LOUIS BANKS ON LEFT HOOK TO FLATTEN PRIMO

Italian's Followers doubt If 21-Year-Old Sensation, Outweighed Sixty Pounds, Can Withstand Primo's Mauling and Wrestling Tactics.

K—NEW YORK, June 25—Answers to a host of questions concerning Joe Louis, negro puncher from Detroit, will be forthcoming tonight when the youngster meets Primo Carnera in the Yankee Stadium ring. The fight is listed for fifteen rounds, but long before the route has been travelled the answers will pop up to "can he take it?" "Is he really good against some one who knows a thing or two?" and "Has he not been brought along too quickly?"

Here's a young man, just 21 years old, who in less than a year has stalked through the heavyweight ranks like a reaper through a wheat field. He turned professional July 4 last year and since then has met and conquered 22 rivals, and is undefeated. Eighteen of the 22 hapless were knocked out with a punch that has become famous throughout the country.

But in that list of 22 foes it's hard to find a name of importance. The opponents have been ordinary, not punchers, and all together they've not landed a half dozen hard blows on Louis.

Certain He Can Take It

His managers, John Roxborough and Julian Black, are certain that Joe can take a punch, but they don't believe that Carnera will put him to the test in that regard. Whether Louis will tire or become bewildered when roughed and mauled in characteristic Carnera manner is another thing. And whether he's come up too quickly is bothering astute fistic minds up and down Broadway and along Forty-ninth Street. Some think Roxborough and Black should have waited another year for Carnera; others that Carnera is exactly the type to make Louis look bad in his metropolitan debut.

Most of the experts think that Louis is ready for any one right now and that there's little doubt that he'll klay Carnera in an early round. Louis has power in both hands, and he delivers his punches with ease and grace. In his training processes over at Pompton Lakes, N. J., he has pummeled sparring partners the size of Carnera unmercifully.

Louis stalks his foe, continually shuffling forward, flat footed. He is not a swinger of the Baer type, but a deadly short hitter. Carnera won't have to worry about "sucker" right swings, but will have to concentrate on some sort of a defence for a left hook that travels with the speed of a rifle bullet and with about as much impact.

There have been three world championship fights in the last six weeks, the lightweight, welterweight and a heavyweight, but there's more interest being shown in this Louis-Carnera conflict than in all the other three combined.

THE MOUNTED POLICE

Our friends of the Opposition have had a lot to say these days concerning the Royal Canadian Police. In this, as well as in other matters, they are pursuing the same tactics as was followed by the Liberal party in the Nova Scotia election two years ago. In that province Liberal speakers promised to do away with the Mounties who are still on the job and doing good work. You are all familiar with the charges made in Parliament a short time ago by Hon. P. J. Veniot, a former Premier of this province. You also know how his bluff was called by the Minister of Justice and a Royal Commissioner, Chief Justice Baxter appointed to prove the matter. His report is now before Parliament, and completely exonerates the force from the charges preferred against them. He does not hesitate to say that the charges were based entirely on rumors and street corner gossip.

What are the facts concerning the Mounties? In 1931 they took over the enforcement of the law in this provincial Police. In 1929 the Provincial Police cost the province the sum of $217,565.06. Under an arrangement with the federal government the annual cost to the province of the services of the R. C. M. P. is $100,000.00. They enforce the revenue laws and for this they are paid by the Federal Government, which is quite proper. They also enforce provincial laws. If there is a tragic or accidental death, the Mounties investigate it. If a farmer is bothered by chicken thieves he can report the matter to the Mounties and they will respond. Remote sections of the rural districts are part of their territory. Already they have saved large sums to the Municipalities by taking charge of coroners' inquests. The enforcement of the Liquor Control law is part of their duties. Under prohibition this was supposed to have been done by a number of inspectors who served under a chief inspector. The services of these sleuths cost the province $70,646 in 1922; $67,397 in 1923; $66,044 in 1924; $78,345 in 1925 and $78,138.35 in 1926, or an average of about $70,000 a year. This means that the actual cost to the province today is only $30,000 a year, and beyond a doubt this sum is saved to the various municipalities through the activities of the Mounties.

