THE MURDERER IS STILL AT LARGE

Restigouche Man Was Found Murdered Three Weeks Ago

Mounted Police Have Not Yet Found the Slightest Clue to the Murderer.

(Special to The Daily Mail)
BATHURST, N. B., June 12—No clue has yet been found by R.C.M.P. into the death of Patrick Dempsey, age 24, who was found murdered three weeks ago. In other words the R.C.M.P. have not yet "got their man," although they are making every effort to do so.

Dempsey was shot in the back and in the back of the head with what police believe were .22 calibre bullets. Patrick Dempsey, 24 years old, of Becketville, five miles back of Jacquet River, was found dead near Becketville settlement by two boys. He had been dead four or five days, police believe. Dempsey was unmarried.

In spite of an intensive search of the area in which the body was found, Royal Canadian Mounted Police failed to locate any rifle shells. The heavy ground covering of leaves and grass made the search difficult. When discovered the young man's cap was clutched tightly in his hand. A theory that he had been first shot in the back and had snatched his cap and started to run before being shot in the head, was given some credence by authorities.

The gruesome discovery was made by Nelson Kelly, 15, and Ernest Mead, 12, on property of A. E. Lapointe, outside the settlement of Becketville. The boys were walking through the underbrush, searching for spruce gum, when they came on the body.

Horried, they hurried back to the settlement, saying they had "found a corpse lying face downward in a clearing." They first reported their discovery to two neighbors, Irvine Doyle and James Kelly, who in turn informed R.C.M.P. Constable E. A. Aube, Jacquet River. R.C.M.P. from Campbellton hurried to the scene, as did Dr. Ellis, coroner. After viewing the body, the coroner had photographs of it taken and then had it removed to undertaking parlors here.

As far as could be determined the victim had left his father's home to go to the home of his brother Joseph in Becketville. He spent the night there and on the following day went to the home of Frank Guitar, also in Becketville. He left Guitar's house that day and was not seen again alive.

The victim was released from the county jail at Dalhousie only a short time ago, being one of the prisoners in New Brunswick jails freed in connection with the King's silver jubilee celebration. He had been given a two-month sentence by Magistrate A. A. Andrew of Campbellton, for taking

Tourist Cabins

A minister in the Upper Provinces is getting after the "hot" wayside tourist camps where he claims all kinds of iniquity is being carried on.

As far as can be learned, many wayside tourist camps in New Brunswick are singularly free from anything immoral. Visitors are required to register and the men and women who conduct these cabins are all well known in their respective neighborhoods as people of respectable character. The R.C.M.P. keep a pretty sharp lookout for evil practices and, speaking generally, our cabins are absolutely safe for any traveller or tourist who may wish to stop at them. Evil may creep in in isolated cases. These will take place anywhere and there is probably less evil in New Brunswick than in many other provinces and states.

What our tourist cabins will have to be particular about, as The Daily Mail has already stated, is courteous treatment, good meals and charging reasonable prices.

The surest way to drive tourists away is to give them poor grub and then soak them for it.

HON. R. B. HANSON TOLD OF THE DAY OF JUDGMENT

OTTAWA, Ont., June 12—Robert Wishart, middle-aged Ottawan, who had been forecasting the day of judgment for many years, dashed into the House of Commons yesterday, bellowed an interruption, was arrested and later released because no one in the House would lay a charge against him.

His technique improved since his last demonstration on May 13, 1933, Wishart slipped past the guards at one of the Parliament Buildings doors and dashed onto the floor of the House. It was the longest run of his parliamentary career.

Hon. R. B. Hanson, Minister of trade and commerce, was explaining a bill when the short, stocky man rushed onto the green carpet that may be trod only by elected members and House official.

"Judgment is coming. Judgment is coming, Mr. Bennett", Wishart shouted, waving a cane with one hand and brandishing a Bible with the other. The chief pages seized him and dragged him out as members including Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, roared with laughter.

It was Wishart's third startling entry into the Chamber. The first time he interrupted from the Ladies' Gallery and in 1933 from the Public Gallery.

