Brisk Movement In Canadian Grain Is Predicted By Curb

Winter Wheat Crops Reduced and Many Home-Grown Supplies Used Up — Canadian Holders Waxing Optimistic.

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 15—Broom-hall alone of all the big market commentators maintains that, despite the paralysis of the Canadian grain trade, the movement will be brisk before the new crop is available.

He opines that deficiency-countries are using up their home-grown supplies and that the frequently-postponed demand will develop in earnest later in the season.

In the meantime, Argentine is enjoying a big export boom.

No less than 14,125,000 bushels of all grains left the shores of the southern republic for foreign countries during a recent seven days, of whom 4,808,000 bushels were wheat and 5,098,000 corn.

Weather damage scares are coming in from all over the United States winter wheat belt with no precise evidence of the extent of the injury available. In normal times these reports would send prices up in a healthy response to expected shortage during the next crop year.

But the market here is not, and for many months has not been, buoyant or responsive to bear or bull reports.

Texas reports 30 per cent of wheat and 50 per cent of oats killed out in the recent cold snap and no damage estimates are so far available from Kansas, Oklahoma or Nebraska where extensive damage is also feared.

Ice sheets covered the Ohio valley for several days and it will take several days of growing weather for appraisers to estimate the full extent of the loss.

Complaints from France have it that there has been too much moisture with rank growth of weeds.

Roumania reports 15 per cent damage from winter killing and the entire Daubian area reports weather hard on the crops.

The Indian wheat crop has been damaged by frost and drought and acreage is down from last year.

Altogether the slowly forming picture of the forthcoming 1934-35 crop indicates that winter wheat will not be a heavy crop and that the demand from deficiency countries may be as heavy as usual, perhaps heavier.

So despite the low sales in January holders of Canadian wheat, including the government, which reports say holds 240 of the 235 millions available, still regard their holdings as a good investment at the price paid.

It is a question whose nerves will break first, the governments or the short in the grain markets here.

FORTUNE TELLING HAVING A BOOM

LONDON, Feb. 15—Men and women of Britain are patronizing clairvoyants more than ever before.

This is the result of investigations I have made during the past week, writes a Standard special correspondent.

So keen has the demand for fortune-telling become that "practitioners" have had to extend their consulting rooms and employ extra staff to deal with their "patients".

All classes of people go to clairvoyants and fortune-tellers for advice. Among them, strangely enough, are many hard-headed business-men who seek to know the out-come of a prospective big deal.

A SANE WILL

One of the most sane wills ever presented for probate in New Brunswick was that made public yesterday when the report of the probate was given to the press. It was the will of Mrs. Maria F. Ganong, widow of the late Hon. G. W. Ganong, a former lieutenant-governor of New Brunswick and millionaire confectionery manufacturer. The late Mr. Ganong was one of our New Brunswick lieutenant-governors who died without ever having had the privilege of opening the Legislature. He had been governor only for a few months. He and his brother had started the Ganong Bros. candy factory in 1873. The business spread across Canada and the concern made money. When Hon. G. W. Ganong died he left his widow a large estate, including shares in the manufacturing business. This estate became of more value as time passed. The late Mrs. Ganong at her death was worth considerably over one million dollars. She recognized the fact that her family circle was well provided for. She returned to them just the amount of money which her husband had left her. The rest, which amounted to the large half of the fortune, she gave away to educational and charitable purposes. Not only this, but every employee who had been two years or more in the Ganong industrial establishment is remembered, those holding key positions to receive portions of the common stock totalling one-quarter of the whole issue, the rest to get cash sums varying according to length of service.

Besides further aid being bequeathed to the Chipman Memorial Hospital, the New Brunswick Protestant Orphans' Home, the Inter-provincial Home for Women, the University of New Brunswick, Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, the Red Cross Society, various churches and other religious bodies, a new foundation is created under the will, amounting to $200,000 for the establishment of an Old Folks' Home in St. Stephen. The Ganong homestead in St. Stephen is bequeathed to a board of trustees for this purpose, and in addition to the trust fund, $25,000 in cash is left for carrying out necessary alterations, and another $22,000 endowment, the proceeds of which will provide accommodation for certain personal employees should they desire to take advantage of the privileges of the home.

Arrangements have also been made for looking after the employees when they are ill.

The will is remarkable both for its generosity and for the practical wisdom exhibited in the division of the proceeds of the estate.

The will is a sign of the times. Probably Mrs. Ganong recognized the fact that a person can very properly get along without too much money. They should not have money which they are unable to spend, and that any other accumulated funds might better be handed over to charitable and educational objects. It should also go back to those who helped by their work in the factory to make the Ganongs accumulate this fortune. That Mrs. Ganong recognized this fact is shown by the way in which she so generously provided for the employees, whether ill or well.

