse added interest in educational affairs. Arrangements have been made in Smythe Street School with the teachers for a Parents' Visiting Day each month. A special feature will be observed on Parents' Day during Education Week when a program will be carried out and the parents will have the opportunity to learn of the value of films as visual education and an aid to the children.

Following the business period, Mrs. A. R. Menzies who attended the last National Convention of Home and School associations gave a report of that conference. In introducing the national Home and School Movement, she referred to the fact that Ontario had taken the lead in organization work in Canada where it works as an independent organization promoting educational progress through research and a study of conditions governing the child.

Mrs. Menzies stated that no improvement in school conditions is possible unless public opinion approves and supports it, and declared there is a great need for an enlightened public opinion in educational affairs.

The findings and recommendations previously submitted by the International Bureau of Education were read and showed clearly the need of bringing together not only the representatives of school administration but of parents and citizens as well as representatives of the teaching staff

NEW BRUNSWICK GUIDES AWAY TO SPORTSMAN SHOW

"Little Bit" of New Brunswick To Be Seen At Boston

The first group of New Brunswick guides left for Boston this morning to prepare for the opening of the New England Sportsman's Show in Mechanics Hall. The guides left this year without William T. Griffin, Miramichi guide, who will be unable to attend the year this year due to the illness of his father, William H. Griffin, 86-year-old trapper and guide, senior guide of New Brunswick. The veteran guide is seriously ill at the home of his son at Boiestown.

Arthur Pringle, another veteran New Brunswick guide, will not be able to attend the show this year. Mr. Pringle is Honorary President of the New Brunswick Guides' Association.

A capable representation of New Brunswick guides left this morning, however, and will erect this province's exhibit at the show. A log cabin and scenic background will be constructed to house the New Brunswick exhibit. Accompanied by Fred R. Phillips, Assistant Director of the New Brunswick Bureau of Information and Tourist Travel, the guides left Saint John by Eastern Steamship for Boston. Another party will leave for Boston on the morning of Feb. 3.

The New Brunswick exhibit this year promises to be one of the best ever sent to the Boston show. Mounted specimens of New Brunswick wild life as well as live fish will feature the exhibit. Movies of New Brunswick will be shown, and Don Messer and his Lumberjacks will supply old time music and songs as an added attraction.

New Brunswick's first exhibit was shown at the Boston show in 1898. It was sponsored by the Fredericton Tourist Association, the first tourist association in Canada. During the past ten years this province's exhibit has been an annual feature at the show, and has been shown at New York, Hartford and Philadelphia as well as at Boston.
