Daylight Saving Time

Now that Daylight Saving has been officially adopted, it would be advisable for citizens to fall in line. This is especially true in regard to social, lodge and other meetings. If an organization advertises a meeting of a society and says that the meeting is to start at eight o'clock, everyone of the members and others should understand that it is eight o'clock by the City Hall clock. It is eight o'clock Daylight Saving Time. There is no other time officially so far as Fredericton is concerned. We have adopted Daylight Saving Time and no matter how one may keep the clock set in his own house, it should be understood that all official gatherings should go by official time. This would avoid confusion. Already our churches and the Provincial Government officers have fallen in line. There was practically no confusion on Sunday morning as all except a few of the churchgoers were on time at the different church services.

Do not get in the habit of figuring out at night that when he clock says eleven o'clock, "it is only ten o'clock Old Time." Otherwise you will get up an hour earlier in the morning and go to bed an hour later at night, thus losing that much sleep. This has been the great objection to Daylight Saving Time—but there need not be any such objection if people go along in the regular way.

An inquest was opened and then adjourned. No foul was suspected. Only last March 63-year-old Frederick Nothnagel, brother of Herman, committed suicide, apparently feeling he was under suspicion of having killed Herman. He left a note saying he did not murder his brother.

Marysville School Teacher Honored

MARYSVILLE, N. B., June 24—The teachers of the Gibson Memorial School were recently entertained at an afternoon tea in the auditorium of the school when the tables were tastefully decorated with iris, lupin and other spring flowers. The occasion being in honor of Mrs. Stella Cochran who is retiring after thirty-seven years on the teaching staff of the Marysville school. Miss Zula V. Hallett, the principal on behalf of the teaching staff made the presentation of a beautiful handkerchief bouquet, each handkerchief had pinned to it a verse and concealed in the depths of the bouquet was a gift of money from each of the teachers. Mrs. Cochran thanked her friends for their thoughtfulness. The following address was read by Miss Hallett:

Dear Mrs. Cochran,

We, your associate teachers—your friends, could not part with you, without a direct expression of our deep and abiding gratitude for your unceasing efforts, kindness and admirable qualities of teacher and friend.

Please accept this gift as an evidence of our lasting esteem, friendship and love. When in future days you think of this let it be a pleasant token of our deepest appreciation and reverence for your long and faithful service in our profession.

We now extend to you every good wish for many remaining years of health and happiness and may we say with Longfellow:

She who through long days of labor,
And nights devoid of ease,
Still heard in her soul the music
Of wonderful melodies,
Such songs have power to quiet
The restless pulse of care,
And come like the benediction
That follows after prayer.

Then read from the treasured volume
The poem of thy choice,
And lend to the rhyme of the poet
The beauty of thy voice
And the night shall be filled with music
And the cares that infest the day,
Shall fold their tents, like the Arabs,
And as silently steal away.

Zula V. Hallett, Sadie V. Miller, Lois Pugh, Daisy B. Boyce, Verna M. Akerley, Gertrude M. Finnamore.

Mrs. Holley Pugh who also is leaving was also presented with a book by Miss Hallett.

Mrs. Cochran who has taught under the principalship of the late W. T. Day and has also been associated with the teaching profession for such a long term was popular with teachers, parents and pupils, and her many friends extend their hearty congratulations.

LARGE MEETINGS IN INTEREST OF GOVERNMENT

Meetings at Nortondale, McAdam, Harvey, Meductic in York — Hon. R. B. Hanson Addressed Two Meetings—One Meeting in Sunbury at Tracy.

Meetings in the interests of the Tilley Government were held in York county last night at Nortondale, McAdam Junction, Harvey Station and Meductic. A large meeting in the interests of the government was also held at Tracy Station, Sunbury Co.

At Nortondale, a large audience cheered H. A. Smith and W. G. Quinn both of Fredericton, as they replied to many of the Opposition's charges. The speakers declared in reply to the Opposition's criticism concerning the government's policy regarding the restoration of salaries to civil servants, that although the Opposition had opposed the restoration, they did not offer to return their own.

McAdam

Hon. R. B. Hanson, minister of trade and commerce and federal Conservative candidate for York-Sunbury, Dr. B. H. Dougan, Harvey, and Dr. M. L. Jewett, Millville, both seeking re-election, were the speakers at McAdam. The McAdam-Vanceboro band was in attendance. George E. Maxwell was the chairman. Mr. Hanson stated he was averse to the amalgamation of the railroads, although he was in favor of assisting the C. P. R., and he said the government had assisted the C.P.R. when they were not able to get this from United States and British interests. Referring to the "charges of extravagance" which the Opposition candidates made against the government, he remarked that large sums had been expended on new structures, one of which was the new post office in McAdam, paved highways and bridges, etc.

Harvey

At Harvey the minister of trade and commerce also spoke at a large meeting, where the other speakers were Donald P. Douglass, Stanley, new candidate, and W. J. West, Fredericton. Mr. Douglass dwelt at length on the government's policy regarding the extension of electric power, and told the people to appeal to the government to extend the power to Harvey. He also told them to "get

Tilley Replies To McNair Challenge

Premier Says McNair
Has No Official Position
and That McNair
Can Come to Him —
Reads Official Notice
From K.K.K. Committee
Disowning Letter —
Says Those of Opposition
Faith Circulated Letter.