Many employers of labor have passed away and left money to worthless relatives who have squandered it in useless living and pleasure whilst their old employees who helped them to make this fortune have been allowed to go to the almshouse.

Mrs. Ganong's will was not only remarkable; it was sensible and the will is an evidence that she must have been a remarkable woman. During her lifetime she gave lavishly to religious and charitable objects. Here is a case of where it was in the right hands. Mrs. Ganong herself felt that this money did not belong to her; she considered that she was just the "custodian of this money" so that she might in the end devote it to a worthy cause. This the good kindly lady has done. ALL HONOR TO HER MEMORY.

CIVIL AVIATION CONTROL SOUGHT

Britain Proposes More Rigid Licensing Regulations.

GENEVA, Feb. 15—Britain today laid before a special committee of the world disarmament conference a suggestion that civil aeroplanes should be subjected to stiff licensing regulations both as to manufacture and exports.

The suggestion was introduced as an amendment to the United States' plan for control of the traffic in arms. This plan, accepted by the committee as the basis for discussion on such a convention, envisages regulations of traffic and manufacture of arms, establishment of an automatic international advisory body and publicity for national expenditures on arms.

Lord Stanhope, British representative, argued that civil planes can conceivably be turned into fighting planes and should not receive the privileged treatment provided in the American project.

MA AND PA DIONNE ARE EXTRAVAGANT

Run Their Promoter In "Red" with Sudden Expensive Tastes.

CHICAGO, Feb. 14—Plain folk, if you would heed their promoter, is something Ma and Pa Dionne were not are. So swift and complete have been their adoption of tastes suitable to their luxurious surroundings, Promoter Max Halperin complained that they have helped run their tour $900 in the red—and in less than a week.

Elzire Dionne, father of the Ontario quintuplets, has learned, Halperin said, casting away an empty packane he had opened only a few hours before, that there are ways of getting cigarettes other than buying them himself.

The parents of ten children have clad themselves in finery, shown a decided preference for the foods at fancy prices, and between meals sip a quart or so of soda pop, all of which Halperin says is his lot to supply.

HON. R. B. HANSON WILL ARRIVE HERE LATE NEXT WEEK

New Brunswick's Minister Is Coming Home After He Addresses Meetings in Ontario.

(Special to Daily Mail)

OTTAWA, Feb. 15—Hon. R. B. Hanson, Minister of Trade and Commerce and New Brunswick's Minister in the Dominion Cabinet, is having a busy week this week. Tonight he is speaking at Sault Ste. Marie before the Board of Trade of that city. He is also to address a public meeting in the interests of the Liberal-Conservative Association. On Monday he will address the Toronto Conservative Business Men's Club.

Next week Hon. Mr. Hanson will leave for New Brunswick and will spend some days at Saint John and Fredericton. He expects to be in the city the last of the week.

BOARD ENDORSES PROPOSED STREET PAVING PROGRAM

WOODSTOCK, Feb. 15—Grover C. Campbell was re-elected president of the Woodstock Board of Trade at the annual meeting of that body held this week in the Town Hall. This will be his second year in office. Mr. Campbell has been prominent in business and town affairs for many years and is a former Mayor of Woodstock.

The board approved recommendations from its council that the proposed permanent street paving program be endorsed and that it recommend the town tourist bureau be re-established by the Town Council. The meeting also endorsed the motor show on March 14, 15 and 16, and decided to co-operate with the sponsoring committee and the merchants in endeavoring to get increased train service during the three days the show is in progress.

The president spoke briefly, outlining the work done during the last year, after which there was an informal discussion of electric light and power problems.

W. J. Dibblee spoke on the question of getting increased membership. He pointed out that the Woodstock board was one of the oldest in the province and that it had been able to accomplish a great deal since its inception. He regretted that the membership was not considerably larger, as he considered the board was doing useful work for the town and district and that it merited support.

Besides the president, the following officers were elected: Vice president Cecil E. Stewart; secretary treasurer, K. E. MacLauchlan; council, F. O. Creighton, E. W. Mair, J. L. DeWitt, J. D. Winslow, Vernon Simms, J. C. Folkins, J. R. Calkin, R. E. Holyoke, Alfred Page and W. J. Dibblee; resolutions committee, F. O. Creighton, E. W. Mair and K. E. MacLauchlan; membership committee, G. B. True, J. D. Winslow and W. J. Dibblee.

REDUCTION ASKED ON TAXES ON MOTOR BUSES

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 14—Representatives of Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa street transportation companies were in Ottawa this week to seek from the Finance Minister, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, some reduction in the excise tax on motor busses.