OUR PREMIER

We have a dandy Premier in our Province here today, I don't care what Mr. Dysart Or the Liberal party say. He is working for our interest Helps us out in many ways, So cast your vote for Tilley, I think you'll find it pays.

Who was it when potatoes Had no sale, not even cheap, Helped the weary, tired farmer, To get back upon his feet? It was Premier Tilley In a plan all of his own, Thought he'd like to help the farmer So he granted him a loan.

And who was it when the woodsman Working on such meagre pay, Said, "A family starves on that wage You must give him more a day?" So the wage set by Premier Tilley To a dollar twenty five, "That's some better," sighed the Premier, "Twill at least keep him alive."

While Dysart criticizes And thinks sarcastic things to say Premier Tilley sweats and ponders On the problems of the day. How he can keep down expenses, Is a problem you can bet, For it must take time and money Paying the Liberals old back debt.

For five years this government labored To do their best in every way, So let's show our appreciation, When comes Election Day. Through the lean years they have struggled, Through depression they have been, Since they've pulled us through to safety, They're the guys to put back in.

So come all ye people With a mind that's broad and fair, And vote for Premier Tilley. "Yes," we must keep him there. And on June 27th, Tilley's got to win. For 'twould end all prosperity If that Dysart guy gets in.

COTTON TO BE THREAT TO STARS IN BRITISH OPEN

Former Titleholder Is Showing Good Form in Practice Rounds, Preparing for Big Event.

(By Bernard Darwin)

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, June 24—I have before me the list of the American entrants for our open golf championship which began yesterday at Muirfield. The professionals are Henry Picard, Macdonald Smith, Joe Ezar, Joe Kirkwood and Frank Ball. Incidentally, I think we may fairly call the last of these an Englishman, for he is one of the great Hoylake clan.

The amateurs are but two. One is of course, Lawson Little, holder of the American and British amateur titles, and the other, William S. Medart, of whom I confess to having no knowledge.

It is not as terrifying a list, perhaps, as we have had in some years, such as those of the Ryder Cup batches, but it is sufficiently formidable.

A year or two ago we should have been inclined to throw up our hands in despair and say: "Oh! one of the Americans is sure to win." It is still very likely that one of them will win, but at the moment we are not at all cast down by the thought.

Henry Cotton's victory last year and the fact that those who most threaten him in the fourth round were not American have for the time being removed the inferiority complex, and we have reasonable hopes of a British victory. And I must not forget to include in the British ranks one very fine overseas golfer. Syd Brews, from South Africa, who was second last year and is perfectly capable of being first this year.

Score 7 to 3 Last Evening at Devon As Pets Drop Further Into Cellar—Gail Currie Ineffective Though "Doc" Thompson Filled the Breach Well—Lawrence Gets His Third Win.

Devon advanced further in the lead in the York-Sunbury Baseball loop last night, beating the Fredericton Pets on the Devon Diamond, and dropping the local still further into the cellar position of the league. The score was 7 to 3, nine innings being played under the new Daylight Saving Time schedule.

The Pets erred in sending young Gail Currie into the box as the starting pitcher, and Devon gleaned its whole seven runs in the first two frames. Currie, whose arm is not in the best of shape was then taken out and "Doc" Thompson sent in. The latter pitched a superb game from there out, having eight strikeouts, and turning the Devonites back scoreless.

"Bib" Lawrence was tapped for three runs by the locals in the first inning and looked like easy sailing for the locals, but he settled down after that and pitched scoreless ball. It was his third victory in the loop.

"Si" Howell, the Devon shortstop clouded out three hits, and played a swell game in the field, making several elegant plays in the field. Lifford's running catch in left field, and Myshra's in right also were features. "Bib" Lawrence met one of Currie's slow ones early in the game and hit a long drive over Thompson's head in centre field for the longest hit of the game.