Declaring that J. B. McNair occupies no official position in the Opposition and that he would not be dictated to by any young man who is not even a member of the House of Assembly, Hon. L. P. D. Tilley, premier of the province, replied bluntly to the ultimatum issued by Mr. McNair at a Liberal meeting in the Opera House last Saturday night. Mr. McNair stated at the time that if the premier invited him (McNair) to name the man who wrote the original letter purported to have come from the Ku Klux Klan, he would announce the man's name from every Liberal platform in the province on that night. "Why should I go to Mr. McNair. He occupies no official position in the Opposition. Let him come to me," said the premier. The premier repeated the statement he had published in the press a few days ago, that the letters had been multigraphed and sent out among the Roman Catholic voters by the Opposition party or by those of Opposition faith and that the government knew nothing about the letters. The premier declared that he knew nothing of the letters until one was presented to him last Sunday and that since then another letter had been attached to it which was purported to have been signed by a Roman Catholic priest of Saint John. "To believe this would be an insult to the Catholic priests of N. B."

"I can prove that copies of this letter are being carried in the portfolios of Opposition members," declared Mr. Tilley. The premier produced and read a letter carrying the official seal of the Ku Klux Klan and signed by members of a special committee of the Klan, announcing that the Klan was non-political, that the Klan was not responsible for the publishing and circulating of the letters, and that the letter did not bear the official seal of the Klan. In reply to Mr. McNair's remarks about holding the premier to his undertaking in a speech delivered in Sussex, the premier said, "How can he hold me to the undertaking when I did not know the man's name and do not know it now." It was reported by Mr. McNair that the premier in Sussex stated that if he knew the man's name and if he was employed in the government offices, he would see that he was discharged. "I did not write Mr. McNair because I did not think he knew the name of the man," said the speaker. "Mr. McNair can come to me, and if he names any man in the government employ I will have the affair investigated at once. I will not refer to the affair again during the campaign. I just wanted to place the position of the government before the people," concluded Mr. Tilley.

Premier Tilley was addressing a large audience in support of the government in the Opera House last night at which he and Alderman C. Hedley Forbes, new Conservative candidate for York county, were the speakers. J. D. Palmer was the chairman. As the speakers took the platform the throng of government supporters which filled the Opera House to overflowing, cheered heartily in support of the premier, and the candidates. Loud speakers carried the speeches to hundreds of people outside the building. Chairman Palmer in introducing the speakers said the messages which would be delivered by the government would be different than those put forth by the Opposition. He criticized ed the programs at the Opposition meetings and classed it as "buttery reminiscent of the middle ages." He declared that the people of this country are too old and wise to be fooled by such nonsense as the Opposition puts forth.

Premier L. P. D. Tilley

Opening his remarks the premier delivered a short message to his radio listeners and asked the people to pardon him if he spoke rather straight from the shoulder. "I have been in public life a long time and no young man who is just beginning in public life and is not yet a member of the House of Assembly, can dictate to me. I must say this is the most insidious campaign that has ever been in New Brunswick. I have a few words to say to Mr. McNair. It is the first time in the history of the campaigns of the province that religion has entered into politics. A man's religion is with his God. It is no one else's affair. Mr. McNair asks us where he would get the casts and dies of the official letter heads of the organization. He had a letter in his possession when he said it and told the people that he would show it to anyone. Notice that he said "anyone." These letters were not written on the official letter heads of the organization. They were typewritten on plain paper in someone's office. They could not have come from the order without the official letter head and seal of the order. When I first heard about these letters I published a statement in the papers condemning the practice of such politics. These letters were multigraphed and circulated by members of the Opposition party or those of Opposition faith. They have been distributed among the Roman Catholic voters. The government knew nothing of the letters and is not responsible for them. I knew nothing of the letters until I was presented with one a week ago Sunday. The following week I condemned the practice at a meeting in Sussex and published my statement in the press. Then there was another letter distributed in the city of St. John, which is worse than the first one. And I can prove that Opposition members are carrying copies of this letter around in their portfolios. Attached to this second letter is another that is purported to have been written by a Roman Catholic priest of St. John. I do not believe that any Roman Catholic priest put his signature to this letter as it is. To believe so would be an insult to the Roman Catholic priests of New Brunswick. Mr. McNair says that if I go to him he will tell me the name of the man who wrote the letter. Mr. McNair has no official position in the Opposition. So why should I go to him. He can come to me. I said in Sussex that if a man in the employ of the government wrote a letter like this I would see that he was discharged. Mr. McNair said he would hold me to my undertaking. How can he hold me to an undertaking when I did not know the name of the man then or do not know it yet? If an organization or individual sends out letters of this kind the government is not responsible for them. I didn't write to Mr. McNair because I did not think he knew the man's name. I have here a letter signed by an official committee of the Ku Klux Klan and bearing the seal of the order, stating that they are a non political order, that they were not responsible for the publishing and circulation of the letter, and that it was not official without the seal of the order. Mr. McNair can come to me and if he names any man in the employ of the government I will have the affair investigated immediately. I will not refer to it again during the campaign." Don't forget the smoker tonight at 69 York Street. Dr. Dougan and D. P. Douglass will speak.