Increasing use of motor vehicles as supplementary to electric street railway services had brought the question of the excise tax very much to the fore, it was said.

Charlotte Pushing After A Senatorship

THE DEAN

HON. DR. H. I. TAYLOR
Minister of Health

Although youthful looking and an eligible bachelor, Hon. Dr. Taylor is in point of years of membership the senior member of the House. Over a quarter of a century ago Charlotte County sent Dr. Taylor to the Legislature and they have been sending him ever since. He is personally popular, a good administrator in his department and an all round popular member both of the Government and of the Legislature. He is a straight shooter and you know when you have him.

Dr. Taylor was elected first in 1908 and again in 1912, 1917, 1925 and again in 1930. Many friends in Charlotte County are boosting Dr. Taylor for a Senatorship and both he and the section which he represents are entitled to it. If he should wish to take it, the appointment of Hon. Dr. Taylor would be a most popular one with everyone and would strengthen his parties hands in Charlotte County.

A WELL KNOWN BATHURST MAN DIED THERE TODAY

William G. Fenwick Was An Outstanding Citizen of North Shore Town.

(Special to The Daily Mail)

BATHURST, N. B., Feb. 15—Bathurst today lost one of its most outstanding citizens in the person of William G. Fenwick, who died this morning at ten o'clock. "Will" as he was generally known, was a great favorite with all. He was of a very kind disposition, took a very active part in all things pertaining to the general good of the town, was a great promoter of sports, and at one time owned some of the fastest trotting horses in the Maritimes. He will be greatly missed by the poor for whom his heart always went out, none went from his door unaided. The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Baby Enters World Through Subway

NEW YORK, N.Y., Feb. 15—When people ask Mrs. Gertrude Rudolf's son where he was born he can say, "in the subway".

He came into the world aboard a Seventh Avenue express train here while the other passengers wondered why they had been shooed out of the car.

A trainman, noting Mrs. Rudolf's distress, had telephoned ahead for an ambulance and when the train reached 177 Street an interne was waiting to welcome six pound Rudolf.

Hon. Dr. H. I. Taylor Is Choice Urged by Leading Citizens, Tory and Grit—Has a Clean Career and Is Popular With All Classes.

(Special to The Daily Mail)

ST. STEPHEN, Feb. 15—Friends in the County of Charlotte have recently been reading the articles in The Daily Mail regarding the Senatorships. The Ottawa correspondent of The Mail thinks that as the Saint John Valley is without a Senator that at least one seat should be placed at the disposal of that section of the country. With this probably every person will agree.

There is a movement here to have a senatorship for Charlotte. We have strong Federal claims and we have had senatorships from Confederation down, Senator A. H. Gilmour, Senator Dan Gilmour, Irvine Todd, and others. We have had an excellent man at Fredericton in the person of Hon. Dr. H. I. Taylor, Minister of Health. He has been there since 1908. Twenty-eight sessions in all. He is doing good work there. He is one of the most satisfactory men in the Legislature. But if there is a Senatorship going to Dr. Taylor provided that he will take the position should be a Senator.

The claims of Westmorland County to another Senatorship is considered funny unless it has been decided to put all the New Brunswick Senators in Westmorland, Kent, and Gloucester where the majority of them are centered at present. Your correspondent here understands that representations will be made to Hon. R. B. Hanson, Minister of Trade and Commerce who is coming to New Brunswick next week to have Hon. Dr. Taylor appointed.

Dr. Taylor who is expected home over the week-end as yet knows nothing about the movement.

MRS. B. F. SMITH PASSED TODAY AT OTTAWA

(Special to The Daily Mail)

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 15—Mrs. B. F. Smith, wife of Hon. B. F. Smith, representative of Carleton-Victoria in the Dominion House, died here today after a short illness. Mrs. Smith's death was a shock to the colony of New Brunswickers stationed at the federal capital. She was well known in Fredericton where she made many friends during the time that her husband was the Minister of Public Works in the New Brunswick Legislature. While the funeral arrangements are not complete, it is understood that the remains will be taken to Florenceville, N. B., for interment.

THE POTATO MART

WOODSTOCK, Feb. 15—The potato market showed little change here this week. Prices, which advanced 10 cents to 30 cents a barrel to the farmers when the level was pegged a few days ago, remained at that figure, although a price of five cents higher was reported from some of the up-river points.

Demand was not strong during the first half of the week. Dealers at Montreal bought heavily last week in expectation of further increases in price at this end, and they are still disposing of their stocks. It is expected that demand will increase again later in the week. So far, little demand is being received from Ontario but it is thought that the spring will bring a considerable increase in the requirements of that market.

Hauling was light here this week, with some stock coming in but with farmers for the most part awaiting further developments.
