TORONTO, Aug. 20 — A drive to eliminate duplication of services throughout the Civil Service will be launched shortly, Premier Hepburn, of Ontario, announced today.

The Premier stated that drastic reductions would be made in the Department of Welfare and Northern Development. He said that only a skeleton staff would be left in the Department of Welfare since the administration will be left in the hands of the municipalities after September 1.

More auditing will be done in future by the Auditing Department, relieving the various departments of much of their work. Treasury Department changes will be made, he added.

Plans for reorganization in the Department of Health are being drafted by Dr. E. T. McGhie, Deputy Minister of Hospitals.

LOOK AROUND IN

YOUR OWN BACK YARD
Nearly a hundred years ago a little group of Brazilian shepherds left their native land for California, where they hoped to share the golden harvest then being reaped by some of the forty-niners. They took along a handful of translucent pebbles with which to play checkers on the voyage. All but two or three of these were lost before they reached San Francisco. There they discovered that their pebbles were diamonds.

They hurried back to Brazil, but found that the fields from which these precious pebbles were gathered already had been taken up by others and sold to the government.

This calls to mind the late Dr. Russell H. Cronwell's famous lecture, "Acres of Diamonds," in which he forcefully stressed the foolishness of running around after riches when they were in your own back yard so to speak. And it points a fact of great potency which has not been altered by the passage of time or the accumulated fruits of progress.

In spite of all that has been discovered invented and developed, the world still is full of opportunities for the person who will patiently make use of what lies close at hand.

These opportunities do not shine out like automobile headlights or shout like spectators at a baseball game. They do not come toward you holding out their hands and saying, "Here I am. Take and use me." In almost every instance they are fairly well hidden, but that is the case with nearly everything worth finding.

Most of them might be counted as trifles, and they are that until someone, through faith, energy and courage, has transformed them into matters of tremendous meaning.

Why not look around in your own "back yard!"

FIERY CROSS BESIDE HOME

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Aug. 22—Sensational evidence was introduced at the fire marshal's inquiry into the mysterious fiery cross and alleged house-burning attempts recently perpetrated in the district.

June 23, it is alleged, certain insulting words were written on the walk outside the home of William McKay, dock worker, and on July 2, a fiery cross, eight feet high was burned in front of his home.

A week later, it is alleged, an attempt was made to burn the house, and it was reported to police that oil-soaked rags, were found under the back porch.

Harry J. Sullivan, counsel for the marshal, gave evidence in which he connected the materials used in painting his home recently, with materials found in the home of Fred Percy, striking longshoreman.

He alleged planking used in the cross was the same as scaffolding used by Percy and spots of cream and green paint found on the cross were the same shades as Percy had used in painting his home.

Also he stated that the narrow cross was the same burlap sacking boards on Percy's house; and burlap sacking wrapped around the cross was the same as burlap sacking found in Percy's basement.

Fred Percy, who appeared as a witness, denied all knowledge of the making of the fiery cross.