Guards on the main door said they were certain he did not pass them on his way in. They recalled he made four attempts to gain entrance to the buildings last year, running through a broken field of constables once almost the length of the main entrance hall.

BRIDGE COLLAPSES

CODY'S, Queens Co., June 12—While George Fletcher, a prominent Washademoak mill owner and ardent worker for the government in the present election campaign, was crossing the MacDonald Bridge on the Canadian with a truck load of railway ties, the bridge collapsed and dropped the truck into the stream about 12 feet below.

He was on the approach and as the freshet had subsided the vehicle did not go into the water. The driver was unhurt, but the truck, a new one, was badly damaged.

LARGER CHURCH UNION IN CANADA WAS DISCUSSED

Anglican Primate and United Church Moderator Discuss Question At Length--The United Church Head Visits the Presbyterian Assembly

TORONTO Ont., June 12—Most Rev. Derwyn Owen, archbishop of Toronto and primate of the Church of England in Canada, yesterday said he was "keenly interested" in the remarks made by Dr. Richard Roberts, United Church moderator, Monday evening upon an invitation to "sister communions."

"While I do not want to commit myself or the Church of England, I believe that the utterance made by Dr. Roberts will bear fruit", said Archbishop Owen.

In his address Dr. Roberts said, "we would welcome the opportunity of conferring with any of our sister communions in this Dominion upon the project of forming a great national Church". He added that "We cannot regard this United Church as the end of Christian possibility or of Christian duty".

Archbishop Owen said a committee of the General Synod has been at work along similar lines and is endeavoring to ascertain just what might be accomplished in Canada.

"I feel that Dr. Roberts is sincere in his wish for such a Church and, personally, I am heartily in favor of doing my utmost to further such a scheme", His Grace added.

ADDRESSES PRESBYTERIANS

MONTREAL, P. Q., June 12—Canadian Church history was written in First Presbyterian Church here yesterday when for the first time a moderator of the United Church of Canada visited and spoke in an unofficial capacity to the 61st General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Present at his own request, Rt. Rev. Richard Roberts, Toronto, pleaded for forgetfulness of the past, cessation of all estrangement between the two denominations and good will co-operation. He was welcomed by the Presbyterian moderator, Rev. Dr. D. T. L. McKerroll, of Toronto.

RAIN OF GREAT VALUE TO THE FARMING AREAS

Monday's and Tuesday's heavy rains, which deluged central New Brunswick will prove a great boon to the farming sections. Crops were given new impetus in the wake of the rains today, and those oncoming plants which had been parched from dry conditions will receive new life from the rain. Almost two inches of rain fell according to a report today from the Dominion Experimental Station. The rainfall was quite general.

Orchards and pastures, as well as root and grain crops were benefitted by the rain, and the water supplies of users throughout the countryside were increased after almost a month of drought.

The summer fruits such as raspberry, and strawberry, were given long-needed nourishment and the prospect now is that they will begin to flourish.

Today dawned clear and fine with a cooler temperature and a promise of continued fine weather. The rain this week came just in the nick of time as most of the farmers were becoming desperate over the plight of their crops.

Ransom Money Being Recovered

BATHURST, June 12—The preliminary hearing of a charge of assault, occasioning bodily harm to the person of Martin J. Robichaud against Alma Frigault of Miscou Centre commenced here yesterday morning. MONCTON, N. B., June 12—The 71st annual Commencement Exercises of the University of St. Joseph will be held on Thursday and Friday next, June 13 and 14, opening on the evening of June 13, in Lefebvre Memorial Hall, and concluding the following morning with the presentation of diplomas, valedictory and addresses.

A PERT TOURIST

He was small and wore a red vest. He had been hanging about the city for days. Not the ordinary sort of hobo, you know, for he was interested in literature; literature of the wind dispensed by the New Brunswick Bureau of Information and Tourist Travel. A traveller? Yes, you guessed it. He was very much interested in those pamphlets and booklets telling of places and strange sights. Possibly he was interested in some of New Brunswick's famous fishing haunts. Finally he became a nuisance and the office clerks drove him away. He was Mr. Robin Red Breast.

