SOCIAL HAPPENINGS*Wright-RichardsThe most outstanding and most fashionable wedding of the season took place this afternoon at three-thirty o'clock at Christchurch Cathedral when Margaret Bolton, only daughter of Honourable Mr. Justice and Mrs. C. D. Richards of Fredericton became the bride of Corder Cunningham, son of Geo. S. Wright, K.C., and Mrs. Wright, of Ottawa. The ceremony was performed by His Grace Archbishop Richardson.Given in marriage by her father, the bride was beautiful in a wedding gown, a Mainboucher imported model of white satin made in simple lines.
The skirt was full, ending in a long train, the blouse simple with cowl neck. The sleeves were tight-fitting with a trimming of tiny satin buttons to the elbows, the some being repeated on the front of the blouse and the front of the skirt. Her veil of white tulle was fastened with a halo cap, interwoven with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.The bride's attendants were Miss Mary Richardson, maid of honor, andMiss Grace Myers cousin of the bride, and Miss Hester Shute as bridesmaids. The gowns of the attendants were period frocks in turquoise blue taffeta silk made with long full skirts, with short trains and short puff sleeves. They wore Juliet caps made of tiny velvet flowers to match the dresses, lace mitts and carried talisman roses.The flower girls little Miss Dorothy Claridge and Miss Barbara Golding were in Kata Greenaway dresses of peach taffeta and on their heads wore wreaths of tiny velvet flowers to match their dresses. They carried chataelaine bouquets of yellow and bronze baby mums.The bridegroom was supported by R. G. Ray of Quebec. The ushers were Professor C. W. Argue, William D. Richards, Robert du Domaine and Philip Golding of St. John.As the guests were being ushered to their seats Professor Wm. J. Smith, organist, rendered selected numbers, and during the ceremony he played musical settings especially arranged by himself for the wedding. As the bride entered the church the choir rendered "The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden" and Miss KaKy Horwood played a violin solo during the signing of the register.The guest pews in the Cathedral were marked with sprays of white flowers tied with white ribbons, on the altar being white chrysanthemums.
Hydrangea, palms and ferns were placed in the chancel.Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, about one hundred and fifty guests being present. The bride's table was handsomely appointed with an Italian cup-work lace cloth and centred with a three-tiered wedding cake resting on billows of white tulle. The cake was flanked with miniature baskets of sweetheart roses, lilies of the valley and maiden hair fern. At each end of the table was a long silver candlestick holding a white taper and clusters of sweetheart roses tied with tulle and silver ribbon. Presiding over the tea cups were Mrs. J. A. Richardson, Mrs.
J. W. Bartlett, the Right Honourable the Countess Ashburnham and Mrs.
A. P. Crockett.Mr. and Mrs. Wright later left by motor on a wedding trip to the Adirondack Mountains and points in the United States, returning to Montreal.
They will reside at Matane, Quebec, where the bridegroom is employed with the Hammermill Paper Co.Both the bride and bridegroom are deservingly popular, the bride being a talented musician and holding the degree of A.T.C.M. from The Toronto Conservatory of Music, and is a graduate of Fredericton High School. The bridegroom is a graduate in forestry of U.N.B., and a former student of McGill.The floral decorations, the work of Bebbington's Gardens, were original and beautiful, the color scheme being white and pale pink. The guest tables were centred with a beautiful silver bowl of pink mums and snapdragon.
In the living-room the mantles were banked with ferns and palms, roses and mums being used throughout the rooms.Reverend Dr. Geo. E. Ross return-

Dramatic committee, under the chairmanship of rs. Fred Segee. The devotional exercises which opened the meeting were conducted by Mrs. Austin Squires. The first item of the programme was a vocal solo "Drink to Me Only with Thine Eyes," by Miss Margaret Sterns of Charlottetown accompanied by Mrs. Roland Laughlin.
Mrs. Segee then outlined the development of the drama through four stages Greek, Roman, Mediaeval and English. The address, well prepared and charmingly delivered, was a very enjoyable contribution. Miss Mabel Holder gave a delightful reading and the programme concluded by the presentation of a character sketch "United by Love." Those taking part in this sketch were Miss Jean Fraser, Miss Pearl Weeks, Bruce Bird, Lester
