

POWER LINE FOR DOAKTOWN- NEWCASTLE AREA

Government Authorizes
Expenditure of $85,700
For Work

47 Miles

Applications on Hand
Nearly Enough to Ensure Construction

The provincial government has authorized an expenditure not exceeding $85,700 to extend the facilities of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission to the area between Newcastle and Doaktown, it was announced by Premier A. A. Dymally following a meeting of the cabinet yesterday afternoon.

The stretch of 47 miles from Newcastle through Derby Junction, Millerton, Blackville and Upper Blackville to and through Doaktown passes through territory with 575 potential customers, exclusive of possible industrial power loads, according to the premier's statement.

Following presentation of a petition from interested residents in the districts, he said, a complete survey of the situation was made and "it has been decided to proceed with the installation of lines and equipment provided that 287 contract applications are received by the Power Commission."

On the basis of this number of users, which is one half of the potential, he said, a basis service charge had been struck which at the outset would probably be about $2 and which would decrease as the number of users increased, so that it was anticipated that shortly it will be reduced to $1.25 a month.

In addition to the service charge the following rates would apply: Eight cents per kilowatt hour for the first 20 kilowatt hours per month; five cents per kilowatt hour for the second 20 kilowatt hours per month, and three cents per kilowatt hour for all over 40 kilowatt hours per month.

The service charge would reach a minimum when the number of users totalled three-quarters of the potential number—575.

Premier Dymally stated that the applications already on hand closely approximated the minimum requirements to ensure construction. "With returning prosperity in the district affected," he said, "it is confidently expected that the desired quota will be speedily reached, and that within a comparatively short time the new line will be serving residents well in excess of that number."

BUILDING NEW CAMPS

Charles P. Wade, well-known guide of Penniac, is building two new sporting camps at "Sulitor Brow" at the head of Little River, it was learned here today. At present there are six men working on the camps and they plan to have them completed by the eighteenth of this month when a party of United States sportsmen are coming on a hunting trip. Mr. Wade reports that moose, deer and bear are plentiful and anticipates a good season. To illustrate the excellent locality of the new camps in regard to big game, Mr. Wade called a moose the other night and the next morning a big one appeared on Bailey Plain, near the camps.

LATE RACHEL A. MARSH

The funeral of the late Rachel Amelia Marsh, beloved wife of Clifford W. Marsh, who held this afternoon from her late home, Nashwaak-sis and was largely attended. Many friends of the deceased called at the home yesterday and today to pay a last token of respect to one who they esteemed as a great friend and whose memory will long linger as a tireless worker in all good causes. Service was conducted at the home by Rev. W. A. Burge, of the Gibson Memorial Church, Devon at 2:30 o'clock, assisted by Rev. Dr. Wightman. The choir of the church sang several favorite hymns of the deceased at the home. Interment was made in the Rural Cemetery Douglas.

BURT'S CORNER BAND ORGANIZED 23 YEARS AGO

James White of this City
First Band
Leader

23 Members

Keen Interest in Music
Taken by Citizens of District

A band in the scattered country districts of New Brunswick is looked upon as almost an impossibility but Burt's Corner, York county, has achieved her objective in this respect and has now a band of twenty-three members.

In 1912 the people became interested and wanted a band, the late Harvey Lawrence being especially interested in the idea. Instruments were purchased and the services of James White, original bandmaster of the York Regiment Band, secured and five dollars per practise paid for his services. During the years of the war, 1914-19, the band was disorganized but was again organized in 1919 under the leadership of a local man, William Burt, who was skilled in cornet playing.

In 1928 Mr. Burt moved away and leadership was given to Sisson Esty, who carried on until 1930, when a new class was organized under the leadership of Fred Mawer of Devon, who was paid five dollars per practise. In 1931 leadership was given to F. W. Allen, the only remaining member of the 1912 class, and who has since that time given unfailing service at the weekly practise, without any remuneration.

Four years is usually required to complete the training necessary to qualify a player to do public work. A new class will be taken on this fall

HORSES, BARN AND THRESHING MACHINE BURN

Roy Allen and William
Christie Lose Heavily in Fire

No Insurance

Property Valued at About $1300 Burned
at Penniac

Fire, believed to have been started by a match which was taken through a threshing machine and ignited the separator in a pile of straw, destroyed a barn full of hay belonging to Roy Allen, Penniac, and a team of horses and threshing machine belonging to William Christie of the same place. A pig and the winter's supply of grain, about 75 bushels, belonging to Mr. Allen, were also burned. The fire was first discovered about 1:00 o'clock yesterday afternoon in a pile of straw at the separator end of the threshing machine.

The men who were working on the machine immediately attempted to rescue the horses which were in a stable at the extreme end of the barn but by the time they had removed a pile of straw which had been thrown against the stable door, the fire had gained so much headway that the frightened horses refused to come out. Mr. Christie had been threshing for the past few days for Mr. Allen.

The loss sustained by Mr. Christie amounts to about $800 which was not covered by insurance, it was said. It was said Mr. Allen's loss amounted to about $500, which was also a total loss, it was said.

and the members are also planning to celebrate their twenty-fifth anniversary in 1937.