Over $100,000 of the $200,000 Weyerhaeuser Ransom Now Recovered—Some Burned.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 12—Man-hunters armed for a finish fight were believed closing in rapidly on scar-marked William Mahan, confident his capture would complete solution of the George Weyerhaeuser kidnapping and bring recovery of all but a fraction of the $200,000 ransom.

Indications were the army of peace officers and federal men, all heavily armed, expected to have their quarry soon.

The search for Mahan—32 year old paroled robber implicated by two members of the kidnap gang held here—ranged throughout the West and along the Canadian border.

(It was reported, but not confirmed, in New York, that Mahan was born in Vidora, Sask., just across the border from Montana).

Activity at Butte, Mont., indicated however, that pursuers were confident the fugitive was cowering in some out of the way hiding place there, perhaps with one or more confederates.

While department of justice men indicated they believed the Waleys and Mahan alone engineered the kidnapping, there was support for the belief expressed in other quarters that more persons were suspected. At Tacoma, it was recalled that even after the three suspects had been publicly named, a department of justice official asked newspapermen to agree to withhold all publications of ransom money discoveries "so we can catch the rest of the gang."

WASHINGTON, June 11—Recovery of an additional $90,700 of the $200,000 ransom paid for return of the kidnapped George Weyerhaeuser was announced today by the justice department.

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the bureau of investigation, said the money, found buried near Salt Lake City, brought the total recovered to $116,000. He did not account for this amount however.

The $90,700 was located as a result of the confession of Harmon M. Waley under arrest at Salt Lake City, since Saturday, Hoover said.

In addition, he said that between $15,000 and $16,000 was left behind in car by William Mahan, sought in the kidnapping, when he fled officers.

Waley burned $4,000 of the ransom money because "things became too hot," he added, and Mr. and Mrs. Waley—she is under arrest also—spent $300.

NIGHT CLUBS ARE SHOCKING, TOURIST PASTORS SAY AS THEY VISIT DENVER'S "HOT SPOTS"

DENVER, Colo., June 12—Two Methodist ministers, the Rev. F. C. Sager, of Edgewater, Colo., and the Rev. Albert C. Hoover, of Denver, made the rounds of Denver's night clubs and found conditions "shocking." They were accompanied by detectives, who showed them all of the "hot-test" spots in the city, and reported to the local Methodist Episcopal Ministers' Association:

"The present situation with relation to liquor is worse than in the days of the old-time saloon, and it is infinitely worse than it was during prohibition. Bootlegging continues to thrive, there is more drinking, more crime, more vice and debauchery."

Between 35 and 40 establishments, most of them in the downtown business district, were included in the tour. Concerning houses of ill repute in Denver, they said:

"The old redlight district was about as commendable from the standpoint of control of this situation as any of the present methods which are employed."

STRANGEST ELECTION IN THE HISTORY OF THE DOMINION TO BE HELD IN PROVINCE OF ALBERTA

EDMONTON, Alta., June 12—Possibly the strangest provincial election in the history of Canada will be seen in Alberta early in July when six political parties will ask the electors to vote for their candidates.

The United Farmers of Alberta will seek re-election against the Conservative, Liberal, Social Credit, Labor and Communist candidates, to say nothing of several independents.

The major fly in the political ointment for the U.F.A. appears at present to be Social Credit, the party of William Aberhart, preaching school teacher, of Calgary. Nobody appears to know just what Mr. Aberhart proposes to do if he becomes premier, beyond the stated possibility of a $25 a month basis dividend for every adult in the province, but it is beyond question that Social Credit has a great many thousand supporters.

The U.F.A. government has Major C. H. Douglas, British economist and founder of Social Credit, in Edmonton at the present time—at a cost for of $100 a day to the taxpayers—but what will be the Major's findings as to the possibilities for a Social Credit scheme in Alberta remain to be heard. Major Douglas is expected to give some kind of a report in three weeks.
